FBI Secrecy Veils Sinatra Kidnap Case

Agents Raid Home, Remove Cartons, Dig Up Box In Yard

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — FBI agents raided a San Fernando Valley home Thursday, removed cartons from it and reportedly dug a box from the yard. They declined to say whether their activity was part of their investigation of the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnap case.

An FBI-imposed mantle of secrecy has screened developments since the 19-year-old singer was released Wednesday by a gang that received $240,000 ransom from Sinatra Sr.

FBI activity in the San Fernando Valley suburb of Canoga Park came to attention Wednesday night when agents questioned several residents, and the residents called police. Police were unable to learn what the FBI was up to.

Man Moved In Nov. 17

Thursday afternoon newsmen patrolling the area recognized FBI men in a deserted-appearing house, surrounded by a white picket fence and tall trees.

The newsmen saw agents using shovels in the yard of the small one-story white frame structure and carrying boxes out.

A carpenter, John Nelson, who lives 200 feet away, told newsmen a young man moved into the house Nov. 17 after it had long been vacant. Other men visited him there.

"He asked me one day what day the trash was picked up," Nelson said. "He thanked me, put on some white gloves and carried his trash out for the pickup.

Spoke With Accent

"The young man was in his late 20s or early 30s. He was very well dressed and spoke with an English, Canadian or maybe Australian accent. He was blondish in coloring.

"He was well-mannered and drove a late model white car. I saw him last on Tuesday, when he waved.

"He kept to himself and gave no parties."

Newsmen checking the area also were told that a gas station proprietor was asked by agents to save all money he had taken in the day before.

The Sinatra ransom was paid in bills reportedly ranging in denomination from $5 to $100. The FBI has declined to say if they were marked.

Sinatra was kidnaped at Lake Tahoe Sunday night and freed early Wednesday near his mother's luxurious Bel-Air home.

Passman, Foe Of Foreign Aid, Won't Let Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., chief congressional foreign aid slasher, made clear Thursday that he intends to be just as sharp a thorn in the side of President Johnson as he was to two previous presidents.

"I'll go to the White House when I'm invited and I'll be polite and I'll listen," Passman told a reporter. "But if the day comes when I have to yield my own convictions, fully supported by facts, then I'll go home."

Passman's convictions are that the foreign aid program is wasteful and well-nigh worthless and is costing the United States a billion to two billion dollars too much each year.

As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, he rides herd on the aid money bill each year. He reportedly expects to get committee approval Saturday of a bill far less than $3 billion. A House-Senate conference agreed on a $3.6-billion authorization ceiling, which the House has approved.

Johnson invited Passman and House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., to the White House late Wednesday for a pep talk on the importance of the foreign aid program.

It was understood that no commitments were asked or given.

Asked to comment, McCormack said "We went to the White House. Beyond that no comment."

Passman indicated he would remain as firm as ever.

"I've held 800 hours of hearings on this program this year" he said. "I think I know more about it than they do at the White House. I think I know more about it than they do at the State Department, for that matter, the way they shift around."

Jet Crash Report Called False Alarm

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (AP)—A report that a jet plane had crashed in the Everglades Thursday touched off an intensive search but authorities said it probably was a "false alarm."

The first report came from Belle Glade police to the Florida highway patrol, which sent searchers by land and air into the area between Lake Okeechobee and West Palm Beach.

Homestead Air Force Base and the Air Force Rescue Station at Orlando denied any knowledge of a crash and said all planes were accounted for.

SAIGON, Friday (UPI) — At least four U.S. Army men were killed Wednesday when Viet Cong guerrillas shot down an H37 helicopter in the Mekong River delta 70 miles west of Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said Friday.

Viet Cong gunmen shot down the H37 while it hovered over the wreckage of an American plane which had crashed earlier in the Mekong delta.

LBJ's Drive Seen Threat To Programs

Johnson Orders Budget Requests Be Reexamined

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's economy campaign may delay expansion of some existing federal programs and curtail others not of the highest urgency, the White House reported Thursday.

All heads of departments and agencies have before them a presidential directive to reexamine personally their budgets for the next fiscal year which begins July 1, 1964, to determine what further savings can be made.

Final Look Ordered

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Budget Director Kermit Gordon, acting at the President's request, sent to department and agency heads Wednesday night an order for them to take a final look at their budget requests and report back to Gordon by 6 p.m. Friday.

The memorandum directed the department and agency heads to:

1. Undertake a personal reexamination of the appropriations, expenditures and employment figures contained in the most recent tentative allowances for the next fiscal year.

2. Identify those further reductions in appropriations, expenditures and personnel which can be achieved through tighter management, better utilization of personnel.

Budget Nears Completion

3. Determine what program expansions can be postponed or curtailed along with other appropriate steps to hold down spending at a time of "severe budgetary stringency."

Salinger said work on the new budget is expected to be completed early next week, after which the massive document will go to the printer. It will be submitted to Congress in January, but the exact date has not yet been fixed.

Johnson has set a figure of $98 billion to $103 billion for the next spending year, but has said it will be hard to cut below $102 billion. The current year's budget calls for expenditures of $98.8 billion.

Key Cardinals Go With Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Three cardinals expert in the Holy Land and Church diplomacy will accompany Pope Paul VI on his Holy Land pilgrimage next month.

Their names were on a list of 11 aides announced Thursday as members of the entourage the pontiff will take with him Jan. 4-6.

The cardinals are Amleto Cicognani, Vatican secretary of state, and Eugene Tisserant and Gustavo Testa. Cardinals Tisserant and Testa are past and present secretaries of the Vatican Congregation for the Oriental Church, men who know the Holy Land and the Orthodox churches as acknowledged experts.

The Pope's personal secretary and personal physician likely will be added to the list of those flying to Amman, Jordan, with the Pope.

Blizzard Hits Midwest, Snow Covers East Area

By The Associated Press

A blizzard powered by snow-blinding winds up to 55 miles an hour howled across the Northern Plains into the Midwest Thursday. A companion storm plastered much of the East with heavy snow or a treacherous sheath of ice that disrupted air and highway travel and played hob with sports events.

Subzero cold, moving in with the blizzards, numbed northern areas of the midcontinent and fanned south and eastward into the Midwest.

The late autumn storms brought midwinter misery to the vast area from the Great Plains to New England.

The storm, striking 10 days before the official start of winter, was blamed for at least 16 deaths on snow covered highways. There were 55 storm-related deaths in Illinois, 4 each in Iowa and Oklahoma, 2 in Michigan and 1 in New England.

Speed limits on the Jersey Turnpike were cut from 60 to 35 m.p.h. after an inch of snow slicked its entire length.

The blizzard struck overnight in eastern Montana and western North Dakota. Blizzard warnings went out for Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, and parts of Iowa and Missouri as the storm mushroomed swiftly.

Blowing snow cut visibility to an eighth of a mile in Minot, N.D.

Heavy snow warnings with hazardous driving conditions were issued for eastern New York State, parts of New England, and the upper Ohio Valley.

Engaged

Twist Inventor Plans To Marry Beauty Queen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Chubby Checker Thursday announced his engagement to Catherina Lodders, a Dutch girl whose year-long reign as Miss World ended last month.

Checker, a Negro, is credited with inventing the dance craze, the twist. His bride-to-be, who is white, now works as a model but, she confided to newsmen: and a mother."

"We hope to have two children — a boy and a girl," she added.

Checker, who is 22, hugged his tall, green-eyed, 21-year-old fiance as they made the announcement in the 12-room house he bought about a year ago for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Evans.

"He's different," Miss Lodders said. "He's the quiet type. He keeps very busy and I like the way he hums around."

Asked how different Chubby was from the boys she knew back in the Netherlands, Miss Lodders replied: "He's so open, so friendly."

Speaking in faltering English, she told how she met Chubby—a one-time chicken plucker in local markets, whose right name is Ernest Evans. They met for the first time last January in the Philippines. They met again last September in England, while she was modeling and Chubby had a singing engagement.

Then, three weeks ago Chubby went to her home in Holland, proposed and asked permission her parents to marry.

Her parents expect to visit Checker's parents during the Christmas holidays, Miss Lodders said. The wedding is planned for this spring.

Argentina Asks Spain Extradite Juan Peron

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Argentina has asked Spain for the extradition of Juan D. Peron to face criminal charges in the nation he once headed as president.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Argentine Ambassador Gen. Julio A. Lagos delivered the petition to Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella on Thursday.

Ousted by a revolution in 1955, Peron, 68, came to Spain in January 1960 as an exile and has lived here since. A few months ago he moved into a luxurious residence in Madrid with his new wife who formerly was his secretary, Isabel Martinez.

Mrs. Kennedy To Observe Year Of Mourning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late president, plans to observe a full year of mourning for her husband, it was revealed Thursday.

In that period of time, Mrs. Kennedy will have no public engagements, her press secretary Pamela Turnure said.

This information came in response to queries about published reports that Mrs. Kennedy had told President Lyndon B. Johnson she would play any role he might want her to in the 1964 campaign.

Mrs. Kennedy also made plans to spend the Christmas holidays in Palm Beach, Fla., where the Kennedy family traditionally gathers.

Miss Turnure said Mrs. Kennedy will go to Palm Beach with her children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, about Dec. 18.

Jobs Bill Wins House Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to increase job training opportunities for school dropouts and illiterates was passed by voice vote by the House Thursday but at a lower spending level than proposed.

The measure was requested by President John F. Kennedy, who made it part of the civil rights program he urged Congress to pass last June.

A slightly different version has cleared the Senate and the two measures will have to be reconciled before final action is taken.

The House bill called for a four-year authorization in new funds of $803 million, but under attack from economy - minded members was cut to $527 million for three years.

The bill amends the Manpower Development and Training Act passed two years ago to train long-term unemployed workers in new skills more in demand.

Jerusalem Has Black Market In Hotel Rooms

LONDON (AP) — A thriving black market with hotel bedrooms costing $500 a night has sprung up in Jerusalem in advance of next month's pilgrimage by Pope Paul VI, a Church of England minister asserted Thursday.

"This is something we deeply regret. It is deplorable," said the Rev. Arthur E. Payton, who will head a party of 250 British pilgrims due to visit the Holy Land at the same time as the pontiff.

The minister attributed his information to authoritative Lebanese sources. He said a representative of his own nonprofit travel agency — Inter-Church Travel — will fly to Jerusalem "to insure that our hotel bookings are all right."

Bolivia Rebel Watch Joined By Policemen

Miners Reportedly Subject Hostages To 'War Of Nerves'

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — The government added 300 La Paz policemen Thursday to security forces standing watch for a break in its power struggle with rebellious tin miners who hold four U.S. citizens among a group of hostages.

The policemen reinforced 3,000 troops garrisoned in Oruro 30 miles north of the miners' stronghold in the Catavi-Siglo Veinte area of the Andes. They took quarters in the mining town of Challapata.

"War Of Nerves"

This move came as the miners were reported by a Bolivian Red Cross representative to be waging a terrific war of nerves on the hostages. Authorities described dispatch of the extra forces as precautionary.

Dr. Amando Roas, the Red Cross representative, said the miners fired shots in the air and exploded dynamite outside the building that imprisons the four Americans and perhaps 15 fellow captives.

"They—the hostages—are under great nervous tension, but are maintaining the appearance of confidence," Dr. Roas told the U.S. Embassy in La Paz, the capital.

He reported, however, that the hostages are reasonably well-treated otherwise and are in good health.

Deadlock Continues

The miners say they will hold the group until the government frees two leftist union leaders—Irineo Pimentel and Federico Escobar—jailed in La Paz on charges that include murder, attempted murder, anarchy and embezzlement.

The government insists it will hold the two men in the interest of law and order.

Whatever the purpose of the harassment, the deadlock between President Victor Paz Estenssoro's regime and the miners headed by his estranged vice president, Juan Lechin, seemed as far from a solution as when the hostages were seized last Friday.

Workers' March Supports Miners

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Thousands of workers — some shouting "down with American militarism" — marched through La Paz Thursday in support of tin miners holding a group of hostages, including four U.S. citizens.

The crowd, estimated at 4,000 to 5,000 persons, marched four abreast to the Labor Ministry where speakers denounced the policies of President Victor Paz Estenssoro.

Vocational Aid Is Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major education bill that would pump $1.56 billion into three programs was passed by the House Thursday and sent to the Senate where action is expected Friday.

Passage came after a Republican-backed motion to trim two items was defeated 193-180.

The roll call on final passage was 300-65.

The bill, a compromise between different versions passed earlier by the House and Senate, continues or expands three existing programs — vocational education, the impacted school areas program, and the national Defense Education Act.

Besides authorizing $731 million for federal support of vocational education for a four-year period, the bill overhauls the longstanding program to make it more suitable to the job needs of an automated economy.

At present vocational education training programs are limited largely to home economics and farm operations. The new bill calls for the construction of five residential schools to provice supervision and job-training for school dropouts and youngsters living in undesirable environments.

West Germany's First Postwar President Dies

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) —Theodor Heuss, 79, West Germany's first postwar president who brought to the federal republic a sense of tradition, continuity and self respect, died Thursday night of a blood circulatory ailment.

Heuss' son Ernst broke the news to reporters at his home where the elderly politician was bedridden after an operation last August when his left leg was amputated. He had been unconscious since Wednesday night and died at 10 p.m.

He had served as West German president from 1949 until he retired in 1959, the era in which the country worked its economic miracle of postwar recovery. When he left office Sept. 15, 1959 the Bundestag passed a resolution declaring "Theodor Heuss has deserved well of the fatherland," the only living person to be given that honor.

Many of his countrymen gave him credit for helping create another miracle, the movement of West Germany into the family of free democratic nations.

He had no legal authority to influence parliament or the government but his articulate speeches helped the attempts to heal the wounds left by the ruins of the Nazi Third Reich.

Heuss was one of the few German men who had not been in the armed forces and his election in 1949 was a clean break with the nation's martial past. He even insisted that his guards be policemen instead of soldiers.

Power Will Retire As SAC Chief In '64

OMAHA (AP)—A major shuffling of top Air Force generals may be in the works for next year.

This became apparent with the disclosure by Thomas S. Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, that he will retire next year.

The term of Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay, 57, ends next July 1, and his vice-chief, Gen. William F. McKee, 57, also is expected to retire.

The filling of three top Air Force jobs would seem certain to create a chain reaction in shifts of top brass.

Economy Ax Falls On 33 Installations

Irate Sen. Keating Introduces Bill To Slow Up Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's economy ax fell on a flock of military bases Thursday, cutting off or paring down 26 in this country and seven abroad.

Moreover, "further reductions in the coming months" should be expected, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told a packed news conference.

The action will knock out 8,500 civilian positions and reduce military personnel by 7,800 during the next 3½ years. But McNamara insisted that work will be found elsewhere for all those who want it.

Economy was the administration's watchword in ordering the cutbacks. McNamara estimated Thursday's action would save about $106 million.

Reaction among many members of Congress from the 14 states hit by the cutback was irate. One of these was Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., whose state will lose the most, seven installations.

He introduced a bill to slow up the effort and declared angrily: "It is incredible that anyone could analyze this as an economy move."

$4,230 To Create New Job

He said it costs about $4,230 to create a new job under the accelerated public works program in hard-hit unemployment areas. To create jobs for the number that would be affected by the order, Keating said, would cost about $38 million.

But Rep. Edward F. Hebert, D-La., chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee that has been hitting at military waste for years, had this to say of the closing of Camp Leroy Johnson and the Army overseas supply agency at New Orleans: "I've been preaching economy for all these years and I'm not going to start screaming now just because they shut down something in my backyard."

There were outcries from officials in many communities affected. But Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he could not quarrel with the closing of Ft. Chaffe in his state if it is part of a genuine economy move.

More Cuts Indicated

Faubus added, however, that he didn't want to see the dollars saved "sent around the rest of the world or put down some other rathole."

Of the seven installations in New York being stricken, there are two big ones. The blow was lighter in Texas, home state of President Johnson, which loses two bases.

Before the Pentagon announcement was made, there had been speculation, arising from congressional sources, that Navy shipyards would figure big in the cutback. This didn't happen—now. One repair facility, at San Diego, is listed for closing by January 1965.

But, here again, there were definite indications that cuts were coming later for naval yards.

McNamara said: There are 12 naval yards, 11 of them large; the small San Diego facility now is scheduled for closing; studies of the other yards are under way; "There is no question but that we have excess capacity," and the studies of the remaining 11 yards will be completed "sometime in the next 12 months."

Morton Deplores Rash Of JFK Memorial Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Banking and Currency Committee Thursday unanimously approved legislation to mint a new 50-cent coin bearing the likeness of the late John F. Kennedy.

At the same time an unprecedented joint session of the House and Senate Public Works Committee considered a proposal to finance the planned national cultural center here and name it after Kennedy.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.; Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R - Mass., and Rep. Frank Thompson, D-Nj., as well as others, testified that the cultural center would be a fitting and "living memorial" to the late President.

All of this drew a comment from Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, R-Md., that the rash of proposals to commemorate Kennedy is now becoming "brutal and shameful."

Morton said that "if we continue to make snap judgements on memorials to our late President, all he will be remembered for was that he was assassinated."

He referred specifically to changing the names of "important landmarks, arousing the exasperation and resentment of local residents" and putting out a special coin in an election year "that will make of it. . . a campaign button."

Morton said there would be "some time to put this into perspective" and called for appointment of a commission to settle on a fitting memorial.

Engaged

Chubby Checker, who gained international fame as inventor of the dance craze, the twist, announces his engagement to 21-year-old Catherine Lodders, of Haarlem, Holland, whose year-long reign as Miss World ended last night. Checker, 22, is a Negro. Miss Lodders, who is white, now works as a model. They plan to marry next spring. The announcement was made in the home of Checker's parents in Philadelphia. (AP Photofax)

Twist Inventor Plans To Marry Beauty Queen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rock 'n' roll singer Chubby Checker Thursday announced his engagement to Catherina Lodders, a Dutch girl whose year-long reign as Miss World ended last month.

Checker, a Negro, is credited with inventing the dance craze, the twist. His bride-to-be, who is white, now works as a model but, she confided to newsmen: and a mother."

"We hope to have two children — a boy and a girl," she added.

Checker, who is 22, hugged his tall, green-eyed, 21-year-old fiance as they made the announcement in the 12-room house he bought about a year ago for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Evans.

"He's different," Miss Lodders said. "He's the quiet type. He keeps very busy and I like the way he hums around."

Asked how different Chubby was from the boys she knew back in the Netherlands, Miss Lodders replied: "He's so open, so friendly."

Speaking in faltering English, she told how she met Chubby—a one-time chicken plucker in local markets, whose right name is Ernest Evans. They met for the first time last January in the Philippines. They met again last September in England, while she was modeling and Chubby had a singing engagement.

Then, three weeks ago Chubby went to her home in Holland, proposed and asked permission her parents to marry.

Her parents expect to visit Checker's parents during the Christmas holidays, Miss Lodders said. The wedding is planned for this spring.

Argentina Asks Spain Extradite Juan Peron

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Argentina has asked Spain for the extradition of Juan D. Peron to face criminal charges in the nation he once headed as president.

A Foreign Office spokesman said Argentine Ambassador Gen. Julio A. Lagos delivered the petition to Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella on Thursday.

Ousted by a revolution in 1955, Peron, 68, came to Spain in January 1960 as an exile and has lived here since. A few months ago he moved into a luxurious residence in Madrid with his new wife who formerly was his secretary, Isabel Martinez.

Mrs. Kennedy To Observe Year Of Mourning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late president, plans to observe a full year of mourning for her husband, it was revealed Thursday.

In that period of time, Mrs. Kennedy will have no public engagements, her press secretary Pamela Turnure said.

This information came in response to queries about published reports that Mrs. Kennedy had told President Lyndon B. Johnson she would play any role he might want her to in the 1964 campaign.

Mrs. Kennedy also made plans to spend the Christmas holidays in Palm Beach, Fla., where the Kennedy family traditionally gathers.

Miss Turnure said Mrs. Kennedy will go to Palm Beach with her children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, about Dec. 18.

Jobs Bill Wins House Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to increase job training opportunities for school dropouts and illiterates was passed by voice vote by the House Thursday but at a lower spending level than proposed.

The measure was requested by President John F. Kennedy, who made it part of the civil rights program he urged Congress to pass last June.

A slightly different version has cleared the Senate and the two measures will have to be reconciled before final action is taken.

The House bill called for a four-year authorization in new funds of $803 million, but under attack from economy - minded members was cut to $527 million for three years.

The bill amends the Manpower Development and Training Act passed two years ago to train long-term unemployed workers in new skills more in demand.

Jerusalem Has Black Market In Hotel Rooms

LONDON (AP) — A thriving black market with hotel bedrooms costing $500 a night has sprung up in Jerusalem in advance of next month's pilgrimage by Pope Paul VI, a Church of England minister asserted Thursday.

"This is something we deeply regret. It is deplorable," said the Rev. Arthur E. Payton, who will head a party of 250 British pilgrims due to visit the Holy Land at the same time as the pontiff.

The minister attributed his information to authoritative Lebanese sources. He said a representative of his own nonprofit travel agency — Inter-Church Travel — will fly to Jerusalem "to insure that our hotel bookings are all right."

Bolivia Rebel Watch Joined By Policemen

Miners Reportediy Subject Hostages To 'War Of Nerves'

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — The government added 300 La Paz policemen Thursday to security forces standing watch for a break in its power struggle with rebellious tin miners who hold four U.S. citizens among a group of hostages.

The policemen reinforced 3,000 troops garrisoned in Oruro 30 miles north of the miners' stronghold in the Catavi-Siglo Veinte area of the Andes. They took quarters in the mining town of Challapata.

"War Of Nerves"

This move came as the miners were reported by a Bolivian Red Cross representative to be waging a terrific war of nerves on the hostages. Authorities described dispatch of the extra forces as precautionary.

Dr. Amando Roas, the Red Cross representative, said the miners fired shots in the air and exploded dynamite outside the building that imprisons the four Americans and perhaps 15 fellow captives.

"They—the hostages—are under great nervous tension, but are maintaining the appearance of confidence," Dr. Roas told the U.S. Embassy in La Paz, the capital.

He reported, however, that the hostages are reasonably well-treated otherwise and are in good health.

Deadlock Continues

The miners say they will hold the group until the government frees two leftist union leaders—Irineo Pimentel and Federico Escobar—jailed in La Paz on charges that include murder, attempted murder, anarchy and embezzlement.

The government insists it will hold the two men in the interest of law and order.

Whatever the purpose of the harassment, the deadlock between President Victor Paz Estenssoro's regime and the miners headed by his estranged vice president, Juan Lechin, seemed as far from a solution as when the hostages were seized last Friday.

Workers' March Supports Miners

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Thousands of workers — some shouting "down with American militarism" — marched through La Paz Thursday in support of tin miners holding a group of hostages, including four U.S. citizens.

The crowd, estimated at 4,000 to 5,000 persons, marched four abreast to the Labor Ministry where speakers denounced the policies of President Victor Paz Estenssoro.

Vocational Aid Is Voted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major education bill that would pump $1.56 billion into three programs was passed by the House Thursday and sent to the Senate where action is expected Friday.

Passage came after a Republican-backed motion to trim two items was defeated 193-180.

The roll call on final passage was 300-65.

The bill, a compromise between different versions passed earlier by the House and Senate, continues or expands three existing programs — vocational education, the impacted school areas program, and the national Defense Education Act.

Besides authorizing $731 million for federal support of vocational education for a four-year period, the bill overhauls the longstanding program to make it more suitable to the job needs of an automated economy.

At present vocational education training programs are limited largely to home economics and farm operations. The new bill calls for the construction of five residential schools to provice supervision and job-training for school dropouts and youngsters living in undesirable environments.

HEUSS DIES — West Germany's former President Theodor Heuss (above), died at his home in Stuttgart, Germany, yesterday. He was 79. Heuss was president from 1949 to 1959. (AP Photofax)

West Germany's First Postwar President Dies

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) —Theodor Heuss, 79, West Germany's first postwar president who brought to the federal republic a sense of tradition, continuity and self respect, died Thursday night of a blood circulatory ailment.

Heuss' son Ernst broke the news to reporters at his home where the elderly politician was bedridden after an operation last August when his left leg was amputated. He had been unconscious since Wednesday night and died at 10 p.m.

He had served as West German president from 1949 until he retired in 1959, the era in which the country worked its economic miracle of postwar recovery. When he left office Sept. 15, 1959 the Bundestag passed a resolution declaring "Theodor Heuss has deserved well of the fatherland," the only living person to be given that honor.

Many of his countrymen gave him credit for helping create another miracle, the movement of West Germany into the family of free democratic nations.

He had no legal authority to influence parliament or the government but his articulate speeches helped the attempts to heal the wounds left by the ruins of the Nazi Third Reich.

Heuss was one of the few German men who had not been in the armed forces and his election in 1949 was a clean break with the nation's martial past. He even insisted that his guards be policemen instead of soldiers.

Power Will Retire As SAC Chief In '64

OMAHA (AP)—A major shuffling of top Air Force generals may be in the works for next year.

This became apparent with the disclosure by Thomas S. Power, chief of the Strategic Air Command, that he will retire next year.

The term of Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay, 57, ends next July 1, and his vice-chief, Gen. William F. McKee, 57, also is expected to retire.

The filling of three top Air Force jobs would seem certain to create a chain reaction in shifts of top brass.

Economy Ax Falls On 33 Installations

Irate Sen. Keating Introduces Bill To Slow Up Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's economy ax fell on a flock of military bases Thursday, cutting off or paring down 26 in this country and seven abroad.

Moreover, "further reductions in the coming months" should be expected, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told a packed news conference.

The action will knock out 8,500 civilian positions and reduce military personnel by 7,800 during the next 3½ years. But McNamara insisted that work will be found elsewhere for all those who want it.

Economy was the administration's watchword in ordering the cutbacks. McNamara estimated Thursday's action would save about $106 million.

Reaction among many members of Congress from the 14 states hit by the cutback was irate. One of these was Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., whose state will lose the most, seven installations.

He introduced a bill to slow up the effort and declared angrily: "It is incredible that anyone could analyze this as an economy move."

$4,230 To Create New Job

He said it costs about $4,230 to create a new job under the accelerated public works program in hard-hit unemployment areas. To create jobs for the number that would be affected by the order, Keating said, would cost about $38 million.

But Rep. Edward F. Hebert, D-La., chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee that has been hitting at military waste for years, had this to say of the closing of Camp Leroy Johnson and the Army overseas supply agency at New Orleans: "I've been preaching economy for all these years and I'm not going to start screaming now just because they shut down something in my backyard."

There were outcries from officials in many communities affected. But Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he could not quarrel with the closing of Ft. Chaffe in his state if it is part of a genuine economy move.

More Cuts Indicated

Faubus added, however, that he didn't want to see the dollars saved "sent around the rest of the world or put down some other rathole."

Of the seven installations in New York being stricken, there are two big ones. The blow was lighter in Texas, home state of President Johnson, which loses two bases.

Before the Pentagon announcement was made, there had been speculation, arising from congressional sources, that Navy shipyards would figure big in the cutback. This didn't happen—now. One repair facility, at San Diego, is listed for closing by January 1965.

But, here again, there were definite indications that cuts were coming later for naval yards.

McNamara said: There are 12 naval yards, 11 of them large; the small San Diego facility now is scheduled for closing; studies of the other yards are under way; "There is no question but that we have excess capacity," and the studies of the remaining 11 yards will be completed "sometime in the next 12 months."

Morton Deplores Rash Of JFK Memorial Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Banking and Currency Committee Thursday unanimously approved legislation to mint a new 50-cent coin bearing the likeness of the late John F. Kennedy.

At the same time an unprecedented joint session of the House and Senate Public Works Committee considered a proposal to finance the planned national cultural center here and name it after Kennedy.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.; Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R - Mass., and Rep. Frank Thompson, D-Nj., as well as others, testified that the cultural center would be a fitting and "living memorial" to the late President.

All of this drew a comment from Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, R-Md., that the rash of proposals to commemorate Kennedy is now becoming "brutal and shameful."

Morton said that "if we continue to make snap judgements on memorials to our late President, all he will be remembered for was that he was assassinated."

He referred specifically to changing the names of "important landmarks, arousing the exasperation and resentment of local residents" and putting out a special coin in an election year "that will make of it. . . a campaign button."

Morton said there would be "some time to put this into perspective" and called for appointment of a commission to settle on a fitting memorial.

Significant Dispersion Of Negroes Seen In 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — The No. 1 federal housing official said Thursday the coming year should see the start of a significant dispersion of Negro families from "the segregated ghetto into the general community."

Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, reported on the first year following the late President John F. Kennedy's housing order.

"The first essential to make housing available to all, without discrimination, is to provide the housing. This is being done, on the private and public market and in the redevelopment of our urban areas," Weaver said.

The next step, he said, is for the Negro families to avail themselves of the choices provided.

Weaver said there presently are some 600,000 housing units, completed, under construction or in application form, and about 800 urban renewal projects under way or in planning that come under the executive order requirement that they be open for occupancy regardless of race, creed or color.

Kennedy signed the order banning discrimination in federally financed housing Nov. 20, 1962.

"Predictions that the president's nondiscrimination order would result in a sharp downturn in home building proved false, as we thought they would. Home building has risen, and 1963 promises to be one of the biggest home-building years on record," Weaver said.

China Deplores Russian Policy

TOKYO (AP) — Red China complains that Soviet leaders have said "fine things about the U.S. imperialists and begged favors from them" but "have lost their temper with fraternal countries and parties."

For the second straight day, Radio Peking lashed out Thursday at Soviet leaders despite Soviet Premier Khrushchev's recent plea to keep the ideological dispute inside the Communist family.

Scoffing at the so-called "spirit of Moscow" arising from the treaty limiting nuclear testing, Red China singled out the release of Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn of Yale, arrested by the Soviets as a spy.

Peking said the Soviet Union had proof Barghoorn "had been engaged in intelligence activities" but released him after the late President John F. Kennedy told the Russians the incident had badly damaged relations and made it difficult to go ahead with the sale of wheat to the Soviet Union.

7 Hurt When Bus Skids Into Truck

SHELBYVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Seven passengers were injured Thursday when a Greyhound bus skidded on a snow-covered highway and plowed into a stopped truck loaded with steel.

Steel protruding from the truck slashed open one side of the bus alongside eight rows of seats. Some passengers were trapped in their seats and rescuers used cutting tools to free them through holes cut in the side of the bus.

Attendants at W. S. Major Hospital here said none of the injured appeared hurt seriously. Two were hospitalized.

Boy Not Present; Hearing Deferred

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Carroll County Circuit Court Judge James E. Boylan Jr. refused Thursday to hear a motion to dismiss a murder indictment against an 11-year-old mental patient on grounds the defendant was not present.

The boy, Anthony T. Bielas, was indicted Nov. 12 with two other boys. They are accused of killing Sterling Turfle, 53, a fellow mental patient at Springfield State Hospital.

Boylan said attorneys for Bielas now must arrange with state's attorney T. Bryan McIntire Jr. for another hearing date.

Plans To Keep Office Of Veep Filled Offered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three constitutional amendments to keep the office of vice president filled were proposed Thursday.

Under the present system, th office formerly occupied by President Johnson will remain vacant until the next general election.

Two of the proposals for changing the Constitution would provide for the prompt election of a new vice president by both houses of Congress. He would fill out the unexpired term of a vice president succeeding to the presidency.

These proposals were offered by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Rep. J. Vaughan, Gary, D-W. Va.

A third plan, offered by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., would provide that within 30 days after a vice president took over the presidency he would nominate a new vice president. His choice would be subject to confirmation by a majority of the House and Senate.

The blossom heads of the compass plant turn so that the petal edges point north and south.

Latin Aid Shakeup Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high congressional source said Thursday the administration is considering a "complete reorganization and a real shakeup" in the operations of the Alliance for Progress program.

The source, who refused to be quoted by name, said a reorganization is under study "in the belief that it can do its job better if changes are made" in both its top echelon and its methods of operation.

He said it was premature to say, as have some published reports, that Teodoro Moscoso, now coordinator of the development program, will be dropped by President Johnson.

A story Thursday in the Baltimore Sun said that Moscoso would be eased out because of the President's concern over Communist subversion in the Caribbean and Latin America.

But the source said there is a possibility Moscoso might replace deLesseps S. Morrison as U.S. ambassador to the Organization of American States. Morrison gave up that post to run for governor of Louisiana.

Also, the source said, Moscoso might be named to a new position of U.S. representative on the Latin-American Economic Committee recently established in Brazil at a conference attended by Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined to confirm or deny the report that Moscoso will be eased out as coordinator for the Alliance for Progress.

Two Financiers Guilty Of Mail Fraud

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two middle-aged financiers—C. Oran Mensik of Chicago and D. Spencer Grow of Provo, Utah—were convicted Thursday night on charges of mail fraud.

A federal district court jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated 15 hours before finding Grow guilty on two counts and Mensik guilty on three. Both had been charged with seven counts of mail fraud in the operation of savings and loan associations in Maryland.

Their lawyers promptly responded with a battery of motions designed to nullify the convictions, asking that they be acquitted by the court or granted new trial.

Judge Roszel Thomsen of Baltimore said he will hear arguments from the federal government and the defense on these motions between Jan. 3 and 10 in Maryland Federal District Court. He said if the requests are denied, the sentences will be meted out in the District Court here, the place of the seven-week-long trial.

Each count carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The government accused Mensik and Grow of setting up the now-defunct Security Financial Insurance Corp. of Baltimore as a sham insurer of their string of saving and loan associations.

The trial was transferred from Baltimore on the defendants' insistence that no unbiased jury could be found in Maryland due to the publicity given the case.

A third defendant, Chicago attorney Henry McGurren, was given a directed verdict of acquittal on Dec. 5. Judge Thomsen said there was a "lack of evidence ... beyond reasonable doubt" that McGurren mailed advertisements for the firm.

A fourth defendant, A. Gordon Boone, former speaker of the Maryland House of Delegates, will stand trial later in Baltimore.

Woman To Woman

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sandy Green isn't accustomed to gulping tranquilizers.

If he were, he'd need a bushel and a peck to take the tension out of his present assignment — planning the first New Year's Eve dinner-dance held in Grand Central terminal.

The event, sponsored by the National Association for Mental Health (NAMH), will help the financial condition of the New York Central Railroad as well as the mental health group. The railroad is charging $2,000 an hour for the seven-hour event.

Green, coordinator of the affair, said in an interview that he has 4,000 times on his checklist. They range from acoustics to noise-makers.

Take acoustics. The 130 feet between the floor and ceiling of the terminal do not provide a perfect sounding board for the music of Guy Lombardo's orchestra, featured band.

"We're going to try to correct that situation," Green said, "by erecting a bandstand, maypole fashion, made of fabric."

Noise-makers and party hats for the 2,000 guests have been ordered, the least of Green's problems. Now all he must worry about on that score is: Will they be delivered on time?

Guests attending the dance will pay — at the top — $1,000 a seat. But even those paying $12.50 a ducat will get the champagne buffet dinner Green hopes will be served, as per schedule.

The first 10 seats for the dance were sold by Mrs. T. L. Simmons, of Tucson, Ariz. She's a member of the development committee of the NAMH Research Foundation. Eventually, she hopes to sell enough tickets to have a planeload of Tucsonites fly in for the event.

The climax of the dance will come at midnight when, it is hoped, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller will ring in 1964 by tolling the mental health bell — a 300-pound bell cast from melted down chains and shackles once used as restraints in mental hospitals.

"We invited the governor," Green said, "but he hasn't replied yet."

It is also hoped that private railroad cars will bring guests to the party from Westchester, N.Y., and Fairfield, Conn. county towns along the commuter train route to Grand Central Terminal.

"Another detail we had to consider," Green said, "was helium in the balloons. This makes them rise. If thousands of balloons soared to the ceiling of Grand Central, we'd have trouble getting them down after the dance."

They're filling the balloons with plain air.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Total dollar volume of building permits issued in the nation's 200 leading cities in October rose 9.7 per cent to $845,581,532 from $771,153,985 in September and 15.9 per cent from the $729,611,323 in the like period last year, Dun & Bradstreet Inc. reported Wednesday.

For the year-to-date, permit values were up 13 per cent to $7,886,930,320.

NEW YORK (UPI) — AVCO Corp.'s Lycoming Division in Stratford, Conn., has been awarded contracts totaling $5,276,290 for additional re-entry vehicles by the Air Force's ballistic systems division in San Bernardino and the San Antonio air material area in Texas. The contracts cover work on the Mark VI, Mark V and Mark II re-entry vehicles.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Robin L. Hall has been appointed president of Bristol - Myers Co. of Canada Ltd., it was announced Wednesday.

Hall has been executive vice president and general manager of the corporation, which is a wholly - owned subsidiary of Bristol-Myers Co.

LEWISTON, Maine (UPI) — Stockholders of Bates Manufacturing Co. Wednesday approved purchase of 400,000 shares of common stock of Virginia Coal & Coke Co.

The purchase involves about 29.5 per cent of the total outstanding stock of the Virginia firm which owns coal and other mineral properties in Virginia, Kentucky and other Southeastern states.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — St. Louis - San Francisco Railway Co. has purchased 100 freight cars for approximately $.3 million from Thrall Mfg. Co. and Pullman-Standard Division of Pullman Inc. Delivery is scheduled early in 1964.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)— Carl S. Hallauer, chairman and chief executive officer of Bausch & Lomb Inc. will retire as chief executive Jan. 29 after reaching the mandator retirement age of 70, He will continue as chairman. William W. McQuilkin, president, will take over the post vacated by Hallauer.

Welfare Aides Send 55 Messages To Servicemen

The Social Welfare Aide Group of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, held a combined meeting and Christmas party Wednesday afternoon.

Three volunteers who have completed training as SWAs received certificates and pins from Mrs. William Jenkins, vice chairman of the chapter. They are Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, Mrs. Emmadale Shipe and Mrs. Veronica Schleifman.

Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, SWA chairman, reported on the recently completed "Voice From Home" program sponsored by the chapter and conducted by the group. During the 11 days of the program 55 tape recordings were made by families of servicemen overseas, along with pictures of the taping session. Recordings and pictures were sent to England, France, Germany, Vietnam, Thailand, Hawaii, Bermuda, Iceland, Philippines, Azores, Greenland, Japan, Tripoli and Australia.

The volunteers discussed the program and plans to expand it next year. They expressed their thanks to all organizations and industries who contributed to its success with publicity and other means of assistance. The Women's Sport Club and Civic Club Community Service group donated funds for the tape recorder used, Miss Eleanor Rizer furnished a camera for taking pictures of the families, and Allegany and Beall High School students made posters for the program.

Also discussed were possible projects the SWAs could engage in. Night duty hours were assigned.

Each member donated two cans of food to be used to stock the chapter's emergency store room. The chapter will accept donations of canned goods for this purpose from individuals or organizations wishing to do so. The food will be used to care for needy persons throughout the year.

Mrs. Margaret Gladstone was elected vice president of the SWA group.

Members donated food in the Christmas theme for refreshments and carols recorded by Arthur Gladstone furnished background music for the party.

Others attending were Mrs. Marion Barkman, home service secretary, Mrs. Sara G. Lindsay, executive secretary, Mrs. Norman Geatz Sr., and Mrs. Ernest Fause.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Mold Soft Contours For Sharp Collarbones

It isn't the thin young girl alone who's troubled with a gaunt look through her throat and collarbone region. In the attempt to trim down too well-padded areas elsewhere,many a dieter finds that she's losing the rounded contours there that she had before her diet began. That's why exercise must be depended on as often as weight gain to solve the problem. Here are two of them which are effective both for those who are trying to put on the pounds and those who are trying to shed them.

1. Sit cross-legged on the floor. Raise both arms straight overhead. Turn the palms and curl the fingers as though grasping a bar. Then, very slowly, pull your elbows down and in toward each other until they touch in front of your waistline. Pull hard, but slowly. Raise the arms to starting position and repeat five times for the first few days. If you're overweight, increase your performance gradually to twenty times daily. If you are underweight, step up your program to fifty times daily.

2. Face a wall and stand about an arm's length from it. Place both palms on the wall at shoulder height with your fingers pointing toward each other. Very slowly now, bend your elbows to let your body fall forward toward the wall until your chin touches it. Slowly push back to starting position. Be very sure that while you're performing this routine, you avoid arching your lower back. Keep your back firmly in a straight line. Do all the work with your arms and shoulders. Repeat five times in the beginning. Reducers should increase to fifteen times daily and gainers should work up to twenty times, but no more.

BETTER FIGURE CONTROL can be yours if you know how to calculate your ideal weight. Send for John Robert Powers' figure-figuring pamphlet, "How Much Should You Weigh?" to start your "idealizing" program. Welfare Aides Send 55 Messages To Servicemen

The Social Welfare Aide Group of Allegany County Chapter, American Red Cross, held a combined meeting and Christmas party Wednesday afternoon.

Three volunteers who have completed training as SWAs received certificates and pins from Mrs. William Jenkins, vice chairman of the chapter. They are Mrs. Margaret Gladstone, Mrs. Emmadale Shipe and Mrs. Veronica Schleifman.

Mrs. Ellen McKenzie, SWA chairman, reported on the recently completed "Voice From Home" program sponsored by the chapter and conducted by the group. During the 11 days of the program 55 tape recordings were made by families of servicemen overseas, along with pictures of the taping session. Recordings and pictures were sent to England, France, Germany, Vietnam, Thailand, Hawaii, Bermuda, Iceland, Philippines, Azores, Greenland, Japan, Tripoli and Australia.

The volunteers discussed the program and plans to expand it next year. They expressed their thanks to all organizations and industries who contributed to its success with publicity and other means of assistance. The Women's Sport Club and Civic Club Community Service group donated funds for the tape recorder used, Miss Eleanor Rizer furnished a camera for taking pictures of the families, and Allegany and Beall High School students made posters for the program.

Also discussed were possible projects the SWAs could engage in. Night duty hours were assigned.

Each member donated two cans of food to be used to stock the chapter's emergency store room. The chapter will accept donations of canned goods for this purpose from individuals or organizations wishing to do so. The food will be used to care for needy persons throughout the year.

Mrs. Margaret Gladstone was elected vice president of the SWA group.

Members donated food in the Christmas theme for refreshments and carols recorded by Arthur Gladstone furnished background music for the party.

Secrets Of Charm

Mold Soft Contours For Sharp Collarbones

It isn't the thin young girl alone who's troubled with a gaunt look through her throat and collarbone region. In the attempt to trim down too well-padded areas elsewhere,many a dieter finds that she's losing the rounded contours there that she had before her diet began. That's why exercise must be depended on as often as weight gain to solve the problem. Here are two of them which are effective both for those who are trying to put on the pounds and those who are trying to shed them.

1. Sit cross-legged on the floor. Raise both arms straight overhead. Turn the palms and curl the fingers as though grasping a bar. Then, very slowly, pull your elbows down and in toward each other until they touch in front of your waistline. Pull hard, but slowly. Raise the arms to starting position and repeat five times for the first few days. If you're overweight, increase your performance gradually to twenty times daily. If you are underweight, step up your program to fifty times daily.

2. Face a wall and stand about an arm's length from it. Place both palms on the wall at shoulder height with your fingers pointing toward each other. Very slowly now, bend your elbows to let your body fall forward toward the wall until your chin touches it. Slowly push back to starting position. Be very sure that while you're performing this routine, you avoid arching your lower back. Keep your back firmly in a straight line. Do all the work with your arms and shoulders. Repeat five times in the beginning. Reducers should increase to fifteen times daily and gainers should work up to twenty times, but no more.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm going with a very nice fellow who will be 18 this spring. Andy is an excellent student, has high principles and is respected at school. The trouble is, I never know for sure if we are going to a dance, a football game, or anywhere because Andy is always afraid he's coming down with the flu, a cold or a headache. He carries a thermometer in his wallet and some nights he takes his temperature every hour on the hour.

We have missed four big events since October because he was sure he "felt something coming on." The next day he feels fine. I've known Andy since grade school and he has never been really sick. In fact he's the healthiest kid in the bunch. Do you think he will outgrow this, Ann? My mother says he'll probably get worse. What about it?

—M. C. S.

DEAR M. C. S.: A teen-ager who is preoccupied with fears of illness and repeatedly cancels plans, has strudel in his noodle. Your mother is right. This boy needs help—and now—or he will probably get worse.

P. S. I have a hunch that Andy and some nice nurse will make a lovely couple.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a wonderful person—but.

We are building a new home. Gus is all wrapped up in it and that's all he talks about. I don't mind if he talks about it to me because I'm just as interested as he is, but he monopolizes every social conversation with a progress report on how the house is going and I'm sure everyone is sick of listening to him.

Gus carries the blueprints in his pocket. When he trots them out and begins his talk I can just see our friends rolling their eyes toward the ceiling as if to say, 'Heaven help us—not again."

I don't want to deflate his ego because I know he's thrilled about the new home, but he is getting to be a pain in the neck. Please help. —LOYAL BUT

DEAR LOYAL: In this case I recommend that you sacrifice tact for fact. There are few things in this world as uninteresting as someone else's blueprints. Tell Gus, as you told me, that he is imposing on people. Tell him, too, that he has a three-minute limit before you change the subject. Then do it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the 16-year-old pregnant girl was perfect. I wish I had known about you seven years ago when I was in the same spot.

The boy I was going with was 19 and in college. Tom was my first and only sweetheart. He swore he loved me madly but everything changed when I told him I was going to have a baby. He tried to lie out of it by suggesting that I had other boy friends and maybe one of them was the father. I knew right then and there that Tom was no good. But my mother insisted he wasn't going to "get away with it." She applied such terrific pressure on Tom that he agreed to marry me.

Not a day goes by but what Tom doesn't remind me that I trapped him. He lies, drinks and runs around. He's no father and no husband. I have a part-time job now with one goal in mind—to save up money for a divorce.

So please, Ann, keep telling young girls that a forced marriage is absolutely worthless. The girl is better off to go it alone as you suggested. I'm only sorry I didn't do it that way.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm going with a very nice fellow who will be 18 this spring. Andy is an excellent student, has high principles and is respected at school. The trouble is, I never know for sure if we are going to a dance, a football game, or anywhere because Andy is always afraid he's coming down with the flu, a cold or a headache. He carries a thermometer in his wallet and some nights he takes his temperature every hour on the hour.

We have missed four big events since October because he was sure he "felt something coming on." The next day he feels fine. I've known Andy since grade school and he has never been really sick. In fact he's the healthiest kid in the bunch. Do you think he will outgrow this, Ann? My mother says he'll probably get worse. What about it?

—M. C. S.

DEAR M. C. S.: A teen-ager who is preoccupied with fears of illness and repeatedly cancels plans, has strudel in his noodle. Your mother is right. This boy needs help—and now—or he will probably get worse.

P. S. I have a hunch that Andy and some nice nurse will make a lovely couple.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a wonderful person—but.

We are building a new home. Gus is all wrapped up in it and that's all he talks about. I don't mind if he talks about it to me because I'm just as interested as he is, but he monopolizes every social conversation with a progress report on how the house is going and I'm sure everyone is sick of listening to him.

Gus carries the blueprints in his pocket. When he trots them out and begins his talk I can just see our friends rolling their eyes toward the ceiling as if to say, 'Heaven help us—not again."

I don't want to deflate his ego because I know he's thrilled about the new home, but he is getting to be a pain in the neck. Please help. —LOYAL BUT

DEAR LOYAL: In this case I recommend that you sacrifice tact for fact. There are few things in this world as uninteresting as someone else's blueprints. Tell Gus, as you told me, that he is imposing on people. Tell him, too, that he has a three-minute limit before you change the subject. Then do it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your advice to the 16-year-old pregnant girl was perfect. I wish I had known about you seven years ago when I was in the same spot.

The boy I was going with was 19 and in college. Tom was my first and only sweetheart. He swore he loved me madly but everything changed when I told him I was going to have a baby. He tried to lie out of it by suggesting that I had other boy friends and maybe one of them was the father. I knew right then and there that Tom was no good. But my mother insisted he wasn't going to "get away with it." She applied such terrific pressure on Tom that he agreed to marry me.

Not a day goes by but what Tom doesn't remind me that I trapped him. He lies, drinks and runs around. He's no father and no husband. I have a part-time job now with one goal in mind—to save up money for a divorce.

So please, Ann, keep telling young girls that a forced marriage is absolutely worthless. The girl is better off to go it alone as you suggested. I'm only sorry I didn't do it that way.

Hot Bridges

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Bridges that heat up like electric blankets are being used to fight winter ice in two Texas cities, the Texas Highway Department says.

An overpass on Amarillo's Pierce Street expressway has built-in electric conduits that warm the roadway to a few degrees above freezing. The heating system's maximum output in an hour could heat a home for five months.

The system can keep at least one lane open to traffic in even the worst blizzard conditions. The Amarillo system switches on automatically when freezing. Road engineers can warm up the bridge in advance of a blue norther.

A similar system was built into a twin bridge project in Wichita Falls last winter. Highway Department engineers are looking for ways to adapt the anti-icing systems to existing bridges.

The average letters in skywriting are nearly two miles high.

CAUGHT — This five-point whitetail buck escaped from the Pueblo, Colo., city park zoo by crossing ice in a moat. Police and park workmen captured the deer, unhurt, a mile and half from the park and put it in another pen. (AP Photofax)

Report Ships Seized

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI)—The official news agency Antara reported Thursday four Malaysian ships and 47 sailing vessels have been seized by the Indonesian marine police.

The agency quoted Commodore Sudomo, deputy chief of staff of naval operations, as saying the vessels were used for smuggling and captured in Indonesian territorial waters.

The Royal Gorge Bridge, over the Arkensas River in Colorado, is the highest bridge over a river.

Elected President

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Justice and Police Minister Ludwig Von Moos, a Catholic-Conservative lawyer, was elected president of Switzerland for 1964 in a joint session of both houses of parliament Thursday.

Minister of the Interior Hans Peter Tschudi, a Social Democrat and former university professor, was chosen vice president. This designates him as president for 1965.

Deaths And Funeral Notices In The Tri-State Area

County Native Dies In Crash

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A memorial service will be held 2 p.m. Saturday in the Trinity Methodist Church for Clyde W. Long, 55, of Chester, who was one of 81 persons killed in the crash of a Pan American jetliner near Elkton, Md., Sunday.

The family requested that, instead of flowers, contributions be sent to the Long Memorial Fund of the Trinity Methodist Church. Long was chairman of the church's property committee. He also was a Mason and a judge of elections in Chester's Seventh Precinct, Fifth Ward.

He was president of the Lloyd Club, a social group which sponsored the Central Little League here.

Long was a former semi-professional baseball player in this area and was a coach in the Central Little League.

He was an assistant foreman at Sun Oil Co. refinery, Marcus Hook, and had been employed by Sun Oil since 1927, six years after he and his family moved to Chester from the village of Vale Summit, Md., near Frostburg, Md.

County Native Dies In Crash

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A memorial service will be held 2 p.m. Saturday in the Trinity Methodist Church for Clyde W. Long, 55, of Chester, who was one of 81 persons killed in the crash of a Pan American jetliner near Elkton, Md., Sunday.

The family requested that, instead of flowers, contributions be sent to the Long Memorial Fund of the Trinity Methodist Church. Long was chairman of the church's property committee. He also was a Mason and a judge of elections in Chester's Seventh Precinct, Fifth Ward.

He was president of the Lloyd Club, a social group which sponsored the Central Little League here.

Long was a former semi-professional baseball player in this area and was a coach in the Central Little League.

He was an assistant foreman at Sun Oil Co. refinery, Marcus Hook, and had been employed by Sun Oil since 1927, six years after he and his family moved to Chester from the village of Vale Summit, Md., near Frostburg, Md.

LaVale Lions To Begin Christmas Tree Sale

The LaVale Lions Club will conduct its annual Christmas tree sale today, Saturday and Sunday at LaVale Plaza Shopping Center, according to Joseph J. Dorsey, general chairman.

The sale will run each day from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m., Dorsey said, adding that selections can be made from some 1,000 trees of such variety as Douglas fir, spruce, Scotch, red and white pine.

All trees are fresh-cut from Christmas tree plantations in Maryland and nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The club also is selling roping and wreaths of white and princess pine, as well as decorative wreaths, holly and mistletoe.

Assisting Dorsey with arrangements is a committee composed of J. Arthur Shank, Harry White, Kenneth M. Alrutz, George Dressman, Leo Ford, Richard Heacox, Patrick B. Joyce, Robert H. Lofert, William McKee, David Miller, Richard Schwab and Charles Zaks.

The club's membership has been divided into four teams for the sale, with the team captains being Alrutz, Heacox, William M. McCollough and Albert Tosh.

Proceeds from the annual project are used to finance the Lions Club sight conservation project and its park development program.

Problems Of Renewal

NEW YORK (AP) — "The government calls it 'urban renewal' but we know it only as demolition," writes Dorothy Day, editor of the Catholic Worker. In a new book, "Loaves and Fishes" (Harper), she says: "Slums are constantly being torn down to make way for housing projects which the poor can't afford to live in, and there aren't enough places left for them to go."

Third Order Plans Service

The monthly meeting of the Third Order of St. Francis will be held Sunday with instructions for candidates and novices to be held in SS. Peter and Paul School at 3 p. m.

Services will follow at 3:30 p. m. in SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church with Rev. Sylvan Fondriest, OFM, Cap., local director of the Third Order, conducting.

Auto Is Recovered

City Police today located a stolen car which was taken Monday from a downtown parking lot.

The car, owned by William P. Hopkins, LaVale, was found on another parking lot. Police said the vehicle was not damaged.

Failed Responsibility

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The church must consider whether it can do a more adequate job of preparing young people for marriage, Juvenile Court Judge John R. Mulligan Jr. suggested recently in a Catholic men's club.

Noting that most divorces filed involve marriages of three years or less, the judge said:

"It is quite apparent that the family and the church have failed in their responsibility to prepare young people for marriage, and that unless the responsibility is recognized and assumed, the tragic trend will continue."

The testudo of Roman legionnaires, used more than two thousand years ago, was the forerunner of modern war machines. A phalanx of troops, covered with overlapping shield, formed an invincible mobile fighting unit.

Equal Service Law Taken In Stride

BALTIMORE (AP) — Many proprietors of public accommodations "now wonder what the fuss was about," reported Thursday the commission enforcing Maryland's six-month-old law requiring equal service to all races and religions.

"The change from apprehension and-or hostility to the normal work-a-day behavior is very reassuring," said Mrs. Lane Berk. Her job for the Maryland Commission on Interracial Problems and Relations is to try to settle complaints through conference and persuasion.

She reported success in 40 out of 42 formal complaints filed since Maryland law prohibited hotels and restaurants from discriminating. The law is applicable in 11 of the 23 counties and in Baltimore City.

Complaints were registered against establishments in the city, and Baltimore, Prince Georges, Harford, Anne Arundel, Washington, Frederick and Cecil counties. Most arose in Baltimore County.

Mrs. Berk said she had failed to arbitrate privately only two of the 42 complaints and was forced to schedule public hearings.

After the first, the owner sold the restaurant in Prince Georges County and it is serving all customers. Hearing on the other is scheduled next Wednesday.

Mrs. Berk said that all of the complaints except one were against restaurants. All were based on discrimination against Negroes except one for religion.

To Meet De Gaulle

PARIS (UPI) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk will confer with President Charles de Gaulle here next week, reliable diplomatic sources said Thursday.

Rusk arrives Friday evening for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council of ministers meeting Dec. 16-18. He probably will see De Gaulle Monday, the sources said.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Malcolm H. Dill, head of Baltimore County's planning staff since 1947, said Thursday he plans to retire in February.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Comptroller Louis Goldstein thinks it's unfair that Maryland school children won't get reduced admission rates at the New York World's Fair next year.

Robert B. Filliettaz, director of the Maryland World's Fair Commission, earlier called it a stupid decision. School children who live within 50 miles of the fair grounds will be admitted for 25 cents, instead of $1, if they are in groups of 25 and accompanied by a teacher.

Goldstein said Thursday in letters to fair officials, "We would appreciate your remedying this situation at once so that all students receive equal treatment regardless of place of residence."

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)— The St. Marys County grand jury has returned a murder indictment against Aloysius Young, 43, of Oakville, in the fatal shooting of his wife, Mary Agnes, 38, Dec. 4.

Also indicted were two Negroes charged last Nov. 22 with the statutory rape of a 13-year-old white girl from Charlotte Hall. The accused are Cecil Dorsey, 24, and James E. Malcolm, 19, both of Charlotte Hall.

The jury returned the indictments Wednesday night after meeting for two days in a special session called to clear up the docket. Bench warrants on the indictments were issued Thursday.

REISTERSTOWN, Md. (AP)— Fire burned out a restaurant known as the Chicken Roost Thursday in the Chartley Shopping Center in Reisterstown.

An adjacent grocery store and coin-operated laundry were damaged by smoke. Volunteer firemen from Pikesville, Glyndon, Owings Mills, Boring and Pikesville fought the fire.

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)— James Clarence Clarke, 77, of Mechanicsville, died in St. Mary's Hospital in Leonardtown Thursday of injuries suffered in an auto collision Dec. 3 on Maryland 235.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Spencer C. Ellis, 39, former parks director in Wichita Falls, Tex., has taken over as administrator for the Maryland Commission of Forests and Parks.

Commission Chairman Samuel L. Hammerman said Wednesday, as Ellis was introduced to the group, that Ellis was temporary administrator. Pressed for a specific length of time, Hammerman said: "It may be a month, it may be a year, it may be 10 years."

Ellis said, confidently: "I intend to be here from now on."

BALTIMORE (AP) — The board chairman of Bethlehem Steel Co. has asked Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., to help still rumors that the firm's Sparrows Point shipyard might be sold.

The board chairman, Arthur B. Homer, assured Long it would not be sold in response to a query from Long. The Bethlehem executive also asked the congressman to help promote "the American merchant marine upon which the shipbuilding industry depends."

Long promised his cooperation Thursday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles C. Lauermann, 63, of Baltimore, was knocked to the sidewalk and beaten unconscious Wednesday night by two young men.

Lauermann told police the pair attacked him as his arms were filled with grocery bags he was carrying home. One punched him in the face and knocked him down, he said, and the other jumped on him and pummeled him.

Record Class Of 70 Completes Police Training

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — Seventy recruits were graduated from the State Police Academy Thursday and heard a speech by Gov. Tawes.

It was a record class for the academy, more than double the normal size. Thirty-five troopers will be used to patrol the new $70 million, 42-mile Northeastern Expressway which the late President Kennedy helped dedicate Nov. 14.

Gov. Tawes told the troopers he is convinced that liquor and excessive speed are "our two biggest enemies on Maryland highways."

"If you gentlemen here today will dedicate yourselves to the elimination of these two factors," the governor said, "you will have performed an invaluable service to this state and its citizens."

Tawes said the size of the class demonstrates the magnitude of Maryland's traffic problem.

"The death toll on our highways has soared above 500 and the only effective solution that I can see rests with you."

Tawes also dedicated Thursday a new academy gymnasium and training pool which cost more than $310,000.

$527.81 FOR ELECTRICITY IN JUST ONE YEAR!
"That's the big reason why we changed to GAS" says the Ray Gellner family, Moundsville, West Virginia

MONTHLY ELECTRIC BILLS RANGE AS HIGH AS $82.33! This was enough for the Gellners. They decided to change to gas heating and water heating for their 1,040 square foot home in Maxwell Acres.

HIGHEST COMBINED MONTHLY GAS AND ELECTRIC BILL ONLY $42.88! Even after one of the coldest winters on record, the Gellners found that gas offered savings that made the change well worthwhile.

Trading Stamp Battle Rages In Great Britain

By HARRY HOBBS

LONDON (UPI) —An injection of American high pressure salesmanship has the biggest rumpus going on Britain's "high streets"—shopping thoroughfares—in living memory.

The ammunition is trading stamps and their noise is being heard as loud in parliament as among the housewives storming the stores to get in on the fun—and the bargains.

Facing each other over the store counters are the country's most powerful retailing interests "pro-stamp" and "anti-stamp."

The war actually is an old one in Britain, going back more than 80 years to a time when trading stamps first were invented here. It is only in this century, and especially since World War II, that stamps have become such big business in the United States. Here, they had somewhat died down until this fall when one of America's biggest stamp firms, Sperry and Hutchinson or S&H, decided to move powerfully into the British market.

Forced To Yield

One "American stamp" client —a furnishing store group—had to discontinue the stamps or watch its supplies of good quality furniture dry up when the manufacturers rebelled. This was what Britons call "re-sale price maintenance" (RPM) at work. Warring against trading stamps being given with their products, several big industrial groups already have prohibited any form of stamp trading for their goods.

Retailers who ignore their suppliers and give stamps anyway face legal action and an immediate end to their supplies. All the major makers of scotch whisky and gin, cigarettes and tobacco, chocolate and cocoa, television and radio sets and phonograph discs have forbidden retailers to give stamps when trading their goods.

They argue it is a form of price cutting and a breach of their sales contract.

Cover Wide Range

Even so there is a wide range of stamp-givers, mostly in the food stores. A dance hall proprietor has started dispensing stamps with the sale of each ticket for the evening. At the oddball end of the scale a commercially minded duke is giving out stamps to fee-paying visitors to his "stately home."

Apart from anti-stamp retail store owners fearing the loss of what they like to call "customer loyalty" to their stamp - giving competitors, there are other organizations fighting stamps. The shopworkers' own trade union condemns stamps. So do 20,000 auto agents who say the stamps are "a threat to motoring," damaging to everyone except the stamp companies.

The politician have gotten into the fight and a parliamentary debate on the topic looms. The government already has given a preliminary view that it does not propose to intervene—at least not at this stage.

Both big parties — the ruling Conservatives and opposition Laborites—have members holding strong views on stamps, and the vocal ones seem opposed to this form of sales promotion. Their common idea at the moment is based on the demand that every stamp must have a money value printed on its face. And it must be exchanged for hard cash, not "gifts."

Value Of Stamps

Retailers claim each stamp represents—in gifts to be obtained—2½ per cent of the value of the goods purchased. Some politicians therefore want stamp companies to prove reserves to match the value of the stamps they offer for "gifts."

If later on the government is obliged to legislate on the control of stamp trading, its dilemma is that any anti-stamp move can upset possibly millions of vote-carrying housewives who are ardent collectors.

Right now the housewives are having a series of field days, the anti-stamp stores and snap-in stores embarking on stamp ping up double issues of stamps trading. They are enjoying price cuts in LONDON (UPI) —An injection of American high pressure salesmanship has the biggest rumpus going on Britain's "high streets"—shopping thoroughfares—in living memory.

The ammunition is trading stamps and their noise is being heard as loud in parliament as among the housewives storming the stores to get in on the fun—and the bargains.

Facing each other over the store counters are the country's most powerful retailing interests "pro-stamp" and "anti-stamp."

The war actually is an old one in Britain, going back more than 80 years to a time when trading stamps first were invented here. It is only in this century, and especially since World War II, that stamps have become such big business in the United States. Here, they had somewhat died down until this fall when one of America's biggest stamp firms, Sperry and Hutchinson or S&H, decided to move powerfully into the British market.

Forced To Yield

One "American stamp" client —a furnishing store group—had to discontinue the stamps or watch its supplies of good quality furniture dry up when the manufacturers rebelled. This was what Britons call "re-sale price maintenance" (RPM) at work. Warring against trading stamps being given with their products, several big industrial groups already have prohibited any form of stamp trading for their goods.

Retailers who ignore their suppliers and give stamps anyway face legal action and an immediate end to their supplies. All the major makers of scotch whisky and gin, cigarettes and tobacco, chocolate and cocoa, television and radio sets and phonograph discs have forbidden retailers to give stamps when trading their goods.

They argue it is a form of price cutting and a breach of their sales contract.

Cover Wide Range

Even so there is a wide range of stamp-givers, mostly in the food stores. A dance hall proprietor has started dispensing stamps with the sale of each ticket for the evening. At the oddball end of the scale a commercially minded duke is giving out stamps to fee-paying visitors to his "stately home."

Apart from anti-stamp retail store owners fearing the loss of what they like to call "customer loyalty" to their stamp - giving competitors, there are other organizations fighting stamps. The shopworkers' own trade union condemns stamps. So do 20,000 auto agents who say the stamps are "a threat to motoring," damaging to everyone except the stamp companies.

The politician have gotten into the fight and a parliamentary debate on the topic looms. The government already has given a preliminary view that it does not propose to intervene—at least not at this stage.

Both big parties — the ruling Conservatives and opposition Laborites—have members holding strong views on stamps, and the vocal ones seem opposed to this form of sales promotion. Their common idea at the moment is based on the demand that every stamp must have a money value printed on its face. And it must be exchanged for hard cash, not "gifts."

Value Of Stamps

Retailers claim each stamp represents—in gifts to be obtained—2½ per cent of the value of the goods purchased. Some politicians therefore want stamp companies to prove reserves to match the value of the stamps they offer for "gifts."

If later on the government is obliged to legislate on the control of stamp trading, its dilemma is that any anti-stamp move can upset possibly millions of vote-carrying housewives who are ardent collectors.

Right now the housewives are having a series of field days, the anti-stamp stores and snap-in stores embarking on stamp ping up double issues of stamps They are enjoying price cuts in trading.

Christmas Mailing Is Slow Here

Cumberland area residents evi- dently are not heeding the admonishment to mail Christmas cards and packages early, according to William B. Orndorff, acting postmaster.

A check of mail cancellations, primarily cards and letters, shows that they are running 42 per cent below the average at the same time last year, Mr. Orndorff said.

Overall mailings, including packages, third class mail and publications is down 25 per cent from the same period last year, he added.

Mailings are expected to pick up starting this weekend. Yule cards being sent to distant points in the South and Far West should be mailed this week to ensure their arrival in time for Christmas, postal officials said.

Service windows will be open at the main post office and LaVale, Station A and Cresaptown Saturday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., and Sunday from noon until 4 p. m., according to Mr. Orndorff.

Additional service is also scheduled the following Saturday from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m.

The postmaster said the extra service is being provided to take care of the increase in Christmas cards and gifts. He requested patrons to help spread the rush by doing their Christmas mailing before 10 a. m. or between 1:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m.

Mr. Orndorff also said that today is the last day for area youngsters to write to Santa Claus in order to receive a message from him. The letters should be addressed to Santa North Pole, 99701. The Zip code must be used in the return address also in order for Santa to reply.

Youth Group Program Sunday

A group of young men from Dave Wilkerson's Teen Challenge Training Center at Reherersburg, Pa., will present a program Sunday at 7:15 p. m. at Cresaptown Assembly of God Church.

The 10 young men, ranging in age from 16 to 21 years, are former hoodlums and dope addicts who have been converted and are being rehabilitated at the Reherersburg center. Wilkerson operates similar centers in Boston, New York City, Chicago and Philadelphia.

The program will feature singing, film slides and testimony concerning the former lives of the young men.

Men And Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some big, round numbers were cited as landmarks just passed by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church. Its statistical department said that in its 100th anniversary year, the church for the first time took in more than 100,000 new members, and had income of more than $100,000,000.

Several Area Men Graduate As Troopers

Ten area men were graduated yesterday from the Maryland State Police Academy, Pikesville.

Gov. Millard Tawes addressed the record class of 70 recruits, reflecting increased traffic patrol demands of the new Northeast Expressway.

Included in the class from this area are John M. Blake, Frostburg; Raymond B. Carr, of near Paw Paw; Charles M. Cave, Westernport; Richard Eugene Edwards, Crellin, (Garrett County); Lester V. Lewis, Cumberland; John F. McGowan, Midland; William E. O'Hara Jr., Cumberland; Carl D. Skidmore, Frostburg; Otis Lee Trost, Oldtown, and Dave O. Whiteman, Cumberland.

Trooper O'Hara is a son of Capt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of Troop "B" which includes Frederick, Washington, Allegany and Garrett counties and is former barracks commander of the LaVale barracks.

The new troopers will report for duty on Monday at 9 a.m.

The area men have been assigned to the following barracks:

Lewis, Blake and Cave, Waterloo; Skidmore and McGowan, Westminster; O'Hara, Frederick; Trost and Edwards, Bel Air; Carr, Randallstown, and Whiteman, Waldorf.

Gov. Tawes, addressing the graduates, noted that the state is making 35 troopers available for patrol duty on the new 42-mile stretch of toll highway.

This more than doubled the normal size of the graduating class. Every six months the academy provides 20 to 25 additional officers for the force plus replacements for those who have left.

Tawes said the size of the class demonstrates the magnitude of the problem being faced by the state in trying to curtail and reduce traffic accidents.

"The death toll on our highways has soared above 500 and the only effective solution that I can see rests with you," the governor told the rookie patrolmen.

"The weekly reports I receive from Co.. Carey Jarman (superintendent of State Police) have convinced me that our two biggest enemies on Maryland highways are liquor and excessive speed.

"If you gentlemen here today will dedicate yourselves to the elimination of these two factors, you will have performed an invaluable service to this state and its citizens. I can assure you in this endeavor you will receive my wholehearted cooperation."

Youths Put On Probation

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey yesterday granted probation to three Montgomery County youths involved in two breaking and enterings and larceny with the provision they return to high school and complete their education.

The trio came here November 16 and broke into the Crestmont men's clothing store on Main Street in Frostburg about 2 a.m. They took clothing valued by Bruce Mackey, the proprietor, at $1,160.25 and clothing valued at $975 was recovered.

They broke into the rear door of the Howard Johnson Restaurant on U. S. Route 40 at the Six Miles House prior to the Frostburg entry but nothing was taken.

Judge Cobey gave the youths three-year suspended terms in one count of the criminal information filed with the court by James S. Getty, state's attorney. A year on a second count in the Crestmont case and a year on the one count involving the restaurant were also suspended by Judge Cobey.

In placing the youths on probation, Judge Cobey commented that he was granting probation in the hope that Virginia authorities who placed a detainer against them will also be lenient so that they can rehabilitate themselves.

Defense attorneys William L. Wilson and George R. Hughes Jr., informed the court that the boys had dropped out of school in their 11th year. They also said that the state's attorney's FBI report showed no previous police record for the youths.

Frostburg State Alumni To Hold Event Monday

The Frostburg State College Alumni Association will hold a social event on Monday, December 16, at the Frostburg Armory, at 8 p. m.

Wray Blair, president, said all members of the association are invited and a large attendance is anticipated.

Mr. Blair hopes that all members make personal contact with those alumni members in their schools. A bulletin announcing the event has been sent to all the county schools and the building representative has posted the notices. Those members desiring to attend should sign the bulletin. If any members wish to attend and did not sign the bulletin, they are asked to contact Thomas Shaffer, treasurer, at PA 4-4113, before Saturday.

The purpose of the social is to promote a closer relationship among the graduates of the college. There will be a short discussion period preceding the social at which time all attending may participate.

A buffet style luncheon will be served following a short business session. Those members wishing to pay their 1963-64 dues can see their building representative or mail the dues to Thomas Shaffer, 213 North Lee Street, City.

Those working with the president on the arrangements are John Elliott, first vice president; Ronald Chapman, second vice president; Shaffer, treasurer; Mrs. Virginia Martirano, recording secretary, and Miss Carol Miller, corresponding secretary.

Vandals Face Prosecution If Caught Here

Chief of Police B. F. Gaffney this morning issued a warning to vandals that they will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law when apprehended.

Noting that automobiles in particular have been the target of vandals in recent weeks, Chief Gaffney said all members of the Police Department have been alerted to be especially watchful during the evening hours.

A rash of complaints about auto antennas and mirrors being either damaged or torn from cars has been received at Police Headquarters in the past week, according to Chief Gaffney.

Johnson's Religious Position Seems 'Ecumenical'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

President Johnson stands in a religious tradition that reflects one of the paramount church concerns of modern times—the cause of Christian unity.

The denomination to which he belongs grew out of specific dedication to that ideal.

His habits of worship follow an interdenominational pattern. His family itself represents a blend of church affilitations, a situation that has developed among relatives in many families in this intermingling age.

In short, the President's religious position appears particularly "ecumenical" — in an era of ecumenicity when most major churches of the world are searching for mutual understanding and closer collaboration.

He is a member of the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), a Protestant communion that arose early in the last century chiefly out of reaction against separation among Christians.

"Division among Christians is a horrid evil, fraught with many evils," wrote an early leader, Thomas Campbell.

A founding charter of the movement says: "The Church of Jesus Christ on earth is essentially, intentionally and constitutionally one."

The movement, although aimed at overcoming sectarian rivalry, developed into yet another denomination, but it still pursues the original cause through active participation in inter-church bodies.

It also is among six major denominations, including Methodists, United Presbyterians, Evangelical United Brethren, Episcopalians and the United Church of Christ, now engaged in talks seeking union.

President Johnson's congregational membership remains in his hometown church, the First Christian Church of Johnson City, Texas, not far from his Texas home and the LBJ Ranch.

He has said he intends to keep his membership there.

In Washington, his church-going practices hold to no formal, strict line. Since becoming president, he has worshipped at the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist church and at St. John's Episcopal church, both near the White House.

He occasionally attends services at the National Christian Church (Disciples), or at the Washington National Cathedral (Episcopal).

Johnson's Religious Position Seems 'Ecumenical'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

President Johnson stands in a religious tradition that reflects one of the paramount church concerns of modern times—the cause of Christian unity.

The denomination to which he belongs grew out of specific dedication to that ideal.

His habits of worship follow an interdenominational pattern. His family itself represents a blend of church affilitations, a situation that has developed among relatives in many families in this intermingling age.

In short, the President's religious position appears particularly "ecumenical" — in an era of ecumenicity when most major churches of the world are searching for mutual understanding and closer collaboration.

He is a member of the Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), a Protestant communion that arose early in the last century chiefly out of reaction against separation among Christians.

"Division among Christians is a horrid evil, fraught with many evils," wrote an early leader, Thomas Campbell.

A founding charter of the movement says: "The Church of Jesus Christ on earth is essentially, intentionally and constitutionally one."

The movement, although aimed at overcoming sectarian rivalry, developed into yet another denomination, but it still pursues the original cause through active participation in inter-church bodies.

It also is among six major denominations, including Methodists, United Presbyterians, Evangelical United Brethren, Episcopalians and the United Church of Christ, now engaged in talks seeking union.

President Johnson's congregational membership remains in his hometown church, the First Christian Church of Johnson City, Texas, not far from his Texas home and the LBJ Ranch.

He has said he intends to keep his membership there.

In Washington, his church-going practices hold to no formal, strict line. Since becoming president, he has worshipped at the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist church and at St. John's Episcopal church, both near the White House.

He occasionally attends services at the National Christian Church (Disciples), or at the Washington National Cathedral (Episcopal).

The President's Budget Worries

Like his predecessors of both parties, President Johnson has pledged "utmost thrift and frugality" in managing the budget. In forecasting further defense budget cuts he said, "I don't want to waste a dime."

But unless he demands—and Congress and the nation are willing to accept—austere measures, Mr. Johnson probably will not have greater success in reducing spending than his predecessors.

Despite Presidential pleas for economy, budgets have a habit of rising year by year. Since 1960, for example, the average annual increase in the budget has been around $5 billion.

It is significant that the President finds it necessary to press hard to keep the budget below $105 billion. Total expenditures for the current fiscal year are now estimated at approximately $98 billion.

Mr. Johnson's determination to hold the next budget to the "barest minimum" is circumscribed by statutory spending requirements, such as the mounting interest on the national debt, the various benefits to veterans and automatic increases, January 1 pay increases among them.

Prior Executive decisions and Congressional actions have already determined much of the new budget. The budget-making task is further complicated by fixed commitments for space exploration, defense and programs over which Mr. Johnson may have little control, at least in the next fiscal year.

Even if the President holds to the formidable task of keeping spending under $103 billion (which would be a record in any case), he still may have to curtail sharply some existing programs and refuse to undertake new ones. With an election coming up, such possibilities seem remote.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Second Double-Cross

A report from Havana has it that Fidel Castro, feeling vaguely menaced by the possibility that the Lyndon Johnson Administration may not feel too kindly toward him because of Lee Harvey Oswald's relations with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, is trying to mend his ideological fences vis-a-vis Soviet Russia. Since Khrushchev has risked his prestige and spent large sums of money in support of the Cuban Revolution, it is quite likely that he will permit Castro to play the role of prodigal son. But I like to think that there is at least an off-chance that Fidel has been a double-crosser once too often.

The dictator of Cuba has been a dissembler from the start of his revolutionary career. During the last days of Batista, when the ragged Castroite guerillas were hiding in the Sierra Maestra in eastern Cuba, Fidel promised faithfully that his movement would work to restore the last legitimate Constitution of Cuba, which had guaranteed all of the rights that are traditional with western democracies. It was this promise that resulted in a coalition of all the anti-Batista forces. But Fidel—how did he ever get that name?—was busy playing both ends against the middle even in those Sierra Maestra days. He was surrounded by Communists, and acute journalists such as Alice Leone Moats, who had access to sources of information in Mexico, had written articles about his secret Marxist proclivities long before the anti-Batista revolution was a success.

The Cuban middle classes were the first victims of a Castro double-cross. And the evidence now piles up that Fidel has been playing fast and loose with Khrushchev, who was apparently slated to be the second sacrifice to the Castro delusions of omnipotence.

One big reason for believing that Fidel has been thinking of undercutting Khrushchev goes back to the warm welcome which was accorded last summer to the fifty-nine young Americans who, in defiance of U.S. passport regulations, made a tour of Cuba. While there are still some mysteries about the origins of the tour, it was supported by members of the Progressive Labor Movement, a dissident Marxist organization which was formed in the U.S. by Communists who follow the "Albanian," or Mao Tse-tung, line.

In welcoming students sent to Cuba by a group whose leaders had been expelled from the orthodox Communist Party on charges of heresy, Fidel Castro almost certainly betrayed the drift of his own thinking. Certainly he put himself out to make things pleasant for a number of young American leftists who had gone over to several varieties of Maoism and Trotskyism.

One of the students brought his own political orientation brazenly into the open during the tour by asking, "Why can't the Trotskyites print and sell their own paper?" Fidel's Man Friday, Che Guevara, fielded that one by blandly remarking that if the Trotskyites were allowed a paper in Cuba, the same privilege would have to be accorded Democrats and Catholics. There was no condemnation by Guevara of Trotskyism as such.

The Progressive Labor Movement has condemned Khrushchev's "crude treatment of the Cuban regime during the 1962 missile crisis." According to one of the Movement's official publications, the Marxist-Leninist Quarterly, Khrushchev "dealt a serious blow to the principle of proletarian internationalism" when he backed down in the "eyeball to eyeball" confrontation with President Kennedy. The Khrushchev pull-out, so the Progressive Labor Movement theoreticians have alleged, "played into the hands of those who have been slandering the Cubans as Soviet lackeys."

Maybe Khrushchev will prove himself willing to overlook Fidel Castro's flirtation with representatives of the "splinter" Progressive Labor Movement. The great double-crosser of Havana may get away with his duplicity once more. But if Khrushchev wants an excuse to break with Fidel, he doesn't have to go very far to find it.

Ike's Intervention Emphasizes GOP Problem

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON.

President Eisenhower's mildly astonishing intervention in Republican pre-convention politics may not bring Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge back from Saigon. But it certainly underlines, with ironic emphasis, the difficulty of the Republican problem.

The facts concerning the Eisenhower intervention are in dispute, so they had better be got out of the way to begin with. In brief, the former President either saw or talked by telephone with Ambassador Lodge while the latter was in this country; and Eisenhower then urged Lodge to come home and re-enter Republican politics.

Not content with this, the former President also encouraged the publication of a report of what he had done, based on his own account of his exchange with Lodge. When this report stirred up considerable excitement, the usual crawfishing ensued; and the most remarkable crawfishing of all was done by the former President himself.

Eisenhower in fact sought the publication of another report, explaining that he was still as impartial as ever, that he was by no means backing Ambassador Lodge, and that his sole desire was to see as many good horses in the race as could be induced to enter.

The episode quite wonderfully reveals the strange Eisenhower blend of political naivete with great instinctive shrewdness. For what could have been more naive than to suppose he would not be regarded as backing Ambassador Lodge, after he had asked him to enter the race, and had also caused this fact to be published?

Yet the shrewdness outweighs the naivete; for it is quite obvious that Eisenhower's motive was simply eagerness to take better advantage of the opportunity offered the Republicans by the radical change in the national situation. How he went about it was a bit odd, but what he was trying to do was highly sensible.

It was sensible, to begin with, because all the Republicans' reasons for being tempted by Sen. Barry Goldwater ceased to operate when President Kennedy was assassinated. The Republicans of the Northern industrial states saw no point in fighting the well-financed Goldwater drive as long as they were certain that President Kennedy would win their states anyway. But now they have a real chance of winning those states with the right kind of Republican candidate, though not with Goldwater.

By the same token, Sen. Goldwater's chief asset is now a busted flush. The best forecaster of Southern trends, Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, was glumly convinced that President Kennedy would lose every Southern state to Goldwater. But he is now quite as firmly convinced that President Johnson will carry the whole South, even against Goldwater, and even if the new President presses on with the Kennedy civil rights bill—as of course he will. For this very reason, it is even possible that Sen. Goldwater will decide in the end that this is not his year. Meanwhile, the political obstacle of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's remarriage is still as great as ever. And no politician who saw Richard M. Nixon's macabre farewell television interview after his last dire failure in California has a really compulsive hankering to leap aboard a Nixon bandwagon.

In short, with President Johnson strong in the South but in some trouble in the industrial states which generally choose the President, Republicans just might win the race. Yet the Republicans find themselves confronted with one front-runner carrying a heavy handicap, another front-runner with the political equivalent of glanders.

In these circumstances, in view of Ambassador Lodge's proven ability, President Eisenhower's impulse to get Lodge into the race was quite understandable. But despite the recent increase of talk about Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, too little attention is still being paid to his dark-horse potential. And this is true, although Scranton will probably remain a dark horse for some time to come.

One of the most remarkable English murderers was George Joseph Smith, who had a sad habit of marrying rich spinsters and then drowning them in their baths. The first drowned bride was dismissed as a natural accident, and so was the second. But the third bride dead in her bath stirred investigation and brought George Joseph Smith to the gallows.

George Joseph Smith is in point here, because Gov. Scranton has already twice accomplished the rarest feat in politics. He has twice held sweetly yet ostentatiously aloof from a bitter fight for a nomination, only to be nominated by acclaim in the end — first for a seat in the House of Representatives, and then for the Pennsylvania Governorship. Like murderers, politicians tend to be repetitive. Hence a third performance of this rare feat can hardly be ruled out—especially as Scranton can be counted on to do very well in the crucial industrial states.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

ANTI-BOBBY STORY — For anyone who thinks that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's unpopularity is confined to the Senate side of the Capitol, there is the following incident concerning a member of the House.

Rep. Edith Green, Oregon Democrat, has been feuding with Kennedy over the slow pace of the administration's juvenile delinquency program. But they've more or less patched up their differences. Anyway, peace had returned sufficiently for Rep. Green to place a complimentary newspaper story concerning Bobby's good works in behalf of kids in the Congressional Record. Imagine her chagrin when she read the headline under which the favorable story about Bobby appeared. It read: "The other side of Bob Kennedy."

ADVICE — Rep. George F. Senner, Arizona Democrat, decided to seek some advice from his constituents. He asked them: "What would you recommend that I, as your congressman, do to better serve you?" Here are some answers:

"Vote according to your good horse sense on what is good for our country rather than how many votes it may or may not bring." . . . "Vote the way the majority feels, not the way you think." . . . "Vote conservative." . . . "Get rid of Goldwater." . . . "Stay honest" . . . "Resign." . . . "Acquire seniority, if possible."

However, the one Senner liked best was the recommendation that he "come on home and let's go quail hunting."

Manchester, N.H. Adds Northeast To South And West Hate Centers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Though the hate belt of the United States is generally considered to run from Birmingham, through Searcy, Ark., and Dallas, Texas, to Phoenix, Ariz., actually there's quite an active hat center in the northeast — namely Manchester, N. H.

The people of Manchester have never been hate-conscious until recently. Now they can't help it. For almost every day, the Manchester Union Leader, William Loeb, Editor and Publisher, pours a steady stream of venom into its readers.

Here is a cross-section of the vitriol which the people of New Hampshire get from the biggest newspaper in their state:

President Eisenhower: "That stinking hypocrite" . . . "Dopey Dwight."

The late John F. Kennedy: "No. 1 liar in the USA" . . . "When we have Kennedy for President who needs Khrushchev for an enemy?" . . . "A threat to American liberty" . . . "JFK is a stinker" . . . "Kennedy is proud to be a liar."

Nelson Rockefeller: "Kennedy's alter ego, errand boy, and all-round flunky."

Sen. Saltonstall, R-Mass.: "That famous ass."

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine: "Moscow Maggie."

Harry S. Truman: "The little dictator."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt: "Ellie and her belly-crawling liberal friends."

Candlelight Memorials

To counteract the atmosphere of suspicion and hate which has set Americans against Americans and undoubtedly contributed to the death of John F. Kennedy, candlelight memorials are being planned in the leading cities on Dec. 22, the last day of mourning.

In Washington, President Johnson will speak to a candlelight gathering of all religious faiths at the Lincoln Memorial in a ceremony to be broadcast by NBC at sundown. A torch will be carried from the Kennedy grave across the Potomac in Arlington to light the first candle at the Memorial. The light will then be passed from candle to candle through the crowd.

In New York, Paul Screvane, dynamic president of the city council, will preside over a similar memorial at the Armory at 34th and Park Avenue, sponsored by America's Conscience Fund, the Protestant Council of New York, the Archdiocese of New York, and the New York Board of Rabbis. The crowd will gather in Madison Square a few blocks away and march with candles to the Armory.

In Los Angeles, Gov. Pat Brown, co-chairman of America's Conscience Fund, will hold another memorial, also on Sunday, Dec. 22.

The idea being emphasized by the churchmen and President Johnson in these last services for John F. Kennedy is that the greatest monument the American people could erect to their late president is to dispel the atmosphere of bitterness which existed at the time of his death and learn to "love thy neighbor as thyself."

GOP Loafs On Rights

Some of the top Republicans who are supposed to have influence with their party don't seem to have any influence when it comes to getting the civil rights bill pried loose from the House Rules Committee. Or if they have influence, they aren't bothering to exert it.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, a civil rights advocate and a candidate for president, has had no support from Republican Congressmen—outside New York City—in getting signatures to the discharge petition to pry the bill out of the Rules Committee.

GOP Reps. Seymour Halpern and John Lindsay, both of New York City, have defied Dixiecrat Howard Smith, chairman of the Rules Committee. But Rep. Paul Fino, another Republican Congressman from New York City, says he hasn't signed yet, though he intends to.

Of 41 Congressmen from New York, 21 are Republicans, yet none of the others are lining up behind Rockefeller, civil rights, and Abe Lincoln.

In Michigan, where Gov. George Romney is considered an important potential candidate for president, not one Republican Congressman has signed the discharge petition. Romney is for civil rights, but not the GOP members of Congress.

In Ohio, young Congressman Bob Taft plans to run for the Senate, but neither he nor any other Republican Congressman has signed the petition to push the civil rights bill out of the pigeonhole in the Rules Committee. Nor has any Republican Congressman signed from Illinois, or Massachusetts, and only one from Indiana—William Bray.

It looks as if civil rights is all right to talk about on the hustings but not to vote on.

Profitable Autograph

Lyndon Johnson soon will be presented with a new fountain pen, and it will come from a Republican.

When his own pen ran dry the other day, the President borrowed one from Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, to autograph the attractive "We The People" history of the U. S. Capitol, illustrated with photographs by the National Geographic Society.

"This is one of the best pens I have ever used," said Johnson. "Where did you get it?"

"It was made in my district, at Fort Madison," replied Schwengel. "I'll get one for you."

After the President autographed another "We The People" book for House GOP Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, he remarked: "Now that I've done you a favor, Charlie, get some of my bills through up there, will you?"

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The dinner table was casually rich. The candles glowed like pigeon tongues. The off-white room with its Brussels drapes and its tropical plants had an aura of elegant ease. Off in another room, a child could be heard practicing a difficult piano lesson. A police dog named Lucky stared at the dinners with neither hostility nor friendliness.

My interest was in the man opposite. He's a little thinner, and the hair isn't as red as it used to be, but the deep nasal voice belongs to Arthur Godfrey. He had phoned his friend Hank Meyer in Miami Beach and said: "I'm coming over for dinner." Meyer is a beaming bronze doorknob with seven long black hairs. He is also one of the top public relations experts in the nation.

Men must know each other pretty well to say: "I'm coming over to dinner." These men do. I was there by accident. I had been a guest on Arthur Godfrey's radio show that morning, and already had a dinner date at Hank's beautiful home on the intracoastal waterway.

In the morning, Mrs. Bishop and I went to the Kenilworth Hotel. There Godfrey has a lovely penthouse with porch, greenery, a beautiful view of Bal Harbour and Haulover Beach, and sunshine. He also has table microphones and a sound man who sits forlornly listening to the jokes. Most men in the field of communications think of Arthur Godfrey as the world's greatest salesman.

I don't. On the few occasions when he and I have crossed paths, I have thought of him as a friend and a fighter. He can be either, and he graciously permits you to make the choice. As a friend, he is like a half-grown St. Bernard, loving you to death and overwhelming you with kindnesses. As a fighter, he is an unremitting enemy who will fight on, even when the weight of public opinion is against him.

The last time I had seen him was in a studio in New York. The day was Good Friday 1959. We talked about "The Day Christ Died." Casually, I mentioned that a long time ago, I had played a ukelele. At once, he extended the expensive one he held in his hand and insisted that I take it. He hardly knew me.

Three weeks later, Arthur Godfrey was in headlines. He had cancer of the lung, a bad one. His doctors, with the help of God, pulled a few miracles, and this great controversial figure recovered. In some instances he may be short on intellect, but never on courage. Godfrey has more guts than a killer whale. He fought his way back up — alone.

His enemies ticked the days off, waiting for his death. It didn't come. He went back to radio; he flew his own Convair 340; he enjoyed himself on his farm at Leesburg, Virginia; he spent time with Mary, his wife, and his children. And, every few weeks, he sweated out the medical examination, the cobalt treatments, the x-rays which might show a deadly shadow.

Now it was all behind him. He turned up at the broadcast in old wrinkled tropical shorts and a wild sports shirt. He limped into the living room with that chronically bent hip. And on his ugly puss was that gladsome boyish grin that makes you think he's been waiting a long time to see you.

I am not an entertainer. I did not belong on his program. He was doing a favor for me, mentioning my new book, "Honeymoon Diary." He hadn't read it, and he said it was great. When it was over, he thanked me for showing up as though I had done a favor for him.

Now we were at dinner with Hank and Lenore Meyer and he looked as relaxed as a man who never had a problem, a man who had never pounded his fist on a table when the tears of defeat came. He puffed on a pipe and, when Lee Hills and his bride arrived, Godfrey got to his feet. Mr. Hills is executive editor of the Knight newspapers, and his bride is a dark beauty with bottomless spiritual pools in her eyes.

Godfrey was complaining of bronchitis. It isn't serious, but it causes his throat to snap shut now and then. He is anguished, not for himself, but for interrupting the conversation. He talked awhile about a small new plane he is buying, a pure jet. To him, it is more than an expensive toy; it's the freedom of flight; the serenity of the skies; the lovely quiet place halfway between man and God.

He might have tried to impress me so that I would write a column about him. He didn't. He kept the conversation on topics which have no news value. Suddenly, when his dinner plate was clean, he heard little Dorianne Meyer hit a clinker in the middle of her practice. At once, he excused himself to Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Hills, and Mrs. Bishop, and limped off into the other room.

From a distance, I could hear him say: "Now, honey, wait a minute. We all make mistakes. Let me try it once." He sat to the piano and played "The Doll Dance." He played softly, so that we wouldn't hear. The little girl began to ask questions. Arthur Godfrey sat with the child. We did not see him again until we said goodnight.

Dorianne is a simple child, easily understood. Arthur Godfrey isn't. . .

Many Health Hazards Face 'The Weaker Sex'

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Men are not nearly as tough as they think. A bride is twice as likely to become a widow by the time she is 45 years old as the bridegroom is to become a widower. But a wife can help provided she understands him well enough to aid him in steering clear of hazards that lie ahead. This must be done without nagging, fussing, pleading, babying, or resorting to fads or cults.

A woman's best bet is to select a healthy mate with long lived ancestors; a man who is lean, sensible, and moderate in his habits; he should have an even temperatment, which means he does not fly off the handle regularly.

But this type husband is difficult to pick out, especially when the selection of a spouse is more of an emotional than a practical affair. When the honeymoon is over, and the business of rearing a family and getting ahead in the world become paramount, the woman may wish she had been more mature in her choice of a mate.

What are the hazards of the road ahead? Heart disease, high blood pressure, alcoholism, cancer, and accidents are high on the list. These are the early widow-makers but, with care, the majority can be avoided, delayed, or minimized. The risk of having a heart attack, for example, increases considerably when the husband is overweight, a heavy smoker, or quick to anger; the same applies if he has high blood pressure, enlarged heart, or an elevated blood cholesterol level.

These high risk factors are best detected via physical examinations and laborotory tests. This should be started during the forties and not after the point of no return. Obesity and a high cholesterol level call for dietary modifications.

Changes in the social routine may go a long way toward providing more sleep and relaxation. A tranquil atmosphere at home keeps the blood pressure down and the coronary arteries open. A physical fitness program will go far toward maintaining a good physical status. Sensible living will help your man reach his expected life span.

The President's Budget Worries

Like his predecessors of both parties, President Johnson has pledged "utmost thrift and frugality" in managing the budget. In forecasting further defense budget cuts he said, "I don't want to waste a dime."

But unless he demands—and Congress and the nation are willing to accept—austere measures, Mr. Johnson probably will not have greater success in reducing spending than his predecessors.

Despite Presidential pleas for economy, budgets have a habit of rising year by year. Since 1960, for example, the average annual increase in the budget has been around $5 billion.

It is significant that the President finds it necessary to press hard to keep the budget below $105 billion. Total expenditures for the current fiscal year are now estimated at approximately $98 billion.

Mr. Johnson's determination to hold the next budget to the "barest minimum" is circumscribed by statutory spending requirements, such as the mounting interest on the national debt, the various benefits to veterans and automatic increases, January 1 pay increases among them.

Prior Executive decisions and Congressional actions have already determined much of the new budget. The budget-making task is further complicated by fixed commitments for space exploration, defense and programs over which Mr. Johnson may have little control, at least in the next fiscal year.

Even if the President holds to the formidable task of keeping spending under $103 billion (which would be a record in any case), he still may have to curtail sharply some existing programs and refuse to undertake new ones. With an election coming up, such possibilities seem remote.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Second Double-Cross

A report from Havana has it that Fidel Castro, feeling vaguely menaced by the possibility that the Lyndon Johnson Administration may not feel too kindly toward him because of Lee Harvey Oswald's relations with the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, is trying to mend his ideological fences vis-a-vis Soviet Russia. Since Khrushchev has risked his prestige and spent large sums of money in support of the Cuban Revolution, it is quite likely that he will permit Castro to play the role of prodigal son. But I like to think that there is at least an off-chance that Fidel has been a double-crosser once too often.

The dictator of Cuba has been a dissembler from the start of his revolutionary career. During the last days of Batista, when the ragged Castroite guerillas were hiding in the Sierra Maestra in eastern Cuba, Fidel promised faithfully that his movement would work to restore the last legitimate Constitution of Cuba, which had guaranteed all of the rights that are traditional with western democracies. It was this promise that resulted in a coalition of all the anti-Batista forces. But Fidel—how did he ever get that name?—was busy playing both ends against the middle even in those Sierra Maestra days. He was surrounded by Communists, and acute journalists such as Alice Leone Moats, who had access to sources of information in Mexico, had written articles about his secret Marxist proclivities long before the anti-Batista revolution was a success.

The Cuban middle classes were the first victims of a Castro double-cross. And the evidence now piles up that Fidel has been playing fast and loose with Khrushchev, who was apparently slated to be the second sacrifice to the Castro delusions of omnipotence.

One big reason for believing that Fidel has been thinking of undercutting Khrushchev goes back to the warm welcome which was accorded last summer to the fifty-nine young Americans who, in defiance of U.S. passport regulations, made a tour of Cuba. While there are still some mysteries about the origins of the tour, it was supported by members of the Progressive Labor Movement, a dissident Marxist organization which was formed in the U.S. by Communists who follow the "Albanian," or Mao Tse-tung, line.

In welcoming students sent to Cuba by a group whose leaders had been expelled from the orthodox Communist Party on charges of heresy, Fidel Castro almost certainly betrayed the drift of his own thinking. Certainly he put himself out to make things pleasant for a number of young American leftists who had gone over to several varieties of Maoism and Trotskyism.

One of the students brought his own political orientation brazenly into the open during the tour by asking, "Why can't the Trotskyites print and sell their own paper?" Fidel's Man Friday, Che Guevara, fielded that one by blandly remarking that if the Trotskyites were allowed a paper in Cuba, the same privilege would have to be accorded Democrats and Catholics. There was no condemnation by Guevara of Trotskyism as such.

The Progressive Labor Movement has condemned Khrushchev's "crude treatment of the Cuban regime during the 1962 missile crisis." According to one of the Movement's official publications, the Marxist-Leninist Quarterly, Khrushchev "dealt a serious blow to the principle of proletarian internationalism" when he backed down in the "eyeball to eyeball" confrontation with President Kennedy. The Khrushchev pull-out, so the Progressive Labor Movement theoreticians have alleged, "played into the hands of those who have been slandering the Cubans as Soviet lackeys."

Maybe Khrushchev will prove himself willing to overlook Fidel Castro's flirtation with representatives of the "splinter" Progressive Labor Movement. The great double-crosser of Havana may get away with his duplicity once more. But if Khrushchev wants an excuse to break with Fidel, he doesn't have to go very far to find it.

'He Keeps Saying Frugality—What's That?'

Ike's Intervention Emphasizes GOP Problem

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON.

President Eisenhower's mildly astonishing intervention in Republican pre-convention politics may not bring Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge back from Saigon. But it certainly underlines, with ironic emphasis, the difficulty of the Republican problem.

The facts concerning the Eisenhower intervention are in dispute, so they had better be got out of the way to begin with. In brief, the former President either saw or talked by telephone with Ambassador Lodge while the latter was in this country; and Eisenhower then urged Lodge to come home and re-enter Republican politics.

Not content with this, the former President also encouraged the publication of a report of what he had done, based on his own account of his exchange with Lodge. When this report stirred up considerable excitement, the usual crawfishing ensued; and the most remarkable crawfishing of all was done by the former President himself.

Eisenhower in fact sought the publication of another report, explaining that he was still as impartial as ever, that he was by no means backing Ambassador Lodge, and that his sole desire was to see as many good horses in the race as could be induced to enter.

The episode quite wonderfully reveals the strange Eisenhower blend of political naivete with great instinctive shrewdness. For what could have been more naive than to suppose he would not be regarded as backing Ambassador Lodge, after he had asked him to enter the race, and had also caused this fact to be published?

Yet the shrewdness outweighs the naivete; for it is quite obvious that Eisenhower's motive was simply eagerness to take better advantage of the opportunity offered the Republicans by the radical change in the national situation. How he went about it was a bit odd, but what he was trying to do was highly sensible.

It was sensible, to begin with, because all the Republicans' reasons for being tempted by Sen. Barry Goldwater ceased to operate when President Kennedy was assassinated. The Republicans of the Northern industrial states saw no point in fighting the well-financed Goldwater drive as long as they were certain that President Kennedy would win their states anyway. But now they have a real chance of winning those states with the right kind of Republican candidate, though not with Goldwater.

By the same token, Sen. Goldwater's chief asset is now a busted flush. The best forecaster of Southern trends, Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, was glumly convinced that President Kennedy would lose every Southern state to Goldwater. But he is now quite as firmly convinced that President Johnson will carry the whole South, even against Goldwater, and even if the new President presses on with the Kennedy civil rights bill—as of course he will. For this very reason, it is even possible that Sen. Goldwater will decide in the end that this is not his year. Meanwhile, the political obstacle of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's remarriage is still as great as ever. And no politician who saw Richard M. Nixon's macabre farewell television interview after his last dire failure in California has a really compulsive hankering to leap aboard a Nixon bandwagon.

In short, with President Johnson strong in the South but in some trouble in the industrial states which generally choose the President, Republicans just might win the race. Yet the Republicans find themselves confronted with one front-runner carrying a heavy handicap, another front-runner with the political equivalent of glanders.

In these circumstances, in view of Ambassador Lodge's proven ability, President Eisenhower's impulse to get Lodge into the race was quite understandable. But despite the recent increase of talk about Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, too little attention is still being paid to his dark-horse potential. And this is true, although Scranton will probably remain a dark horse for some time to come.

One of the most remarkable English murderers was George Joseph Smith, who had a sad habit of marrying rich spinsters and then drowning them in their baths. The first drowned bride was dismissed as a natural accident, and so was the second. But the third bride dead in her bath stirred investigation and brought George Joseph Smith to the gallows.

George Joseph Smith is in point here, because Gov. Scranton has already twice accomplished the rarest feat in politics. He has twice held sweetly yet ostentatiously aloof from a bitter fight for a nomination, only to be nominated by acclaim in the end — first for a seat in the House of Representatives, and then for the Pennsylvania Governorship. Like murderers, politicians tend to be repetitive. Hence a third performance of this rare feat can hardly be ruled out—especially as Scranton can be counted on to do very well in the crucial industrial states.

Inside Washington

ANTI-BOBBY STORY — For anyone who thinks that Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's unpopularity is confined to the Senate side of the Capitol, there is the following incident concerning a member of the House.

Rep. Edith Green, Oregon Democrat, has been feuding with Kennedy over the slow pace of the administration's juvenile delinquency program. But they've more or less patched up their differences. Anyway, peace had returned sufficiently for Rep. Green to place a complimentary newspaper story concerning Bobby's good works in behalf of kids in the Congressional Record. Imagine her chagrin when she read the headline under which the favorable story about Bobby appeared. It read: "The other side of Bob Kennedy."

ADVICE — Rep. George F. Senner, Arizona Democrat, decided to seek some advice from his constituents. He asked them: "What would you recommend that I, as your congressman, do to better serve you?" Here are some answers:

"Vote according to your good horse sense on what is good for our country rather than how many votes it may or may not bring." . . . "Vote the way the majority feels, not the way you think." . . . "Vote conservative." . . . "Get rid of Goldwater." . . . "Stay honest" . . . "Resign." . . . "Acquire seniority, if possible."

However, the one Senner liked best was the recommendation that he "come on home and let's go quail hunting."

Manchester, N.H. Adds Northeast To South And West Hate Centers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Though the hate belt of the United States is generally considered to run from Birmingham, through Searcy, Ark., and Dallas, Texas, to Phoenix, Ariz., actually there's quite an active hat center in the northeast — namely Manchester, N. H.

The people of Manchester have never been hate-conscious until recently. Now they can't help it. For almost every day, the Manchester Union Leader, William Loeb, Editor and Publisher, pours a steady stream of venom into its readers.

Here is a cross-section of the vitriol which the people of New Hampshire get from the biggest newspaper in their state:

President Eisenhower: "That stinking hypocrite" . . . "Dopey Dwight."

The late John F. Kennedy: "No. 1 liar in the USA" . . . "When we have Kennedy for President who needs Khrushchev for an enemy?" . . . "A threat to American liberty" . . . "JFK is a stinker" . . . "Kennedy is proud to be a liar."

Nelson Rockefeller: "Kennedy's alter ego, errand boy, and all-round flunky."

Sen. Saltonstall, R-Mass.: "That famous ass."

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine: "Moscow Maggie."

Harry S. Truman: "The little dictator."

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt: "Ellie and her belly-crawling liberal friends."

Candlelight Memorials

To counteract the atmosphere of suspicion and hate which has set Americans against Americans and undoubtedly contributed to the death of John F. Kennedy, candlelight memorials are being planned in the leading cities on Dec. 22, the last day of mourning.

In Washington, President Johnson will speak to a candlelight gathering of all religious faiths at the Lincoln Memorial in a ceremony to be broadcast by NBC at sundown. A torch will be carried from the Kennedy grave across the Potomac in Arlington to light the first candle at the Memorial. The light will then be passed from candle to candle through the crowd.

In New York, Paul Screvane, dynamic president of the city council, will preside over a similar memorial at the Armory at 34th and Park Avenue, sponsored by America's Conscience Fund, the Protestant Council of New York, the Archdiocese of New York, and the New York Board of Rabbis. The crowd will gather in Madison Square a few blocks away and march with candles to the Armory.

In Los Angeles, Gov. Pat Brown, co-chairman of America's Conscience Fund, will hold another memorial, also on Sunday, Dec. 22.

The idea being emphasized by the churchmen and President Johnson in these last services for John F. Kennedy is that the greatest monument the American people could erect to their late president is to dispel the atmosphere of bitterness which existed at the time of his death and learn to "love thy neighbor as thyself."

GOP Loafs On Rights

Some of the top Republicans who are supposed to have influence with their party don't seem to have any influence when it comes to getting the civil rights bill pried loose from the House Rules Committee. Or if they have influence, they aren't bothering to exert it.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, a civil rights advocate and a candidate for president, has had no support from Republican Congressmen—outside New York City—in getting signatures to the discharge petition to pry the bill out of the Rules Committee.

GOP Reps. Seymour Halpern and John Lindsay, both of New York City, have defied Dixiecrat Howard Smith, chairman of the Rules Committee. But Rep. Paul Fino, another Republican Congressman from New York City, says he hasn't signed yet, though he intends to.

Of 41 Congressmen from New York, 21 are Republicans, yet none of the others are lining up behind Rockefeller, civil rights, and Abe Lincoln.

In Michigan, where Gov. George Romney is considered an important potential candidate for president, not one Republican Congressman has signed the discharge petition. Romney is for civil rights, but not the GOP members of Congress.

In Ohio, young Congressman Bob Taft plans to run for the Senate, but neither he nor any other Republican Congressman has signed the petition to push the civil rights bill out of the pigeonhole in the Rules Committee. Nor has any Republican Congressman signed from Illinois, or Massachusetts, and only one from Indiana—William Bray.

It looks as if civil rights is all right to talk about on the hustings but not to vote on.

Profitable Autograph

Lyndon Johnson soon will be presented with a new fountain pen, and it will come from a Republican.

When his own pen ran dry the other day, the President borrowed one from Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, to autograph the attractive "We The People" history of the U. S. Capitol, illustrated with photographs by the National Geographic Society.

"This is one of the best pens I have ever used," said Johnson. "Where did you get it?"

"It was made in my district, at Fort Madison," replied Schwengel. "I'll get one for you."

After the President autographed another "We The People" book for House GOP Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana, he remarked: "Now that I've done you a favor, Charlie, get some of my bills through up there, will you?"

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The dinner table was casually rich. The candles glowed like pigeon tongues. The off-white room with its Brussels drapes and its tropical plants had an aura of elegant ease. Off in another room, a child could be heard practicing a difficult piano lesson. A police dog named Lucky stared at the dinners with neither hostility nor friendliness.

My interest was in the man opposite. He's a little thinner, and the hair isn't as red as it used to be, but the deep nasal voice belongs to Arthur Godfrey. He had phoned his friend Hank Meyer in Miami Beach and said: "I'm coming over for dinner." Meyer is a beaming bronze doorknob with seven long black hairs. He is also one of the top public relations experts in the nation.

Men must know each other pretty well to say: "I'm coming over to dinner." These men do. I was there by accident. I had been a guest on Arthur Godfrey's radio show that morning, and already had a dinner date at Hank's beautiful home on the intracoastal waterway.

In the morning, Mrs. Bishop and I went to the Kenilworth Hotel. There Godfrey has a lovely penthouse with porch, greenery, a beautiful view of Bal Harbour and Haulover Beach, and sunshine. He also has table microphones and a sound man who sits forlornly listening to the jokes. Most men in the field of communications think of Arthur Godfrey as the world's greatest salesman.

I don't. On the few occasions when he and I have crossed paths, I have thought of him as a friend and a fighter. He can be either, and he graciously permits you to make the choice. As a friend, he is like a half-grown St. Bernard, loving you to death and overwhelming you with kindnesses. As a fighter, he is an unremitting enemy who will fight on, even when the weight of public opinion is against him.

The last time I had seen him was in a studio in New York. The day was Good Friday 1959. We talked about "The Day Christ Died." Casually, I mentioned that a long time ago, I had played a ukelele. At once, he extended the expensive one he held in his hand and insisted that I take it. He hardly knew me.

Three weeks later, Arthur Godfrey was in headlines. He had cancer of the lung, a bad one. His doctors, with the help of God, pulled a few miracles, and this great controversial figure recovered. In some instances he may be short on intellect, but never on courage. Godfrey has more guts than a killer whale. He fought his way back up — alone.

His enemies ticked the days off, waiting for his death. It didn't come. He went back to radio; he flew his own Convair 340; he enjoyed himself on his farm at Leesburg, Virginia; he spent time with Mary, his wife, and his children. And, every few weeks, he sweated out the medical examination, the cobalt treatments, the x-rays which might show a deadly shadow.

Now it was all behind him. He turned up at the broadcast in old wrinkled tropical shorts and a wild sports shirt. He limped into the living room with that chronically bent hip. And on his ugly puss was that gladsome boyish grin that makes you think he's been waiting a long time to see you.

I am not an entertainer. I did not belong on his program. He was doing a favor for me, mentioning my new book, "Honeymoon Diary." He hadn't read it, and he said it was great. When it was over, he thanked me for showing up as though I had done a favor for him.

Now we were at dinner with Hank and Lenore Meyer and he looked as relaxed as a man who never had a problem, a man who had never pounded his fist on a table when the tears of defeat came. He puffed on a pipe and, when Lee Hills and his bride arrived, Godfrey got to his feet. Mr. Hills is executive editor of the Knight newspapers, and his bride is a dark beauty with bottomless spiritual pools in her eyes.

Godfrey was complaining of bronchitis. It isn't serious, but it causes his throat to snap shut now and then. He is anguished, not for himself, but for interrupting the conversation. He talked awhile about a small new plane he is buying, a pure jet. To him, it is more than an expensive toy; it's the freedom of flight; the serenity of the skies; the lovely quiet place halfway between man and God.

He might have tried to impress me so that I would write a column about him. He didn't. He kept the conversation on topics which have no news value. Suddenly, when his dinner plate was clean, he heard little Dorianne Meyer hit a clinker in the middle of her practice. At once, he excused himself to Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Hills, and Mrs. Bishop, and limped off into the other room.

From a distance, I could hear him say: "Now, honey, wait a minute. We all make mistakes. Let me try it once." He sat to the piano and played "The Doll Dance." He played softly, so that we wouldn't hear. The little girl began to ask questions. Arthur Godfrey sat with the child. We did not see him again until we said goodnight.

Dorianne is a simple child, easily understood. Arthur Godfrey isn't. . .

Soviet U.N. Veto Threat Arouses Anger Of Africans

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union finds itself in hot water with many African delegates in the wake of a renewed threat to veto moves for enlargement of major U.N. councils.

Soviet discomfiture over the angry reaction of the Africans could only cause chuckles in Peking, which has been a kind of a third party in the situation, U.N. diplomats said Thursday.

The Africans made plain their attitude in the General Assembly's 111-nation special political committee, which was debating proposals for enlargement of the security and the economic and social councils.

Outside the Soviet bloc and Cuba, virtually solid support has been voiced for a Latin-American resolution to enlarge the Security Council from 11 to 13 countries and the economic and social council from 18 to 24.

The added seats are designed to meet requests for greater representation from the African nations, which will have 34 seats in the United Nations, with the admission of Zanzibar and Kenya expected on Monday, bringing the total U.N. membership to 113.

The Asian-African group was reported ready to bring in their own resoution proposing that the Security Council be enlarged to 15 and the economic and social to 27 or 30.

Consultations were under way with the Latin-Americans in an effort to seek a compromise. The big Western powers are cool toward the scale of enlargement proposed by the Asian-Africans. They endorse the Latin-American move.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko reiterated in the special political committee on Tuesday that until Communist China is admitted to the United Nations nothing could be done on enlargement. He favored a redistribution of seats, which does not satisfy the Africans.

Enlargement requires amendment of the U.N. charter. Soviet opposition was a threat to veto the proposed amendment. Ratification by all the five big powers is required.

Fedorenko told the committee the Soviet Union had approached Peking on the issue and was informed that the Chinese Communists would make no commitment on the total number of seats in U.N. councils.

He advised the Asians and Africans to give unanimous support to admission of Communist China and thus pave the way for enlarging the councils.

This sparked angry reaction from the Africans. In heated tones Diallo Telli of Guinea declared that Fedorenko had dashed the hopes of the Africans for effective action.

Expansion Approved

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—The Carroll County Capital Improvements Commission has approved a $377,000 expansion program of the school board.

The decision ended several months of wrangling between the commission and the board over construction of a new Oakland Mills Elementary School and expansion of Westminster Junior High School.

Sam Houston, American soldier and statesman, worked during his career as a clerk, teacher, lawyer, district attorney, major general of militia, U.S. congressman, governor of Tennessee and Texas, Indian chief and twice president of Texas.

Value Of U.S. Exports Up From Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department Thursday estimated the value of U.S. exports reached an annual rate of $21,963,000,000 during the first 10 months of this year.

The total was about 5 per cent higher than the rate for the same period last year.

However, the department also noted that the estimates of exports in October fell about 5 per cent from the September total.

Blind Girl Looking To Christmas

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Christine Larsen is pretty and blonde and is looking forward to Christmas with all the anticipation of any 6-year-old.

It hardly seems to matter to her that Christmas this year won't be like the other ones.

Christine lost her sight this year. Malignant tumors in both eyes necessitated their removal —one in February and the other in April.

"She's been real brave," said her father, Lloyd Larsen, an oil company mechanic. "She's kind of independent and has learned to dress herself, listens to television and plays with her two sisters, Linda, 5, and Julie, 1."

"We've ordered a bicycle built for two so someone could ride with her. Linda can help her ride it," Mrs. Larsen said.

"We helped her write to Santa asking for the bike. That's the main thing she's asked for."

The title of prime minister of England, although used in 1721, was not recognized until the early 1900s.

Soviet U.N. Veto Threat Arouses Anger Of Africans

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y (AP)—The Soviet Union finds itself in hot water with many African delegates in the wake of a renewed threat to veto moves for enlargement of major U.N. councils.

Soviet discomfiture over the angry reaction of the Africans could only cause chuckles in Peking, which has been a kind of a third party in the situation, U.N. diplomats said Thursday.

The Africans made plain their attitude in the General Assembly's 111-nation special political committee, which was debating proposals for enlargement of the security and the economic and social councils.

Outside the Soviet bloc and Cuba, virtually solid support has been voiced for a Latin-American resolution to enlarge the Security Council from 11 to 13 countries and the economic and social council from 18 to 24.

The added seats are designed to meet requests for greater representation from the African nations, which will have 34 seats in the United Nations, with the admission of Zanzibar and Kenya expected on Monday, bringing the total U.N. membership to 113.

The Asian-African group was reported ready to bring in their own resoution proposing that the Security Council be enlarged to 15 and the economic and social to 27 or 30.

Consultations were under way with the Latin-Americans in an effort to seek a compromise. The big Western powers are cool toward the scale of enlargement proposed by the Asian-Africans. They endorse the Latin-American move.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko reiterated in the special political committee on Tuesday that until Communist China is admitted to the United Nations nothing could be done on enlargement. He favored a redistribution of seats, which does not satisfy the Africans

Enlargement requires amendment of the U.N. charter. Soviet opposition was a threat to veto the proposed amendment. Ratification by all the five big powers is required.

Fedorenko told the committee the Soviet Union had approached Peking on the issue and was informed that the Chinese Communists would make no commitment on the total number of seats in U.N. councils.

He advised the Asians and Africans to give unanimous support to admission of Communist China and thus pave the way for enlarging the councils.

This sparked angry reaction from the Africans. In heated tones Diallo Telli of Guinea declared that Fedorenko had dashed the hopes of the Africans for effective action.

Expansion Approved

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—The Carroll County Capital Improvements Commission has approved a $377,000 expansion program of the school board.

The decision ended several months of wrangling between the commission and the board over construction of a new Oakland Mills Elementary School and expansion of Westminster Junior High School.

Sam Houston, American soldier and statesman, worked during his career as a clerk, teacher, lawyer, district attorney, major general of militia, U.S. congressman, governor of Tennessee and Texas, Indian chief and twice president of Texas.

Georgetown Home Purchased By Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy Was Built For Beall Family In 1794

The historic home in the Georgetown section of Washington that has been purchased by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has an association with Allegany County, and with the family of U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall in particular.

The three-story brick building is one of the oldest in Georgetown, being constructed in 1794 by Ninian Beall for a son, Thomas Beall.

Ninian Beall, great-great-great-grandfather of Sen. Beall, was a wealthy settler in Maryland who owned plantations in Prince Georges County near Bladensburg.

The son, Thomas Beall, was one of 16 children by two wives of Ninian Beall. Thomas also farmed near Bladensburg before moving to Allegany County where he purchased a farm along Evitts Creek, near Cumberland.

Thomas had a son, Dennis Beall, who served in the War of 1812, rising to the rank of captain. Dennis Beall in turn had a son, Richard, who was the father of Olin Beall, the father of Sen. Beall.

Records in the Beall family disclose the fact that the Bealls at one time owned much of the Dumbarton Oaks area of Georgetown where the major nations of the world held an historic conference in 1944 that led to the formation of the United Nations organization.

Occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James McMillen Gibson before its sale to Mrs. Kennedy, the home formerly was the residence of the late Admiral Alan G. Kirk and former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker. It is directly across the street from the residence of Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, where Mrs. Kennedy and her family are temporarily living.

Mrs. Kennedy is expected to move into the historic residence in mid-January. She and her two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, will go to Palm Beach for the Christmas season they traditionally spend with their grandparents there.

The ancestral Beall home has 14 rooms. On the first floor, to the left of the center hallway, is a spacious drawing room, with a fireplace and French doors leading out to a flagstone patio. To the right of the center hall is the dining room, and behind it, the kitchen, laundry room and servant quarters.

A master bedroom, large dressing room, library and small office, each with a fireplace, are on the second floor. There are four large bedrooms and a small workroom on the third floor.

A small elevator at the front of the house goes up to the third floor.

The 169-year-old home had been placed on the market for some time listed at $225,000. Recently, the asking price had been dropped to about $190,000, according to real estate agents in the Washington area.

A brother of the late President, U. S. Senator Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, had looked at the home several months ago before renting another residence in Georgetown.

Georgetown is a commercial and residential area founded even before the District of Columbia was established.

Even Boy Scout Labor Can't Be That Cheap

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Paint the whole of the inside of a house for a shilling (14 cents)?

That's what a South African woman expected a Boy Scout to do.

The Scout was one of this country's 42,00 engaged on their annual "bob-a-job" campaign to raise money for their national association's funds. (A bob in British slang is a shilling.)

Now the Scouts, who collected the equivalent of $42,000 last year, have been told what sort of odd jobs they should do for a bob. Painting all of the interior of a house is excluded.

There are six so-called platinum metals, ruthenium being the last to be isolated about a century ago.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — David Niven stars in a new television series next year playing an international thief, a job for which he is well-suited.

Personally, David has never been known to steal anything but a scene from another actor, a form of thievery which has made him one of Hollywood's best actors and an Academy Award winner.

Niven's qualifications as an international thief come from the fact that he can act convincingly as one, has probably met a few, and is always going to far off places.

The Scottish actor, a long-time resident of Hollywood, has been living in Switzerland for the past few years. But he's liable to turn up any place — Spain, Italy, England, France and various Greek islands.

David is one of those traveling actors. He follows a movie production, staying in a town long enough to say his lines, grab the money and run. Once the cameras stop, Niven starts packing.

The popular star came back to Hollywood for a short stay, long enough to appear in an episode of a new video series, "The Rogues."

"This is an idea I dreamed up originally so they asked me to come over and kick it off," David said. "I'm going to do four. They're hour-long shows. The series is about an international family of crooks."

Besides Niven, the series will co-star Charles Boyer and Gig Young. Among the three of them, they plan globe-girdling shenanigans.

"I'm based in Europe, Charles in Paris and Gig in America," David said. "We're loose cousins. And we only steal from dreadful people. Gladys Cooper plays a sort of elderly aunt to everybody when he have a summit meeting. The show will be in this proportion. Gig does 20 episodes, Charles and I four or five."

Niven will be his own boss in the series. It's being produced by Four Star Television, the firm he, Boyer and the late Dick Powell started. The three of them also appeared in "Four Star Playhouse" back in television's earlier days.

"We cracked the game for television," said David, who now spends almost all his time making movies. "We were the first names to go into television. It started the company."

This year has been a difficult one for Four Star, in both a personal and professional sense. The firm's president, Dick Powell, died in January. And the company's production schedule has been mediocre.

"We're coming back," said Niven. "It wasn't a miserable year financially. We didn't have a lot of shows. But oddly enough when you have a few shows you make more money, you don't have overhead."

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
6 NT	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♠

North's aggressive bidding paid a handsome premium when his partner gave an excellent account of himself in manipulating the dummy.

North's jump to four no trump is a raise of South's rebid. It cannot be Blackwood, for there has been no agreement on a suit. North has 17 high-card points which is technically one shy of the requirements for extending a slam invitation to partner, since partner's one no trump rebid announces a maximum of about 15 points. North promoted his holding slightly since he had so many top controls. South proceeded to six no trump. His bid was in order since he had 15 high-card points when for all his partner knew he might have only 13.

West was at a loss to find a satisfactory lead against the no trump slam and finally, in the hope that it was the least of evils, he selected the four of spades — fourth best from his longest suit. Altho it was the only lead to drop a trick immediately, the final outcome would probably have been the same no matter what he played, for declarer can always manage the spades so as to take three tricks in the suit.

North's seven of spades won the first trick. It appeared that West had a stopper in the suit but, just to make certain, declarer led a spade from dummy to his king. When East discarded a diamond, South's suspicions were confirmed. He now had 11 tricks off the top with a chance to make a 12th if the diamonds were evenly divided. There were additional prospects involving a squeeze on one or both opponents. In order to set up the desired end position, however, a trick must be given up first, and South selected the club suit for the concession.

At trick three he led the six of clubs and played low from the dummy. East was in with the ten of clubs and he returned the suit. South cashed the other high club and now played the ace of spades. East had only red cards left and, whether he threw a heart or a diamond, he would have to surrender his protection in the suit and present declarer with his 12th trick.

Blind Youth Keeps Busy

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Bucher, 21, has been blind since an illness struck nine years ago, but he leads an active life as a coin dealer, stamp collector, jewelry maker, miniature golfer and bowler.

The youth operates a coin and gift shop, grading coins with his fingertips and using a Braille price tag system for his merchandise. In bowling, where his average is 121, he lines himself up with the ball return before taking three steps, and in golf he locates the ball and hole, then paces out the ball's route before sending it on its way.

The drum is the oldest musical percussion instrument.

Queen Mary of Scotland is believed to have been the first woman golfer.

Ballet Schedule Set

LONDON (UPI)—Ballet dancers Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev, who defected from the Soviet Union, will perform in San Francisco and Los Angeles next month, it was announced Wednesday. They will give four performances in each city with the San Francisco Ballet.

Becomes Popular

EDINBURGH, Scotland (UPI) —The registrar general of Scotland said Wednesday that Jacqueline is becoming more and more popular as a name for Scottish babies. This trend apparently reflects the influence of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

The heating of wood in order to convert it into carbon or charcoal may have been the first chemical process discovered by man.

Mother seals do not teach their young to swim. The babies do not swim at birth, but must learn as pups.

PE Generating Station Work Progressing

Various phases of work on the Potomac Edison Company's giant new Fort Martin generating station is progressing rapidly. The site of the plant, pictured above, on the Monongahela River near Point Marion, Pa. has been cleared and various tests and engineering studies are underway. Actual construction of the $57.5 million unit will get underway next Spring. PE and its sister company, Monongahela Power Company, will share the initial cost for the 500,000 kilowatt generating unit.

Oldtown Faculty Continues Study Of Drop Outs

OLDTOWN — The study of the dropout problem was continued at the December faculty meeting at Oldtown School.

Mrs. Phyllis Bowers, chairman of the panel, introduced the meeting topic, "The Study of Programs Designed to Develop and Improve the Reading Skills, Mechanics, and Work Habits of all Pupils in All Grades."

She was assisted by Miss Mabel Twigg and Mrs. Mary Smith. A survey of the dropout problem made in Maryland was presented.

Miss Twigg discussed the reading skills and mechanics which are taught in the primary grades and some of the approaches used.

Mrs. Smith elaborated on how reading improvement is continued in the upper grades and how pupils who need corrective and remedial reading are provided for in the daily schedule.

The Webster Reading and Spelling Program designed by Dr. Dolch to meet the needs of retarded children and used in the fourth and fifth grades was explained by William Patton.

Mrs. Bowers evaluated the discussion by pointing out the importance of recognizing the individual differences in children and meeting these differences with a variety of materials.

The meeting was concluded with the observation that many dropouts could be prevented by the improvements of all students' reading ability.

PS Scholarship Program Is Explained In Letter

KEYSER — Prof. Norman E. Rodgers chairman of the Potomac State Scholarship Committee, has announced that letter explaining the scholarship program of the college for the coming year will be sent out to all high schools in West Virginia and 24 schools in surrounding states on or about Jan. 1.

Scholarship to be offered are the Faculty Club Scholarship, Claude Worthington Benedum Scholarships, Board of Governors, Scholarship, and the new Kirkland S. McKee Memorial Scholarship, established by Boyce-Houser Post 41 of the American Legion in Keyser.

Applicants for a scholarship should proceed as follows:

1. Make a formal appliciation for admission to the Freshman Class by obtaining an application form from the Registrar of the college, filling it out properly, and submitting it to the Registrar.

2. Ask the high school principal to send to the chairman of the scholarship committee a transcript of all grades for the applicant's high school career, up to and including the first semester of the senior year.

3. Complete the application form carefully and give to the high school principal or guidance counselor, who will complete the form and mail it to the college scholarship committee.

Pa. Teachers Qualify In CD Course

SOMERSET — Department of Public Instruction has certified 11 Somerset county teachers as instructors of a civil defense course, "Individual, Family and Community Protection."

Fifteen hours of training provided these 11 teachers the necessary background to teach survival training to adults of the county. The training will be made available to citizens of the county through the public school system using public school facilities.

Information is available from the chief school administrators of the various school districts or from Ralph E. Barnett, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Barnett said many organizations have expressed interest in the program.

The course is available to community organizations and other groups that might be interested in the civil defense program.

It is believed by school officials the course will clear up many of the misunderstanding or misinformation about the effects of a nuclear war.

Those receiving certificates from the local area were:

John W. Barlow, Addison, teacher in Turkeyfoot Valley Area; John E. Benson, Salisbury, supervising principal, Salisbury-Elk Lick joint schools; Ray E. Bright, high school principal in Meyersdale joint district; Donald W. Critchfield, Salisbury, teacher in Salisbury-Elk Lick joint high school.

Robert G. Edwards, Meyersdale elementary principal in Meyersdale joint schools; Charles F. Morocco and George O. Pfrogner, both of Somerset and teachers in Somerset Area high school.

Moose Will Hold Party For Children

FROSTBURG—Frostburg Lodge 348, LOOMoose and Frostburg Chapter 221, Women of the Moose, will hold the annual children's Christmas party Saturday from 2-4 p. m. in the Moose Home on East Main Street. David Merrill is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Pa. Teachers Qualify In CD Course

SOMERSET — Department of Public Instruction has certified 11 Somerset county teachers as instructors of a civil defense course, "Individual, Family and Community Protection."

Fifteen hours of training provided these 11 teachers the necessary background to teach survival training to adults of the county. The training will be made available to citizens of the county through the public school system using public school facilities.

Information is available from the chief school administrators of the various school districts or from Ralph E. Barnett, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Barnett said many organizations have expressed interest in the program.

The course is available to community organizations and other groups that might be interested in the civil defense program.

It is believed by school officials the course will clear up many of the misunderstanding or misinformation about the effects of a nuclear war.

Those receiving certificates from the local area were:

John W. Barlow, Addison, teacher in Turkeyfoot Valley Area; John E. Benson, Salisbury, supervising principal, Salisbury-Elk Lick joint schools; Ray E. Bright, high school principal in Meyersdale joint district; Donald W. Critchfield, Salisbury, teacher in Salisbury-Elk Lick joint high school.

Robert G. Edwards, Meyersdale elementary principal in Meyersdale joint schools; Charles F. Morocco and George O. Pfrogner, both of Somerset and teachers in Somerset Area high school.

Oldtown Faculty Continues Study Of Drop Outs

OLDTOWN — The study of the dropout problem was continued at the December faculty meeting at Oldtown School.

Mrs. Phyllis Bowers, chairman of the panel, introduced the meeting topic, "The Study of Programs Designed to Develop and Improve the Reading Skills, Mechanics, and Work Habits of all Pupils in All Grades."

She was assisted by Miss Mabel Twigg and Mrs. Mary Smith. A survey of the dropout problem made in Maryland was presented.

Miss Twigg discussed the reading skills and mechanics which are taught in the primary grades and some of the approaches used.

Mrs. Smith elaborated on how reading improvement is continued in the upper grades and how pupils who need corrective and remedial reading are provided for in the daily schedule.

The Webster Reading and Spelling Program designed by Dr. Dolch to meet the needs of retarded children and used in the fourth and fifth grades was explained by William Patton.

Mrs. Bowers evaluated the discussion by pointing out the importance of recognizing the individual differences in children and meeting these differences with a variety of materials.

The meeting was concluded with the observation that many dropouts could be prevented by the improvements of all students' reading ability.

Christmas Cantata Planned Sunday At Meyersdale Church

MEYERSDALE—The choir of the Meyersdale Brethren Church will present John Peterson's Christmas cantata, "Love Transcending," on Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Dean Hillegas, Mrs. Irene Seigner, Mrs. Walter Witt, Mrs. William Murray, Mrs. Joe Janis and Miss Sharon soprano, Mrs. Leroy Bittner, Mrs. Edward Hillegas, Miss Emma Bowman and Mrs. William Snell, alto.

Howard Nicklow and Silas Twigg, tenor; Dean Hillegas, James Miller, Emmett Compton, William Heffern, and Rev. William Snell, pastor, bass.

The public is invited to attend.

PS Scholarship Program Is Explained In Letter

KEYSER — Prof. Norman E. Rodgers chairman of the Potomac State Scholarship Committee, has announced that letter explaining the scholarship program of the college for the coming year will be sent out to all high schools in West Virginia and 24 schools in surrounding states on or about Jan. 1.

Scholarship to be offered are the Faculty Club Scholarship, Claude Worthington Benedum Scholarships, Board of Governors, Scholarship, and the new Kirkland S. McKee Memorial Scholarship, established by Boyce-Houser Post 41 of the American Legion in Keyser.

Applicants for a scholarship should proceed as follows:

1. Make a formal appliciation for admission to the Freshman Class by obtaining an application form from the Registrar of the college, filling it out properly, and submitting it to the Registrar.

2. Ask the high school principal to send to the chairman of the scholarship committee a transcript of all grades for the applicant's high school career, up to and including the first semester of the senior year.

3. Complete the application form carefully and give to the high school principal or guidance counselor, who will complete the form and mail it to the college scholarship committee.

Australia is often called the land of living fossils. It is the home of the world's only egg-laying mammals and most of the surviving marsupials.

A typical European plant, using identical equipment, has to employ two to three times as many workers as an American plant to get the same output.

Floras Of West Virginia Are Ideal For Apiculture

"No metallic gold has ever been found in West Virginia, but liquid gold is waiting on the mountain slopes to be taken by those who know how to cooperate with nature. This liquid gold is in the form of flower nectar, the source of honey, one of mankind's earliest and healthiest food."

This view has been expressed in a newsletter by Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, who says the state honey commands a high price in the market place today, but the supply of honey from the Mountain State has dwindled well over two million pounds a year in the 1930's to about 1,700,000 pounds in recent years.

A reduction of nectar-yielding crops is usually blamed for this decline, but the fact remains that the vast forests of West Virginia offer a virtually untapped source of honey for beekeepers.

The floras of West Virginia, he says, are ideally suited to apiculture, according to bee specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The absence of non bee-pollinated crops — particularly corn, wheat and other grains — and the prevalence of buckwheat, fruits and forest trees and shrubs that depend on bees, make the Mountain State a potential golden horn of honey. Our state flower, for example, the rhododendron, is one of the best honey sources available, he said.

The seasonal honeyflow in West Virginia, according to reports gathered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, begins with the flowering of fruits, from approximately April 1 to mid May. Clover is in bloom in June and July, and sumac and basswood bloom in July. In September and October beekeepers depend primarily on goldenrod and asters.

The forest floors in our mountains are literally carpeted with hundreds of wildflowers which offer the finest nectar in the world for honeybees, and there is a steady progression of blooms from early Spring to late Autumn. This liquid gold, now neglected or gathered only by wild bees, is awaiting to fall into the hands of enterprising beekeepers.

B&O Christmas Tree To Be Lighted Saturday

BALTIMORE — Trimming and lighting of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Holly Tree-by-the-Tracks at Jackson, Md., and a program of noontime carol concerts to be presented by the B & O Glee Club in the lobby of the B & O Building in Baltimore, will highlight a program of Christmas events planned by the railroad.

Lights on the fifty-foot holly tree will go on Saturday and the tree will remain lighted from dusk to dawn through January 1.

The giant tree will be trimmed by B & O employes and members of their families who have volunteered for the big job, to perpetuate a Christmas tradition of 16 years' standing.

The volunteer trimmers, organized by James A. Caywood, chief engineer of the company, will use strato-tower cranes to hang lights and ornaments on the topmost branches of the towering holly.

B & O trainmen, dining car waiters, ticket sellers and others serving the public will again wear red-berried sprigs from the big tree during the holiday season.

The tree, growing naturally beside the B & O's main line between Baltimore and Philadelphia, is located 40 miles northeast of Baltimore, just off U.S. Route 40, at a point two miles north of the Susquehanna River Bridge.

With its thousands of twinkling lights and ornaments, the B & O tree — sometimes referred to as the "Travelers' Christmas Tree" — has become one of the principal holiday attractions in Maryland. More than 500,000 people have visited the site since the tree was first decorated in 1948.

The B & O's Christmas concerts, in the lobby of its general office building, are sceduled for Thursday, December 19, at 12 noon; December 20 at 12:30 p.m., and December 23 at 12:30 p.m.

The concerts will feature singing by a chorus from the B & O Glee Club, under the direction of Sherodd Albritton, with Milton Hodgson as accompanist.

David John Lowe, Ralph H. Rexroth, Frank Brown and other B & O organists will also play Christmas carols and anthems.

The singers and organists will appear on one of the imposing marble stairways in the lobby of the B & O building.

The public is invited to visit the railroad's decorated tree at Jackson and to attend the noon-hour concerts.

Advent Quiet Day Tomorrow

FROSTBURG—Weekend events at St. John's Episcopal Church will include an Advent Quiet Day on Saturday, beginning with the Eucharist at noon.

Lunch in the parish hall will be followed by meditations given at 1, 2, and 3 p.m. by Rev. Henry Hill, O.G.S. and the service will conclude with Evening Prayer at 4 p.m.

On Sunday, the third Sunday in the Advent, is "Canterbury Sunday." Rev. John Paul Carter, secretary of College Work in the Third Province of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will preach at the 10:30 a.m. service of Holy Communion, and Miss Patricia Berlingeri, president of the Frostburg State College Canterbury Club will read the Epistle lesson.

Consultant Visits Faraway Places

PIEDMONT—Sarah E. Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sweeney, of Weston, formerly of Piedmont, is getting to know those far-off places pictured in the colorful brochures, according to an article in a recent issue of the Boston Globe.

Miss Sweeney, travel consultant for Raymond Whitecomb company, recently returned from a 23-day BOAC-sponsored agents' tour of the Far East. The tour included a study of Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Singapore. Their agents recently toured the Caribbean with Pan American, visited Hawaii and the West Coast with United Airlines and cruised through the West Indies on Swedish American ships. In December of 1962 Miss Sweeney toured New Zealand and Australia in the interests of her company.

Aged To Get Yule Gifts

FROSTBURG — The Gleaners Class of First Methodist Church held its annual jingle party with each member bringing a gift for the Asbury Home for the Aged at Gaithersburg and making a donation to the Board of Child Care.

Mabel Elliott, president of the class opened the meeting with a poem entitled, "The Night That Love Came Down."

"Our Gifts and Giving," a meditation was given by Bernice Kohout, teacher of the class.

Group singing of Christmas Carols was held with Margaret Jones leading and Frances Ives accompanist.

The committee in charge was Harriett Elias, Velma Neal, Mary Jane Iden, Thelma Mackay, Ethel Wolfe, Violette Johnson and Margaret McMorran.

The next meeting will be held January 2 with Frances Ives, Mary J. Smith, Elsie Conrad, Rose Croft, Vanetta Powell and Elvira Nelson on the committee.

Consultant Visits Faraway Places

PIEDMONT—Sarah E. Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Sweeney, of Weston, formerly of Piedmont, is getting to know those far-off places pictured in the colorful brochures, according to an article in a recent issue of the Boston Globe.

Miss Sweeney, travel consultant for Raymond Whitecomb company, recently returned from a 23-day BOAC-sponsored agents' tour of the Far East. The tour included a study of Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok and Singapore. Their agents recently toured the Caribbean with Pan American, visited Hawaii and the West Coast with United Airlines and cruised through the West Indies on Swedish American ships. In December of 1962 Miss Sweeney toured New Zealand and Australia in the interests of her company.

Aged To Get Yule Gifts

FROSTBURG — The Gleaners Class of First Methodist Church held its annual jingle party with each member bringing a gift for the Asbury Home for the Aged at Gaithersburg and making a donation to the Board of Child Care.

Mabel Elliott, president of the class opened the meeting with a poem entitled, "The Night That Love Came Down."

"Our Gifts and Giving," a meditation was given by Bernice Kohout, teacher of the class.

Group singing of Christmas Carols was held with Margaret Jones leading and Frances Ives accompanist.

The committee in charge was Harriett Elias, Velma Neal, Mary Jane Iden, Thelma Mackay, Ethel Wolfe, Violette Johnson and Margaret McMorran.

The next meeting will be held January 2 with Frances Ives, Mary J. Smith, Elsie Conrad, Rose Croft, Vanetta Powell and Elvira Nelson on the committee.

ABL Employes Pledge CUF Over $45,000

Christmas Basket Distribution Set

Over $45,000 has been pledged to the 1964 County United Fund by employes of Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, it was disclosed during the first meeting of the 1964 ABL Charities Fund Committee.

Roy P. Satzer, cnairman, said results of the ABL Charities Fund drive showed that 90 per cent of ABL employes participated to contribute a total of $48,068.08 for 1964. This is approximately 80 per cent of the $60,000 goal set for the campaign.

A contingency fund of approximately $6,000 will also be available by January 1 for contributions to charities by the Charities Fund.

The committee is at present making preparations to distribute 120 Christmas food baskets to area needy families, a custom which began at ABL 16 years ago. Food items for the baskets have been ordered and will be delivered to Building 256 where the baskets will be prepared for delivery on Monday, December 23.

Mr. Satzer also reported that the final payment of $22,050 on the 1963 CUF pledge has been paid. He announced that recent contributions made by the Charities Fund included $50 to the Boy Scouts of America at Romney, W. Va., and $25 to the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association.

Mr. Satzer and members of the committee extended thanks and appreciation to employes who participated in the 1964 ABL Charities Fund campaign. Special thanks were issued to all those who helped with the drive, solicitors and members of the Golden Gifts team.

"The best reward of all," Mr. Satzer, added, "is the knowledge that you have helped those needy persons in the area who look to us for aid."

Post Office Hours Cited

FROSTBURG — Beginning Saturday, window service at the Frostburg Post Office will be available from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and Sundays from noon to 4 p. m., according to Postmaster Joseph E. Kenney.

Mr. Kenney also noted that if persons use the new five-cent Christmas tree stamps on Yuletide cards they will be sorted and delivered first. He pointed out that if the sender includes his return address with his ZIP Code number on each card envelope, the mail will be forwarded in the event of a change of address or, if undeliverable, returned for correction on his or her mailing list.

Christmas stickers or seals should be put on the back of Christmas cards and packages, he said. Christmas packages should be mailed before tomorrow and cards before Sunday to insure delivery before December 25.

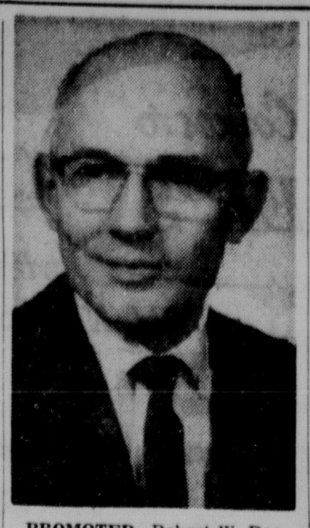
Three Fugitives Are Arrested

SHINNSTON, W. Va. (UPI)— State Police apprehended three fugitives, who escaped from Moundsville Penitentiary's honor camp Sunday night, at the home of a relative of one of them here Thursday.

Two officers went to the home of the grandmother of Thurman B. Drain, 18, after a neighbor tipped police that they were in this area. Cpl. E. E. Rice said the men were not armed and offered no resistance.

Drain was sentenced to 1-to-5 years in Harrison County for false pretenses. His companions, Edward Lee Hall, 23, Wyoming County and Roger Huhleman, 20, McDowell County, were sentenced to 1-to-10 years for burglary and larceny.

Authorities believe the men stole a car in Wheeling Wednesday and drove it to Taylor County where they wrecked and abandoned the vehicle. Rice said the men refused to say how they made the trip.



PROMOTED—Robert W. Doe, Shawnee Road, Westernport, has been promoted to pulping superintendent of the Luke mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and replaces Paul Bowman who retired last October 1 after 34 years as pulping superintendent. Mr. Doe has been associated with the Westvaco organization for 24 years starting at the company's Mechanicville, N.Y. mill in 1939 after graduating from the University of Maine with a degree in chemical engineering. He had been assistant pulping superintendent at the Luke mill since September 1, 1962.

Sacred Music Program Set

PIEDMONT—A candlelight program of sacred music will be presented by Bruce High School Senior Mixed Chorus Sunday at 8 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church.

The service will open with a processional, "O Come All Ye Faithful" and continue with "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence" and two selections from Ben Hur, "Adoration of the Magi" and "The Christ Theme".

A cantata, "Love Transcending" by John W. Peterson, will follow. Thomas Garcia will narrate this part of the program.

Soloists are Carol Conner, Doris Warnick, Richard Bosley, Judy Keller and Patricia Halterman. Miss Betty Jean Withrow, faculty member, will direct music and Miss Beverly White will play the organ and piano accompaniment.

Yule Dinner Held

FROSTBURG — The Helping Hands Society of Eckhart Methodist Church held their Christmas dinner at Moon's Dining Room recently. Alice Crowe presented the program which included carol singing. Jingle gifts were exchanged.

Church Dinner Set

GRANTSVILLE — The Church School of Christ Lutheran Church will hold a covered dish dinner and Christmas program Sunday at 4 p. m.

Barton Bank To Display Bogus Money Next Week

BARTON — Residents of this community will have an opportunity next week to test their skill at detecting conterfeit currency at the First National Bank which will have an exhibit of real and counterfeit money on display, said J. Joseph Howell, cashier.

The exhibit, obtained from the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, will include denominations of currency ranging from $5 to $100 bills arranged side by side so that the viewer may try his luck at deciding which bill of each set if genuine and which is counterfeit.

When a button corresponding to the number of each note is pressed, a light flashes. The green light means go — you can spend it. The red light means stop — it's counterfeit.

"Many people don't stop to look at their money," Mr. Howell said," and although some bogus bills are very skillfully reproduced, many counterfeit notes are easy to spot."

Telltale signs of counterfeit money include irregular serial numbers, off color numbers and seals, and the ommission of silk threads in the paper of the bill.

Mr. Howell also noted that flaws can be found in the portrait of the bill. The hairline and eyes may be slightly irregular and the screening around the portrait may not be as well defined, he said.

Meeting Monday

FROSTBURG — The Frostburg Badminton Club will meet Monday for play, said Al Ganyu, president. The group has decided not to play on December 23 but will resume play on December 30 at 8 p. m.

Residents of Keyser, Burlington, Headsville and Beryl will register from 1 to 4 p.m. today and from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday at the United Charities office in the Moose Home.

Persons in Elk Garden, Shaw, Blaine, Hartmansville and Emoryville will sign up from 1 to 4 p. m. today and Saturday at the town office in Elk Garden.

Residents of Short Gap, Fort Ashby, Ridgeley and Wiley Ford will register from 1 to 4 p. m. today and Saturday at the American Legion Home in Ridgeley.

Supper Planned

PAW PAW—A spaghetti supper will be held Saturday from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. in the social room of Paw Paw Methodist Church. Music will be provided.

School Faculty Holds Party

FROSTBURG — The faculty of Beall Elementary and Junior High School held its Christmas party at the Clary Club.

Following the dinner, group carol singing was held with Mrs. Louise Sauder leading and Miss Julie Hendricks, accompanist.

Attending were Mr. & Mrs. Earl F. Brain, Mr. & Mrs. Ralph Bender, Mr. & Mrs. Raymond Sauder, Mr. & Mrs. Harry Wilson, Miss Anna Thomas, Mrs. Myra Taylor, Mrs. Blanche Felker, Mrs. Edna Beeman, Mrs. Helen Filer, Miss Athalia Everline.

Mrs. Dorothy Beall, Mrs. Daisie Lloyd, Mrs. Margaret Layman, Mrs. Rita Clark, Miss Kathleen Cooper, Miss Hendricks, Miss Catherine Goldsworthy, Miss Mary Hanson, J. H. Hanson.

Cristobal Colon Peak in Columbia, 18,947 feet high, is the loftiest coastal mountain mass in the world.

Well Baby Clinic Scheduled Today

MT. SAVAGE — A well baby clinic will be held today at 1 p. m. in the health room of Mt Savage School by Dr. Martin Rothstein. Mrs. Betty Werner, health nurse, will assist.

Attending aides will be Mrs. Virginia Crump, Mrs. Evelyn Crowe, Mrs. Dorothy Dickel, Mrs. Adeline Sherman and Mrs. Ruth Lancaster.

A soap bubble will freeze into a glassy bubble of ice if held over a pan of liquid air.

'Y' Programs Are Offered To Children

Children eight years of age and older are eligible to participate in two Central YMCA Saturday Merry-Go-Round programs which will begin on January 11 and April 4.

YMCA members may participate in the program at no extra charge and all other youth may take part in the activity at a special eight-week course membership rate.

Classes will include baton twirling, archery and air rifle instruction, knitting and crochetting, French and Spanish, model airplane building and art.

Instructors for the classes are Mrs. Hamilton Lochner, Spanish; Miss Linda Golden, French; Jack Hamilton, and Carl Puffenberger, archery and air rifle; Richard Miller, model airplanes; Mrs. Eva Stein, knitting and crochetting; Kenneth Corn, art; and Miss Helen Brook, baton twirling.

Registration may be made by calling the YMCA or mailing the information to the Y main office. Upon enrollment, parents are urged to state which educational class the child desires.

Over 300 boys and girls participated in the program which was offered earlier this year, said Benjamin F. Haines, Y program director.

W. Va. Birthday Marked At Library Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prof. Festus P. Summers of West Virginia University delivered the chief address Thursday at the Library of Congress where an exhibit observing the state's 100th anniversary opened.

Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., presided at the ceremonies and L. Quincy Mumford, librarian, welcomed guests to the exhibit.

On display were nearly 200 manuscripts, broadsides, newspapers, rare books, maps, prints, drawings and photographs. They were selected chiefly from the library's collections.

The exhibits covered such topics as exploration, settlement, border wars, the Civil War, statehood, industry, commerce and resorts.

The exhibits will remain on view through the summer of 1964.

Summers traced the history of his state from its inception as "a child of revolution and civil war." He recited the state's accomplishments and its "shame" —its economic history through its extractive industries.

In summing up, Summers said:

"West Virginia has been called a paradoxical state. Perhaps it is. It does seem odd that a people who preferred John C. Breckinridge for president in 1960 should close ranks behind Abraham Lincoln in 1861; that the state with perhaps the highest birth rate in the nation should lead the states in population decline; that a state which stands so high in illegitimacy, ranks so low in juvenile delinquency; that a state born of violence and picturesquely natured by feud and industrial warfare can now claim one of the lowest crime rates in the nation; that West Virginia, a Protestant state, with a snugly fitting Bible belt, proudly made it possible for the first Roman Catholic to be elected President, the lamented great President we deeply mourn."

Friday The 13th

Superstitious persons are reminded that today is Friday the 13th.

The 13th also fell on Friday in September this year, and next year the months of March and November each will have one of these superstitious days.

YMCA Will Hold Yule Activities

Central YMCA program secretary Benjamin Haines announces that the YMCA will offer boys and girls two special Christmas week programs.

On Saturday, December 21, there will be a YMCA chaperoned trip to visit the Buhl Planetrium and ride the Pittsburgh Incline in Pittsburgh. At the planetarium, children will see the skyshow, "The First Christmas" and the "Christmas time" train show.

The YMCA bus will leave at 8:30 a. m. and return by 8:30 p. m. Trip leaders on the bus will be under the direction of Mr. Haines.

Saturday, December 28 at noon will be the annual YMCA Christmas Party. Children will have a hot dog lunch, exchange 50 cent gifts, see a full-length feature movie and then swim in the YMCA pool.

Reservations for the trip or the party may be made by calling the YMCA at PA 4-5445.

13 Persons Apply For City Positions

Fort Hill At Home, Allegany And LaSalle Away For Games Tonight

Sentinels Host Eagles, Campers At Martinsburg

LaSalle To Invade Mt. Savage; Three Colleges On Road

Cumberland's three high school basketball teams will see action tonight but Fort Hill will be the only quint playing on its home court.

The Sentinels, who ran into an 81-65 beating at Romney Tuesday night, will tackle Quentin Sayers' Fort Ashby Eagles here tonight while Chet Payne's Allegany Campers test the Bulldogs at Martinsburg High School and LaSalle's Explorers tangle with John Thomas' powerhouse at Mt. Savage High School.

Fort Ashby dropped its opener to LaSalle, 59-55, lost to Romney, 72-64, and whipped Ridgeley (67-65), a team that handled Romney its lone defeat (73-63).

Opener For Martinsburg

Allegany's Campers kicked off the lid Wednesday by downing Bishop Guilfoyle of Altoona, 70-60. Tonight's game will mark the opening of the season for Roy Comer's Martinsburg quint, which lost three key players, Jimmy Burris, Jimmy Shields and John Reuter through graduation. Allegany trampled the Bulldogs last season, 68-29 and 71-46.

LaSalle, a 59-55 winner over Fort Ashby, ran into a 74-58 licking at the hands of Beall High here Tuesday night, and faces another tartar in Mt. Savage High School with its one-two punch in Ralph Wilson and Bobby Robertson, who shared 60 points in the Indians' 86-67 win over Ridgeley.

Valley, fresh from a 70-49 victory over Southern, tackles the Piedmont High Lions tonight at Lonaconing. The West Virginians thumped Petersburg Tuesday by the score of 80-41 and the game at 'Coney could be a close one.

Six Games In PVC

Six Friday night games are on tap in the Potomac Valley Conference. Ridgeley visits Beall, Romney goes into Garrett county to tackle Southern's Highlanders, Elk Garden hosts the Keyser High's Golden Tornado, Circleville entertains Franklin, which seeks its fourth straight win, Mathias invades Wardensville to do battle with Pete Vance's Warriors Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs entertain Bayard High School at Westernport.

Rounding out the Friday night scholastic schedule, Oldtown visits Hyndman, Paw Paw shoots for win No. 3 when it opposes Flintstone at Paw Paw, Northern's Huskies journey to Somerset county to play the Salisbury High Cardinals, John Mosby Academy of Fort Royal, Va., is at Capon Bridge, Shad Hunt's St. Marie Goretti cagers test Berkeley Springs' rampaging Indians at Hagerstown and the unbeaten Bedford High Bisons host Claysburg.

College Teams On Road

Potomac State College, Frostburg State College and Allegany Community College play away from home tonight. "Horse" Lough's Catamounts are at Charles Community College, LaPlata, Md., for a Tri-State Conference tilt. Alan Stockholm's Trojans meet oppose Prince Georges College at Suitland, Md., in a Tri-State loop game, and Dr. Van Ryswyk's Bobcats battle Towson State at Towson. Shepherd college plays two games at home, meeting West Liberty tonight and Alderson-Broaddus Saturday night.

Allegany Community winds up its two-game road trip at Charles College, Potomac State is at Prince Georges College and Frostburg invades Bowie for Saturday night engagements.

OFF TO GOOD START—Only 16, and the youngest jockey to ride at Aqueduct this year, Paul Maxwell led the riders at the Finger Lakes meeting prior to going to the Big "A," which now has closed. Maxwell lives with his parents at Cambria Heights, Queens, N. Y.

Royals Defeat Knicks, 112-102

Jack Twyman Heads Attack With 31

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Three old pros took up the slack as the Cincinnati Royals, minus Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas, defeated the New York Knickerbockers, 112 - 102, Thursday night in a National Basketball Association game.

Jack Twyman topped the Royals with 31 points, his high for the season, but it was his defensive performance that hurt the Knicks as much as his offensive work.

Twyman held Johnny Green scoreless in the first half and stole the ball eight times as the Royals repeatedly broke up New York scoring attempts.

Robertson was on the sidelines with a pulled thigh muscle and Lucas with a bruised lower back.

Wayne Embry pulled down 25 rebounds to lead the Royals to a 83-53 margin on the boards while scoring 26 points, and Arlen Bockhorn took over Oscar's playmaking role with 13 assists while scoring 12 points.

Len Chappell's 28 points led the Knicks.

Vedie Himsl Named Manager Of PCL Bees

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Veteran Vedie Himsl, a highly respected coach and scout in the Chicago Cub organization, Thursday was named manager of the Salt Lake Bees of the Pacific Coast League.

Himsl's appointment was announced at a press conference conducted by Mrs. Walter E. Cosgriff, president and general manager of the Bee team.

Himsl, a 12-year veteran in the Cub organization, will replace Elvin Tappe, also a member of the Chicago group. Tappe will return to the corps of rotating Cub coaches for instructional duties.

In announcing the appointment Mrs. Cosgriff said the Bee team felt fortunate in obtaining his services.

Himsl is a native of Plevna, Mont. His playing career included a five-year hitch with St. Paul as a pitcher, followed by three years as a player-coach in 1946.

In 1947 he was with the St. Louis Cardinal organization, serving as a minor league business manager, scout and coach. He joined the Cubs in 1952 and was formally placed on their coaching staff in 1960.

Blackwater Ski Area Has New Skating Pond

Cacapon Has Skiing, Sledding, Skating

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Natural Resources Director Warden Lane said Thursday three major state - operated recreation areas will remain open this winter.

They are Blackwater Falls State Park near Davis, Tucker County, Cacapon State Park near Berkeley Springs and Mont Chateau Lodge near Morgantown.

"Blackwater Falls has its own sled run, beginners' ski slope and tow," Lane said, "plus a new ice skating pond." Cacapon offers ice skating, sledding and skiing.

Municipal or privately - operated ski slopes are located at Weiss Knob and Cabin Mountain near Blackwater Falls. Chestnut Ridge ski slope adjoins Coopers Rock State Forest.

There also are ski facilities at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, and Bald Knob, near Beckley.

Blackwater Falls has 25 winterized cabins and 55 guest rooms in the lodge. Cacapon has 11 cabins and 50 guest rooms and Mont Chateau 55 guest rooms. Lane said bookings for December have been heavy but some accommodations still are available.

The State Ski meet is scheduled at Coopers Rock Jan. 11-12 and the State Ice Skating meet Jan. 19. The annual Alpine Festival will be held at Blackwater Falls Jan. 24-26.

Accommodations at Babcock, Bluestone, Holly River, Lost River, Tygart Lake and Watoga State Parks now are closed until spring.

Chargers' Lincoln May Miss Big Game

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The San Diego Chargers' hopes of beating the Houston Oilers Sunday were jarred anew Thursday by the probable loss due to illness of fullback Keith Lincoln.

Coach Sid Gillman announced that Lincoln may be out of the lineup because he continues to suffer from headaches resulting from a concussion suffered in last week's 41-27 loss to the Oakland Raiders.

Ed Brown Week's Top NFL Player

Steeler Veteran's Daring Recognized

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ed Brown, the National Football League player of the week, said Thursday he wished the honor would have come one week later —after the Pittsburgh Steelers' Eastern title battle with the New York Giants.

"Gosh," said Brown, "that's great. I'm tickled, but I wish it could have waited until after we had beaten the Giants. This is the important one."

Brown learned of his selection just before the Steelers worked out in snow four inches deep for Sunday's winner-take-all battle with the Giants.

The winner is the Eastern Division champion and goes to the title game against either the Chicago Bears or the Green Bay Packers.

The Steelers have never won the conference title. The closest they came was in 1947 when they tied Philadelphia in the regular season but lost 21-0 in the playoff.

Brown, a grizzled veteran of 10 years in the pro ranks and playing his second year for the Steelers, won the award for his bold fourth-down 42-yard pass to Red Mack against Dallas last Sunday that started Pittsburgh on a winning drive.

With 3½ minutes remaining, Brown hit Mack for the big gain and the Steelers kept rolling until Theron Sapp bolted 24 yards for a 24-19 victory that moved the Steelers into position to cop the division crown.

Packers Could Win And Still Lose The Title

Green Bay Faces 49ers Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Green Bay battles for a chance at a title and San Francisco battles for jobs Saturday when the two National Football League clubs meet at Kezar Stadium.

A national television audience will watch the Packers try to maintain their shot at a fourth straight Western Conference championship.

"This is one we've got to win," declared coach Vince Lombardi after the final Green Bay workout. "Everybody knows that."

The Packers could win and still lose the title. They can't lose and still win. They now stand 10-2-1 compared with 10-1-2 for the Chicago Bears, who meet Detroit on Sunday.

Two San Francisco players definitely will be playing their final games - defensive tackle Leo Nomellini and fullback Joe Perry. Both veterans have said they will retire.

Other 49ers may unknowingly be playing their finale since the San Francisco club has posted only a 2-11 record and jobs will be wide open for rookies next summer.

Despite the poor record, Lombardi isn't overlooking the 49ers —they handed the Bears their only defeat of the season.

Angel Batterymen To Report Early

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Angels announced Thursday that their pitchers and catchers will get an early start on spring training, reporting to the American League club's camp at Palm Springs Feb. 17.

General Manager Fred Haney said the rest of the squad would report a week later, getting down to work Feb. 25.

"We feel this early start enables our pitchers and catchers to get the winter kinks out of their arms easily rather than trying to rush into things," Haney said.

And the Angels again will ride bicycles from their hotel to Angels' Stadium where the squad holds its spring training. The players have been using bikes for the past two seasons and Haney said it proved helpful in the conditioning program.

Georgetown Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — Georgetown combined a varied offense with the multiple talents of young Jimmy Brown for an easy 98-87 victory over Manhattan Thursday night in the opener of a Madison Square Garden basketball doubleheader.

Toledo played New York University, ranked second in the nation, in the nightcap.

Fort Hill At Home, Allegany And LaSalle Away For Games Tonight

Sentinels Host Eagles, Campers At Martinsburg

LaSalle To Invade Mt. Savage; Three Colleges On Road

Cumberland's three high school basketball teams will see action tonight but Fort Hill will be the only quint playing on its home court.

The Sentinels, who ran into an 81-65 beating at Romney Tuesday night, will tackle Quentin Sayers' Fort Ashby Eagles here tonight while Chet Payne's Allegany Campers test the Bulldogs at Martinsburg High School and LaSalle's Explorers tangle with John Thomas' powerhouse at Mt. Savage High School.

Fort Ashby dropped its opener to LaSalle, 59-55, lost to Romney, 72-64, and whipped Ridgeley (67-65), a team that handled Romney its lone defeat (73-63).

Opener For Martinsburg

Allegany's Campers kicked off the lid Wednesday by downing Bishop Guilfoyle of Altoona, 70-60. Tonight's game will mark the opening of the season for Roy Comer's Martinsburg quint, which lost three key players, Jimmy Burris, Jimmy Shields and John Reuter through graduation. Allegany trampled the Bulldogs last season, 68-29 and 71-46.

LaSalle, a 59-55 winner over Fort Ashby, ran into a 74-58 licking at the hands of Beall High here Tuesday night, and faces another tartar in Mt. Savage High School with its one-two punch in Ralph Wilson and Bobby Robertson, who shared 60 points in the Indians' 86-67 win over Ridgeley.

Valley, fresh from a 70-49 victory over Southern, tackles the Piedmont High Lions tonight at Lonaconing. The West Virginians thumped Petersburg Tuesday by the score of 80-41 and the game at 'Coney could be a close one.

Six Games In PVC

Six Friday night games are on tap in the Potomac Valley Conference. Ridgeley visits Beall, Romney goes into Garrett county to tackle Southern's Highlanders, Elk Garden hosts the Keyser High's Golden Tornado, Circleville entertains Franklin, which seeks its fourth straight win, Mathias invades Wardensville to do battle with Pete Vance's Warriors Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High Bulldogs entertain Bayard High School at Westernport.

Rounding out the Friday night scholastic schedule, Oldtown visits Hyndman, Paw Paw shoots for win No. 3 when it opposes Flintstone at Paw Paw, Northern's Huskies journey to Somerset county to play the Salisbury High Cardinals, John Mosby Academy of Fort Royal, Va., is at Capon Bridge, Shad Hunt's St. Marie Goretti cagers test Berkeley Springs' rampaging Indians at Hagerstown and the unbeaten Bedford High Bisons host Claysburg.

College Teams On Road

Potomac State College, Frostburg State College and Allegany Community College play away from home tonight. "Horse" Lough's Catamounts are at Charles Community College, La-Plata, Md., for a Tri-State Conference tilt. Alan Stockholm's Trojans meet oppose Prince Georges College at Suitland, Md., in a Tri-State loop game, and Dr. Van Ryswyk's Bobcats battle Towson State at Towson. Shepherd college plays two games at home, meeting West Liberty tonight and Alderson-Broaddus Saturday night.

Allegany Community winds up its two-game road trip at Charles College, Potomac State is at Prince Georges College and Frostburg invades Bowie for Saturday night engagements.

Royals Defeat Knicks, 112-102

Jack Twyman Heads Attack With 31

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Three old pros took up the slack as the Cincinnati Royals, minus Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas, defeated the New York Knickerbockers, 112 - 102, Thursday night in a National Basketball Association game.

Jack Twyman topped the Royals with 31 points, his high for the season, but it was his defensive performance that hurt the Knicks as much as his offensive work.

Twyman held Johnny Green scoreless in the first half and stole the ball eight times as the Royals repeatedly broke up New York scoring attempts.

Robertson was on the sidelines with a pulled thigh muscle and Lucas with a bruised lower back.

Wayne Embry pulled down 25 rebounds to lead the Royals to a 83-53 margin on the boards while scoring 26 points, and Arlen Bockhorn took over Oscar's playmaking role with 13 assists while scoring 12 points.

Len Chappell's 28 points led the Knicks.

Vedie Himsl Named Manager Of PCL Bees

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Veteran Vedie Himsl, a highly respected coach and scout in the Chicago Cub organization, Thursday was named manager of the Salt Lake Bees of the Pacific Coast League.

Himsl's appointment was announced at a press conference conducted by Mrs. Walter E. Cosgriff, president and general manager of the Bee team.

Himsl, a 12-year veteran in the Cub organization, will replace Elvin Tappe, also a member of the Chicago group. Tappe will return to the corps of rotating Cub coaches for instructional duties.

In announcing the appointment Mrs. Cosgriff said the Bee team felt fortunate in obtaining his services.

Himsl is a native of Plevna, Mont. His playing career included a five-year hitch with St. Paul as a pitcher, followed by three years as a player-coach in 1946.

In 1947 he was with the St. Louis Cardinal organization, serving as a minor league business manager, scout and coach. He joined the Cubs in 1952 and was formally placed on their coaching staff in 1960.

Blackwater Ski Area Has New Skating Pond

Cacapon Has Skiing, Sledding, Skating

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Natural Resources Director Warden Lane said Thursday three major state - operated recreation areas will remain open this winter.

They are Blackwater Falls State Park near Davis, Tucker County, Cacapon State Park near Berkeley Springs and Mont Chateau Lodge near Morgantown.

"Blackwater Falls has its own sled run, beginners' ski slope and tow," Lane said, "plus a new ice skating pond." Cacapon offers ice skating, sledding and skiing.

Municipal or privately - operated ski slopes are located at Weiss Knob and Cabin Mountain near Blackwater Falls. Chestnut Ridge ski slope adjoins Coopers Rock State Forest.

There also are ski facilities at Oglebay Park, Wheeling, and Bald Knob, near Beckley.

Blackwater Falls has 25 winterized cabins and 55 guest rooms in the lodge. Cacapon has 11 cabins and 50 guest rooms and Mont Chateau 55 guest rooms. Lane said bookings for December have been heavy but some accommodations still are available.

The State Ski meet is scheduled at Coopers Rock Jan. 11-12 and the State Ice Skating meet Jan. 19. The annual Alpine Festival will be held at Blackwater Falls Jan. 24-26.

Accommodations at Babcock, Bluestone, Holly River, Lost River, Tygart Lake and Watoga State Parks now are closed until spring.

Chargers' Lincoln May Miss Big Game

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The San Diego Chargers' hopes of beating the Houston Oilers Sunday were jarred anew Thursday by the probable loss due to illness of fullback Keith Lincoln.

Coach Sid Gillman announced that Lincoln may be out of the lineup because he continues to suffer from headaches resulting from a concussion suffered in last week's 41-27 loss to the Oakland Raiders.

Ed Brown Week's Top NFL Player

Steeler Veteran's Daring Recognized

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Ed Brown, the National Football League player of the week, said Thursday he wished the honor would have come one week later—after the Pittsburgh Steelers' Eastern title battle with the New York Giants.

"Gosh," said Brown, "that's great. I'm tickled, but I wish it could have waited until after we had beaten the Giants. This is the important one."

Brown learned of his selection just before the Steelers worked out in snow four inches deep for Sunday's winner-take-all battle with the Giants.

The winner is the Eastern Division champion and goes to the title game against either the Chicago Bears or the Green Bay Packers.

The Steelers have never won the conference title. The closest they came was in 1947 when they tied Philadelphia in the regular season but lost 21-0 in the playoff.

Brown, a grizzled veteran of 10 years in the pro ranks and playing his second year for the Steelers, won the award for his bold fourth-down 42-yard pass to Red Mack against Dallas last Sunday that started Pittsburgh on a winning drive.

With 3½ minutes remaining, Brown hit Mack for the big gain and the Steelers kept rolling until Theron Sapp bolted 24 yards for a 24-19 victory that moved the Steelers into position to cop the division crown.

Tittle Named Most Valuable Player In National Football League

Y. A. Beats Out Jimmy Brown By Big Margin

Only Two Players Mentioned In AP Panel's Balloting

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, the 37-year-old quarterback who is the sum and total of the New York Giants' offense, has been named Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by an Associated Press 42-man panel from the 14 league cities.

What Jimmy Brown is to the Cleveland Browns, Tittle is to the Giants, only more so. Y. A.'s worth was shown on the one occasion this year he couldn't play, because of some painfully bruised ribs. The Giants were blanked by Pittsburgh 31-0.

The voting of the sports writers and sportscasters returned Tittle the winner by a substantial edge over Brown. They were the only two men to receive any votes in this category.

Two Voters Abstain

The vote was 33 for Tittle to seven for Brown. Two members of the panel did not vote on the MVP.

Tittle, erratic at times when the Giants' pass protection has broken down, already has bettered two all-time NFL passing records in this, his 14th year of league competition. That does not include two years in the All-America Conference with the old Baltimore Colts.

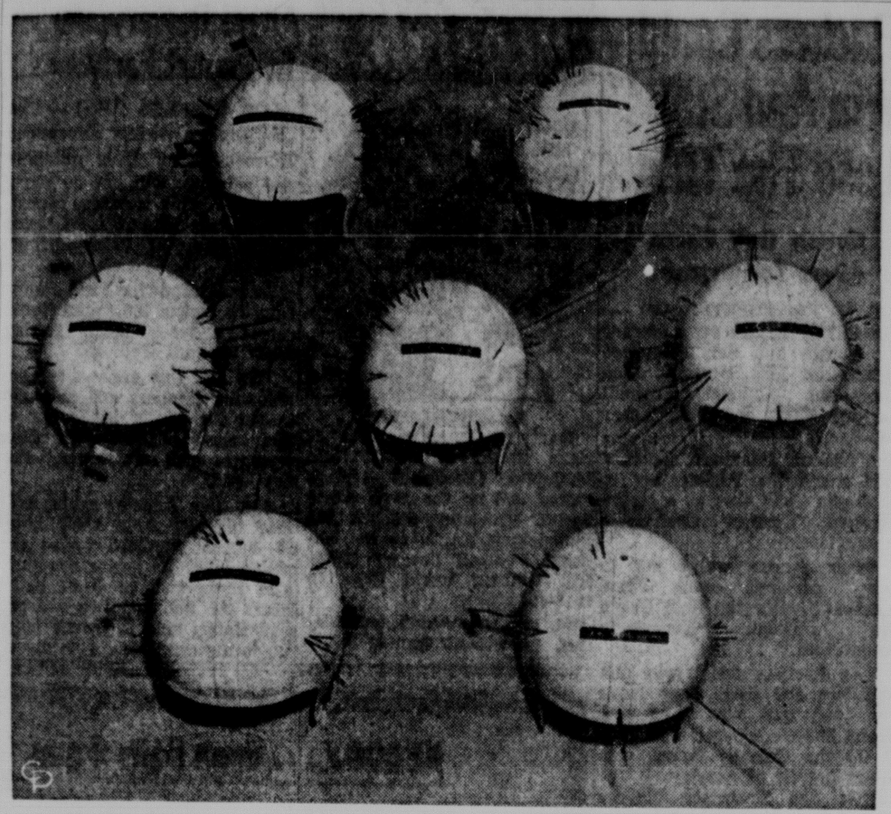
Y. A. has thrown the most touchdown passes, 199, breaking Bobby Layne's mark of 196, and the most passes, 1,954, smashing another Layne record. In addition, Tittle has connected for 33 TD passes this season, tying the mark he set last year. He still has a game to go, against Pittsburgh Sunday in the showdown for the Eastern title.

Statistics Impressive

The latest statistics are impressive, showing 204 completions in 341 attempts for a 59.8 percentage and 2,837 yards.

Tittle, a baldish man from Marshall, Tex., by way of Louisiana State, is completing his third year with the Giants after previous service at Baltimore and San Francisco. He went to the Giants from the 49ers in a deal for Lou Cordileone, now a defensive tackle with Pittsburgh.

In the off season Y. A. lives at Atherton, Calif., and operates an insurance business.



FULLBACKS GET THEIR LUMPS—Quill-like wires protruding from football helmets mark the spot and intensity of every blow absorbed by a Northwestern University fullback in each of seven games this fall. The human electronic laboratory was wired for sound so each impact sent a stream of data via a Honeywell Visicorder to Dr. Stephen E. Reid, an associate professor of surgery in charge of the Northwestern research project, who watched the games from the press box.

Rupp's Pre-Season Tale Of Woe Wasted Words

Wildcats Ignore Baron's Laments, Win First Four

By DAVID M. MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Baron of the Bluegrass, basketball Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, may have deliberately blazed a false trial for his opponents with his pre-season insistence that this would be another off-season for his Wildcats.

Rupp, whose teams have won 688 games since the start of the 1903-31 season, pointed to last year's 16-9 mark, his worst, and the Wildcats' apparent lack of height and told everyone who would listen that the power in the Southeastern Conference this season would lay elsewhere.

He's going to have a hard time selling that story now. His seventh - ranked Wildcats have posted four straight impressive victories; his All-America candidate Cotton Nash has returned to form and is averaging 27.8 points per game; and the No. 2 scorer in the SEC is another Wildcat—Ted Deeken who has a 24.8 mark.

Rupp built his claim for an off-year around Nash, the cotton-topped senior who led the SEC in scoring two seasons back and then failed to live up to expectations as a junior (even though he averaged better than 20 points per game).

He insisted that there was no way of telling whether Nash would regain his touch and since he had to use the 6-foot-5 ace in the pivot, Kentucky would lack the height of its opponents.

This height problem is a bit misleading since Kentucky has a lot of 6-foot-3 to 6-foot-5 men around who know their way around the boards. And the services of 6-foot-6 John Adams can't be overlooked. Rupp has a 6-foot-8 sophomore, Larry Lentz, but hasn't used him yet and may be saving him for next year.

To hear Rupp tell it, Vanderbilt (16-7 last year) and Georgia Tech (21-5) were the teams to beat in the SEC and folks shouldn't be gunning for his Wildcats. Well, Vandy and Tech have gotten off to good starts—but this doesn't alter the fact that Kentucky has mangled four major foes by an average margin of 20 points per game.

Ft. Hill Adds DeMatha The Caseys Of 1929 Pence Going To N.O. Cadets To Quit CVAL

By C. V. BURNS

DeMATHA High School, of Hyattsville, the No. 1 football team in the Washington area this season, will appear on Fort Hill High School's 1964 schedule, according to Coach Charles E. Lattimer.

The Stags gained all six first place votes in the Washington Star's final scholastic rating and thus became the first team to overwhelmingly dominate the poll for an entire season.

DeMatha possessed an explosive offense and a stingy defense and collected the top vote from all six scholastic writers every week except when it polled five and one runner-up ballot.

Coach Morgan Wootten's squad was the only unbeaten and untied team in the Washington area. The Stags also won their first Catholic League championship and finished undefeated for the first time in their history. DeMatha wound up with a 9-0 record and 60 points. Roy Lester's Richard Montgomery High School team of Rockville (9-0-1) finished in the runner-up spot with a 9-0-1 record and 53 points.

Fort Hill wound up its 1963 season with a 10-0 record and romped off with the C.V.A. League and city championships.

DeMatha takes the place of Loyola High School of Baltimore on Fort Hill's schedule next year.

The Hyattsville gridders have a two-year contract with Fort Hill and both games will be staged here. The 1964 contest will be held Friday or Saturday, November 13 or 14.

DeMatha is also a power in basketball in the Washington area. The Stags, incidentally, whipped a good LaSalle quint here in March 1960 by the score of 82-66.

HERMAN MILLER, the retired fire-fighter, who is noted for his fine collection of nostalgic mementos of Cumberland and vicinity, sends along a sheet of stationery upon the back of which appears the record of the 1928-29 Knights of Columbus basketball team, coached by "Long John" Minke and managed by Owen J. Brady.

The Caseys played 31 games that season, winning 20 and losing 11. In 1926-27 they won 23 and lost 3 and in 1927-28 their record was 29-9.

Among the teams the Caseys beat in 1929 were the Altoona Overlands, Altoona YMHA, Jeannette (Pa.) Fielders, Oakland A.A., Baltimore K. of C., Hoffman Clothiers, of Alexandria, Va., West Virginia Wesleyan College, Broaddus College, St. Louis Americans, Olson's Terrible Swedes, Potomac State College, Franz-Burka of Clarksburg and the Johnstown YMCA.

The Knights lost to the Cleveland Rosenblums, Hipp's Big Five of Johnstown and the Skinker Eagles of Washington among others.

Independent basketball flourished here in those days but its extinct now.

NEXT MONTH Bob Pence will represent Maryland for the fourth straight year as a member of the national federation rules committee when that body meets in New Orleans. The dates are Jan. 7-8.

Al Cesky, Bel Air High School coach, also is a member of the committee.

Gordon Eismon and Pat Tork are the West Virginians on the committee.

JACK WHITE, former Fort Hill gridder who co-captained Shepherd College's fine football team this year, is doing his required nine weeks of practice teaching in physical education at South Hagerstown High school.

White was a standout guard for Coach Jesse Riggleman's Rams who posted a 7-1-1 record.

IT'S three years away but Frederick High School will quit the Cumberland Valley Athletic League as of the 1966-67 school year.

The reason given by Frederick school is now being built there which will split up the talent and make it impossible for the Cadets to compete in the C.V.A.L.

The league officials are sending out feelers to six area schools to find out if they are interested in joining the circuit. A report will be made at the league's spring meeting.

Among the schools to be contacted are Chambersburg, Beall, Keyser, the new Hampshire School near Romney, Handley and James Wood, both located at Winchester, Va.

Handley was a former member of the football league which dropped to six teams this year when Westminster withdrew.

SPRINGBROOK High School, which bowed to Allegany's Campers in the finals of the Maryland Class A basketball tourney last March at College Park, jumps into the Class AA ranks this year as does Allegany.

The Montgomery countians whipped Montgomery Blair's Blazers the other night by the score of 51-41.

BILL SHEPHERD, the former Western Maryland College football great, who led the nation in scoring in 1934 with 133 points, is now managing a chain of car washes in the Detroit area.

HERE'S a new twist in sports. The Valley High School basketball schedule arrived this week. It lists the Black Knights' opponents but the dates for the games are missing.

THE Jack Dempsey "doping" story should bring back memories of the Manassa Mauler's two losing battles with Gene Tunney.

Dempsey was so badly beaten in one of the fights that he had to undergo plastic surgery on his battered nose.

Prior to the first Dempsey-Tunney fight, James "Red" Mason, Harry Creb's manager, had Young Rudy, of Charleroi, here for a bout at the Maryland Theater, and he told the writer that he was betting his bankroll on Tunney to win.

"Any fighter who could beat Greb the way Tunney did at Cleveland is too good for Dempsey," Mason said.

The fight of the "long count" was not the only time Tunney was on the floor.

Our own Fay Keiser had Gene down in their fight at Grand Rapids.

Charles Town Tries Instant Televised Film

Will Help Stewards At Winter Meeting

BALTIMORE (AP) — Instant televised film is now available for helping stewards at horse race tracks judge fouls and football coaches to make adjustments between halves.

A new Baltimore company named Video Sports is offering the portable television equipment.

It will be tried for the first time at a race track starting Monday at Charles Town, W.Va.

"The stewards can review race pictures within seconds after horses cross the finish and render decisions before horses return for unsaddling," Jack Pondfield, president of the company, said Thursday.

Television cameras will replace the standard movie cameras around the track. The pictures will be transmitted on closed circuit to video tape recorders in a control room. The tape then can be shown instantly on a television set for the stewards.

It now takes 15 minutes or longer for the stewards to get a look at the film after a foul claim. It is now necessary to pick up the film from the various stations and process it.

In the meantime, the bettors stew and those with possible winning tickets delay wagering on the next race, thus costing the track money.

The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League got a look at it between halves of their game last Sunday with Minnesota. The film may be shown in slow motion, reversed and stopped completely on one play.

NAACP Threatens To Picket Liberty Bowl Game Dec. 21

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)— Cecil B. Moore, chairman of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Thursday protested the use of the city-owned Philadelphia Stadium for the Dec. 21 Liberty Bowl football game between Mississippi State and North Carolina State.

Moore charged the city was "subsidizing discrimination" by allowing Mississippi State to play in the municipal stadium and termed as "outrageous" an unconfirmed report that Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett would attend the game.

Moore, in a letter to Mayor James H. J. Tate, charged that allowing Mississippi State to play here in the "Cradle of Liberty" was "the very antithesis of liberty."

Moore threatened to have 100 pickets at the stadium if the game is played.

A spokesman for the Liberty Bowl charities said they had no intention of withdrawing the invitation to Mississippi State. The spokesman added "these teams were invited on the basis of being football teams and that is the way we are operating."

The spokesman noted that the game will benefit 61 Delaware Valley hospitals that care for both Negro and white patients.

Tittle Named Most Valuable Player In National Football League

Y. A. Beats Out Jimmy Brown By Big Margin

Only Two Players Mentioned In AP Panel's Balloting

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, the 37-year-old quarterback who is the sum and total of the New York Giants' offense, has been named Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by an Associated Press 42-man panel from the 14 league cities.

What Jimmy Brown is to the Cleveland Browns, Tittle is to the Giants, only more so. Y. A.'s worth was shown on the one occasion this year he couldn't play, because of some painfully bruised ribs. The Giants were blanked by Pittsburgh 31-0.

The voting of the sports writers and sportcasters returned Tittle the winner by a substantial edge over Brown. They were the only two men to receive any votes in this category.

Two Voters Abstain

The vote was 33 for Tittle to seven for Brown. Two members of the panel did not vote on the MVP.

Tittle, erratic at times when the Giants' pass protection has broken down, already has bettered two all-time NFL passing records in this, his 14th year of league competition. That does not include two years in the All-America Conference with the old Baltimore Colts.

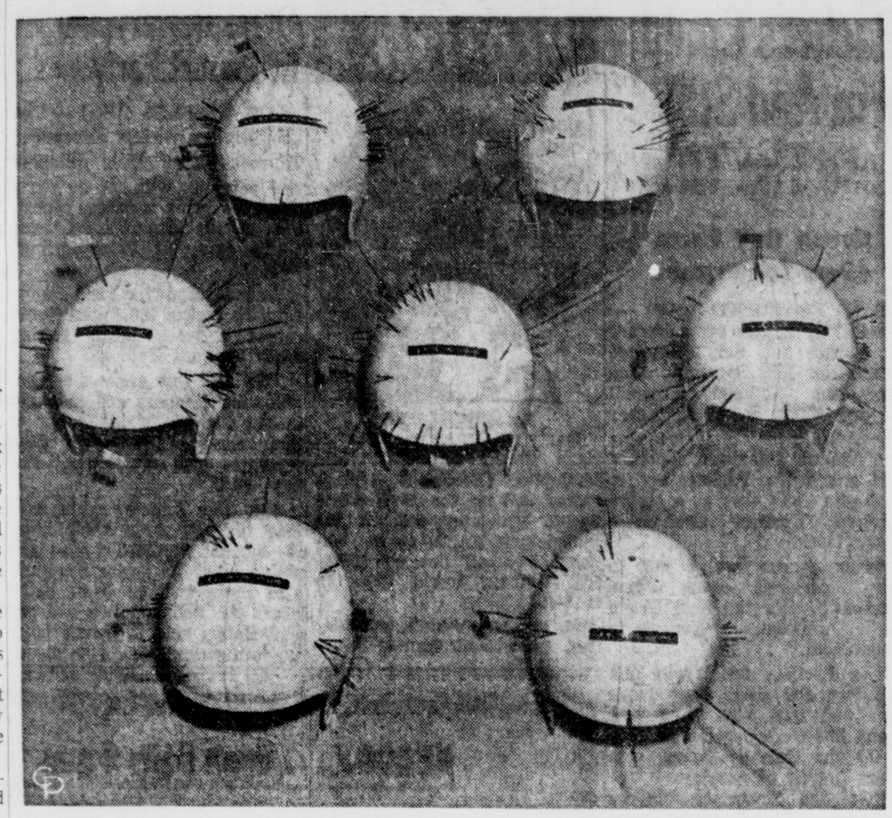
Y. A. has thrown the most touchdown passes, 199, breaking Bobby Layne's mark of 196, and the most passes, 1,954, smashing another Layne record. In addition, Tittle has connected for 33 TD passes this season, tying the mark he set last year. He still has a game to go, against Pittsburgh Sunday in the showdown for the Eastern title.

Statistics Impressive

The latest statistics are impressive, showing 204 completions in 341 attempts for a 59.8 percentage and 2,837 yards.

Tittle, a baldish man from Marshall, Tex., by way of Louisiana State, is completing his third year with the Giants after previous service at Baltimore and San Francisco. He went to the Giants from the 49ers in a deal for Lou Cordileone, now a defensive tackle with Pittsburgh.

In the off season Y. A. lives at Atherton, Calif., and operates an insurance business.



FULLBACKS GET THEIR LUMPS—Quill-like wires protruding from football helmets mark the spot and intensity of every blow absorbed by a Northwestern University fullback in each of seven games this fall. The human electronic laboratory was wired for sound so each impact sent a stream of data via a Honeywell Visicorder to Dr. Stephen E. Reid, an associate professor of surgery in charge of the Northwestern research project, who watched the games from the press box.

Rupp's Pre-Season Tale Of Woe Wasted Words

Wildcats Ignore Baron's Laments, Win First Four

By DAVID M. MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Baron of the Bluegrass, basketball Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, may have deliberately blazed a false trial for his opponents with his pre-season insistence that this would be another off-season for his Wildcats.

Rupp, whose teams have won 688 games since the start of the 1903-31 season, pointed to last year's 16-9 mark, his worst, and the Wildcats' apparent lack of height and told everyone who would listen that the power in the Southeastern Conference this season would lay elsewhere.

He's going to have a hard time selling that story now. His seventh - ranked Wildcats have posted four straight impressive victories; his All-America candidate Cotton Nash has returned to form and is averaging 27.8 points per game; and the No. 2 scorer in the SEC is another Wildcat—Ted Deeken who has a 24.8 mark.

Rupp built his claim for an off-year around Nash, the cotton-topped senior who led the SEC in scoring two seasons back and then failed to live up to expectations as a junior (even though he averaged better than 20 points per game).

He insisted that there was no way of telling whether Nash would regain his touch and since he had to use the 6-foot-5 ace in the pivot, Kentucky would lack the height of its opponents.

This height problem is a bit misleading since Kentucky has a lot of 6-foot-3 to 6-foot-5 men around who know their way around the boards. And the services of 6-foot-6 John Adams can't be overlooked. Rupp has a 6-foot-8 sophomore, Larry Lentz, but hasn't used him yet and may be saving him for next year.

To hear Rupp tell it, Vanderbilt (16-7 last year) and Georgia Tech (21-5) were the teams to beat in the SEC and folks shouldn't be gunning for his Wildcats. Well, Vandy and Tech have gotten off to good starts—but this doesn't alter the fact that Kentucky has mangled four major foes by an average margin of 20 points per game.

Ft. Hill Adds DeMatha The Caseys Of 1929

Pence Going To N.O. Cadets To Quit CVAL

By C. V. BURNS

DeMATHA High School, of Hyattsville, the No. 1 football team in the Washington area this season, will appear on Fort Hill High School's 1964 schedule, according to Coach Charles E. Lattimer.

The Stags gained all six first place votes in the Washington Star's final scholastic rating and thus became the first team to overwhelmingly dominate the poll for an entire season.

DeMatha possessed an explosive offense and a stingy defense and collected the top vote from all six scholastic writers every week except when it polled five and one runner-up ballot.

Coach Morgan Wootten's squad was the only unbeaten and untied team in the Washington area. The Stags also won their first Catholic League championship and finished undefeated for the first time in their history. DeMatha wound up with a 9-0 record and 60 points. Roy Lester's Richard Montgomery High School team of Rockville (9-0-1) finished in the runner-up spot with a 9-0-1 record and 53 points.

Fort Hill wound up its 1963 season with a 10-0 record and romped off with the C.V.A. League and city championships.

DeMatha takes the place of Loyola High School of Baltimore on Fort Hill's schedule next year.

The Hyattsville gridders have a two-year contract with Fort Hill and both games will be staged here. The 1964 contest will be held Friday or Saturday, November 13 or 14.

DeMatha is also a power in basketball in the Washington area. The Stags, incidentally, whipped a good LaSalle quint here in March 1960 by the score of 82-66.

HERMAN MILLER, the retired fire-fighter, who is noted for his fine collection of nostalgic mementos of Cumberland and vicinity, sends along a sheet of stationery upon the back of which appears the record of the 1928-29 Knights of Columbus basketball team, coached by "Long John" Minke and managed by Owen J. Brady.

The Caseys played 31 games that season, winning 20 and losing 11. In 1926-27 they won 23 and lost 3 and in 1927-28 their record was 29-9.

Among the teams the Caseys beat in 1929 were the Altoona Overlands, Altoona YMHA, Jeannette (Pa.) Fielders, Oakland A.A., Baltimore K. of C., Hoffman Clothiers, of Alexandria, Va., West Virginia Wesleyan College, Broaddus College, St. Louis Americans, Olson's Terrible Swedes, Potomac State College, Franz - Burka of Clarksburg and the Johnstown YMCA.

The Knights lost to the Cleveland Rosenblums, Hipp's Big Five of Johnstown and the Skinker Eagles of Washington among others.

West Virginia To Battle VMI At Charleston

Game Scheduled For Civic Center

By ROBERT M. GORNALL
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The Virginia Military Institute Keydets will try to catch West Virginia at a low ebb here Friday as the Mountaineers recuperate from a close shave with Richmond Tuesday night.

The game is one of two West Virginia plays on the neutral court of the Charleston Civic Center. The other is against tough Davidson Jan. 29.

Richmond's Spiders ran with the Mountaineers all the way Tuesday only to slow up in the final minute and lose 79-71. The pre-game "line" gave West Virginia a 19 point advantage.

VMI lost its first three games, but bounced back Tuesday night to nip George Washington 80-75 on the Colonials' court.

Coach Louis F. (Weenie) Miller is on his sixth season leading the Keydets, and at the start of the season was hoping for his first winning year. He has compiled a 29-72 slate.

Coach George King said after the Richmond game he was as unhappy with his victory as he was happy about the fine showing when the Mountaineers lost to Duke.

But King's "bonus baby" this season, Tom Lowry, turned in another impressive performance, ending with 21 points—17 in the second half.

Bill Maphis, another starter, also looked good, pumping in 13 points to be second high scorer for West Virginia.

Maphis and Lowry will more than likely start Friday, along with Donnie Weir, Ricky Ray and Mike Wolfe.

Vikings Edge Bayard, 53-51

Petersburg Ups Record To 3-1

Petersburg's Vikings eked out a 53-51 victory over Bayard last night, spoiling the host team's first Potomac Valley Conference appearance of the season.

Bayard, beaten 53-46 Wednesday night at Rowlesburg, dropped into the .500 class at 2-2 after topping Tunnelton and Beverly in its first two outings.

The Vikings chalked up their third win against a single loss, but had to stave off a determined bid as Bayard reeled off the first five points of the final period to create a 45-45 deadlock. Petersburg snapped the tie and led thereafter.

Each team scored 21 times from the floor, but the visitors converted 11 of 23 foul attempts to Bayard's 9-15.

Iowa Puts Down Late SMU Surge For 73-70 Victory

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — Iowa scored 10 points in the final three minutes of the first half and put down a late Southern Methodist rally to win its fourth consecutive basketball game, 73-70.

The Hawks and Mustangs battled evenly during the first 17 minutes of play, taking turns with the lead. Iowa went ahead briefly and then started on its 10-point outburst with 3:23 left before the intermission.

The Mustangs spurted with less than three minutes left in the game, closing to within one point at 69-68 after three baskets by guard Jim Brockman.

Two free throws by Iowa guards Jim Rodgers and Andy Hawkins came in the final minute and gave the Hawkeyes their third victory of the season in which they have been outscored from the field.

Dave Roach paced the Big Ten team with 29 points. Hank Wendorf led Southern Methodist with 19.

Toledo Whips 2nd-Ranked NYU

NEW YORK (AP) — Toledo's Rockets barged into Madison Square Garden Thursday night, threw up a harassing defense and bewildered New York University, the nation's second-ranked college basketball team, for a 87-74 victory.

Young Jimmy Brown directed Georgetown to a 98-87 victory over Manhattan in the opener of the doubleheader.

The unbeaten Rockets, now 5-0 for the season, swept out in front in the early going on the strength of their rebounding and carefully controlled offense, fought off a Violet revival after intermission and took it going away.

Jim Cox, a 6-foot-5 corner man with a deft, feather-light shooting touch, was the beneficiary of most of the Rockets' carefully planned patterns and finished with 33 points, high for game.

The Rockets ripped the Violet defense to shreds with their wide offense. At times they used half the court to run their patterns, spread the NYU defense and sent Cox barreling through time and again for easy layups.

Notre Dame Tops 1958 Scoring Mark

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)— Notre Dame ran up a new scoring record Thursday night with a 107-60 basketball romp over Valparaiso.

The Irish, led by Larry Sheffield's 26 points, started out in a hurry, building up a 7-0 lead before three minutes had elapsed and were in front, 20-6 n the sixth minute of play.

The 107 points bettered the old Notre Dame high basketball score of 106 points against Marquette in 1958.

Larry Jesewitz sank 19 points for the Irish and Ken Traupman paced Valp with 15 points.

Bruins Continue To Jinx Chicago

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Bruins made one of their rare escapes from the National Hockey League cellar Thursday night and maintained strange domination over the Chicago Black Hawks in a 2-1 victory over the league-leaders.

The Bruins broke out of a 1-1 tie to win on a second period 40-foot goal by veteran defenseman Tom Johnson, his first score of the season.

Bruin winger Dean Prentice got the other Boston score on a first period slap shot for the 200th goal of his NHL career.

Canadiens Hold Off Rangers For 6-4 Win

MONTREAL (UPI) — The Montreal Canadiens scored twice in the first 64 seconds and built up a 5-1 lead in the first period, but still had to stave off a last period rush by the New York Rangers to win 6-4, Thursday night in a National Hockey League game.

Gilles Tremblay scored twice for the Canadians while Rod Gilbert counted two third period goals for the Broadway Blueshirts who had the Canadians on the run in the final 20 minutes.

Staubach UPI's Back Of Year

Spartans' Lewis Distant Second

NEW YORK (UPI) — Navy quarterback Roger Staubach, a young man already looking forward to next year, was named college football's "back of the year" for 1963 Thursday in a nationwide poll conducted by United Press International Staubach, the Cincinnati, Ohio junior, led Navy to a 9-1 record, second ranking in the final UPI poll and a berth in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, 1964, opposite top-ranked Texas.

The only word that describes Staubach's performance this year is "sensational" and the majority of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters agree.

They gave Staubach 189 of a possible 292 votes in the annual UPI balloting. Sherman Lewis of Michigan State was a very distant second with 20 votes. Quarterback Don Trull of Baylor had 18; Billy Lothridge Georgia Tech's quarterback, had 12; and Gayle Sayers, Kansas' fine halfback had 10. Paul Martha, a Pitt halfback, had 8.

Staubach led the nation in total offense for most of the season and broke Navy's record for a single year after the seventh game. He broke his own single game record with 307 yards against Michigan.

Also receiving votes in this year's balloting were: Mel Renfro, Oregon, and Jimmy Sidle, Auburn, 5 each; Tony Lorick, Arizona State, and Jay Wilkinson, Duke, 4 each; Jim Grisham, Oklahoma, Cosmo Iacavazzi, Princeton, Terry Isaacson, Air Force, George Mira, Miami, and Tom Vaughn, Iowa State, two votes each; Tommy Ford, Texas, Rick Leeson, Pitt, Tom Myers, Northwestern, Archie Roberts, Columbia, and Junior Coffey, Washington, one vote each.

Navy Hits Dallas Christmas Night After Short Break

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's football team will put in two weeks of work, interrupted by five days of Christmas leave, for its New Year's Day meeting with Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Wayne Hardin said Thursday the team will begin a week of pre-Christmas drills here Monday. The players will be on leave from Dec. 21 until they regroup in Dallas Christmas night.

In Dallas, they'll work out twice daily until bowl time.

The team has spent this week recuperating from last Saturday's grueling 21-15 victory over Army.

Quarterback Roger Staubach, team captain Tom Lynch, punter Joe Ince and coach Hardin have been in New York for a round of awards dinners.

The rest of the coaches fanned out across the country after the Army game on recruiting trips.

Welch Tackle Voted Top W. Va. Gridder

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (UPI)— Amateur Athletic Association of Bluefield has selected Don Roberts of the untied and unbeaten Welch Maroon Wave as the West Virginia high school football player of 1963.

Association president V. L. (Stubby) Currence said the 235-pound senior co-captain and tackle had been picked from among 10 candidates.

The association annually sponsors tournaments and awards in several sports and activities.

Toothman Sparks A-B Over Senators

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI)—Alderson-Broaddus, fired-up by the sharpshooting of Jim Toothman in the second half, came from behind Thursday night to take a 62-53 victory over Davis and Elkins in a West Virginia Conference basketball game here.

AB's J. D. Bobbitt too kscoring honors for the night with 18 points but it was Toothman who came through for the winners with 17 points, 14 of them in the crucial second half. High man for D&E was Art Wheatley with 14.

Lewis Is Honored

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —Al Lewis, of California Western University in San Diego, was selected Thursday as National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) football Coach of the Year for California.

Cal Western, in operation only six years, won its first five games this season and finished with a 7-2 record.

Loyola Noses Out Western Michigan In 105-102 Battle

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Little Manny Newsome of Western Michigan threw a giant scare into Chicago Loyola Thursday night, but the nation's No. 1 college basketball power hung on for a 105-102 triumph.

Newsome, 5-foot-10, scored 44 points and ignited Western's blazing second half surge. Trailing 91-66 with 11:28 remaining in the game, the Broncos roared back to within three points.

The Gary, Ind. senior poured in 12 points early in the second half while teammates Ajac Triplett and Bill Street accounted for another eight. Loyola managed only six points in the interval.

With 5:25 left to play, the Ramblers held a 97-85 lead. Then Newsome got hot again, collecting 10 of Western Michigan's final 14 points.

Loyola, which now has won all five of its games this season, spurted to a 69-49 lead at halftime on the shooting of Art Hunter and Ron Miller.

Miller paced Loyola with 33 points and Hunter had 28.

West Virginia To Battle VMI At Charleston

Game Scheduled For Civic Center

By ROBERT M. GORNALL
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The Virginia Military Institute Keydets will try to catch West Virginia at a low ebb here Friday as the Mountaineers recuperate from a close shave with Richmond Tuesday night.

The game is one of two West Virginia plays on the neutral court of the Charleston Civic Center. The other is against tough Davidson Jan. 29.

Richmond's Spiders ran with the Mountaineers all the way Tuesday only to slow up in the final minute and lose 79-71. The pre-game "line" gave West Virginia a 19 point advantage.

VMI lost its first three games, but bounced back Tuesday night to nip George Washington 80-75 on the Colonials' court.

Coach Louis F. (Weenie) Miller is on his sixth season leading the Keydets, and at the start of the season was hoping for his first winning year. He has compiled a 29-72 slate.

Coach George King said after the Richmond game he was as unhappy with his victory as he was happy about the fine showing when the Mountaineers lost to Duke.

But King's "bonus baby" this season, Tom Lowry, turned in another impressive performance, ending with 21 points—17 in the second half.

Bill Maphis, another starter, also looked good, pumping in 13 points to be second high scorer for West Virginia.

Maphis and Lowry will more than likely start Friday, along with Donnie Weir, Ricky Ray and Mike Wolfe.

Vikings Edge Bayard, 53-51

Petersburg Ups Record To 3-1

Petersburg's Vikings eked out a 53-51 victory over Bayard last night, spoiling the host team's first Potomac Valley Conference appearance of the season.

Bayard, beaten 53-46 Wednesday night at Rowlesburg, dropped into the .500 class at 2-2 after topping Tunnelton and Beverly in its first two outings.

The Vikings chalked up their third win against a single loss, but had to stave off a determined bid as Bayard reeled off the first five points of the final period to create a 45-45 deadlock. Petersburg snapped the tie and led thereafter.

Each team scored 21 times from the floor, but the visitors converted 11 of 23 foul attempts to Bayard's 9-15.

Jim Brodengeyer headed the winners' attack with 15 points, and Roy Reynolds and Charles Fisher checked in with 13 apiece. Ted Moreland and Don Kessell accounted for 33 of Bayards tallies.

The only word that describes Staubach's performance this year is "sensational" and the majority of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters agree.

They gave Staubach 189 of a possible 292 votes in the annual UPI balloting. Sherman Lewis of Michigan State was a very distant second with 20 votes. Quarterback Don Trull of Baylor had 18; Billy Lothridge Georgia Tech's quarterback, had 12; and Gayle Sayers, Kansas' fine halfback had 10. Paul Martha, a Pitt halfback, had 8.

Staubach led the nation in total offense for most of the season and broke Navy's record for a single year after the seventh game. He broke his own single game record with 307 yards against Michigan.

Also receiving votes in this year's balloting were: Mel Renfro, Oregon, and Jimmy Sidle, Auburn, 5 each; Tony Lorick, Arizona State, and Jay Wilkinson, Duke, 4 each; Jim Grisham, Oklahoma, Cosmo Iacavazzi, Princeton, Terry Isaacson, Air Force, George Mira, Miami, and Tom Vaughn, Iowa State, two votes each; Tommy Ford, Texas, Rick Leeson, Pitt, Tom Myers, Northwestern, Archie Roberts, Columbia, and Junior Coffey, Washington, one vote each.

Navy Hits Dallas Christmas Night After Short Break

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's football team will put in two weeks of work, interrupted by five days of Christmas leave, for its New Year's Day meeting with Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Coach Wayne Hardin said Thursday the team will begin a week of pre-Christmas drills here Monday. The players will be on leave from Dec. 21 until they regroup in Dallas Christmas night.

In Dallas, they'll work out twice daily until bowl time.

The team has spent this week recuperating from last Saturday's grueling 21-15 victory over Army.

Quarterback Roger Staubach, team captain Tom Lynch, punter Joe Ince and coach Hardin have been in New York for a round of awards dinners.

The rest of the coaches fanned out across the country after the Army game on recruiting trips.

Welch Tackle Voted Top W. Va. Gridder

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (UPI)— Amateur Athletic Association of Bluefield has selected Don Roberts of the untied and unbeaten Welch Maroon Wave as the West Virginia high school football player of 1963.

Association president V. L. (Stubby) Currence said the 235-pound senior co-captain and tackle had been picked from among 10 candidates.

The association annually sponsors tournaments and awards in several sports and activities.

Toothman Sparks A-B Over Senators

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI)—Alderson-Broaddus, fired-up by the sharpshooting of Jim Toothman in the second half, came from behind Thursday night to take a 62-53 victory over Davis and Elkins in a West Virginia Conference basketball game here.

AB's J. D. Bobbitt too kscoring honors for the night with 18 points but it was Toothman who came through for the winners with 17 points, 14 of them in the crucial second half. High man for D&E was Art Wheatley with 14.

Lewis Is Honored

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) —Al Lewis, of California Western University in San Diego, was selected Thursday as National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) football Coach of the Year for California.

Cal Western, in operation only six years, won its first five games this season and finished with a 7-2 record.

Loyola Noses Out Western Michigan In 105-102 Battle

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Little Manny Newsome of Western Michigan threw a giant scare into Chicago Loyola Thursday night, but the nation's No. 1 college basketball power hung on for a 105-102 triumph.

Newsome, 5-foot-10, scored 44 points and ignited Western's blazing second half surge. Trailing 91-66 with 11:28 remaining in the game, the Broncos roared back to within three points.

The Gary, Ind. senior poured in 12 points early in the second half while teammates Ajac Triplett and Bill Street accounted for another eight. Loyola managed only six points in the interval.

With 5:25 left to play, the Ramblers held a 97-85 lead. Then Newsome got hot again, collecting 10 of Western Michigan's final 14 points.

Loyola, which now has won all five of its games this season, spurted to a 69-49 lead at halftime on the shooting of Art Hunter and Ron Miller.

Miller paced Loyola with 33 points and Hunter had 28.

Steelers Sign Paul Martha

Pitt Star Also Was Drafted By Buffalo

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Thursday signed their No. 1 draft choice, hometown halfback Paul Martha of the University of Pittsburgh.

Martha, a second team pick on the 1963 United Press International All-America squad, also had been drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Coach Buddy Parker was high in his praise of Martha.

"Martha can fit into our plans in so many ways," Parker said. "It's rare to find a boy who can do so many things. He is valuable on both offense and defense and good defensive players are hard to find in this league."

Martha played quarterback as a sophomore at Pitt, was a right halfback as a junior and this year was the regular left half.

He scored eight touchdowns this year, rushed for 485 yards for a 5.5 yard per carry average and caught 15 passes for 253 yards.

It is expected he will be used by the Steelers as either a flanker or defensive halfback.

His signing gave the Steelers three of their four top draft choices. They previously signed All-America end Jim Kelly of Notre Dame and tackle Ben McGee of Jackson State.

Althea Gibson To Hit Tourney Trail As Golf Pro

NEW YORK (UPI) — Althea Gibson, who blazed a trail for the Negro in big time tennis, signed with a sporting goods firm Thursday to hit the tournament trail in 1964 as a golf professional.

Twice winner at Wimbledon and Forest Hills and still world's woman pro tennis champ, the 34 - year - old Miss Gibson became a golf pro last July for a brief tournament fling that led her to think she can make the grade on the fairways.

"I don't expect to become a star overnight," said Althea, "but I feel in my heart I can become a good tournament golfer eventually. Tennis taught me ball sense, rhythm and coordination and I'm working harder now on golf than I ever did on tennis."

Althea signed with the sports division of Dunlop, which will help sponsor the determined former tennis ace on the tournament circuit.

Newcombe, Fletcher Advance To Finals

PERTH, Australia (UPI) — John Newcombe and Ken Fletcher outlasted fellow Australian Fred Stolle and Bob Hewitt Thursday 11-9, 3-6, 18-16, 4-6 and 6-3, to clinch a spot in the men's doubles final of the West Australian tennis championship.

Newcombe and Fletcher will meet two other Australians, Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser for the title. All are members of the Australian Davis Cup team which meets the United States Dec. 26-29.

Emerson and Fraser reached the title round by defeating Mike Sangster and Roger Taylor of the British Davis Cup team, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Sluggers Rivero And Fernandez Tangle Tonight

Garden Bout Set For Ten Rounds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight knockout specialists Florentino Fernandez and Juan (Rocky) Rivero tangle again Friday night in a nationally televised pulverizing party at Madison Square Garden.

Again they are scheduled for 10 rounds; but persons who saw their first slugfest at the Garden on Nov. 1 doubt that both can weather the distance again under such terrific battering.

Stocky Rivero of Argentina, who is co-managed by former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano of New York, won a unanimous but controversial decision over Cuban Fernandez of Miami Beach in their first bout after Rivero was credited with a disputed knockdown in the eighth round.

Nevertheless, Fernandez is favored at 8-5 to turn the tables this time.

Before their November clash, Fernandez had been favored at 3½ to 1 because of his booming left hook. But he absorbed a terrific body beating and was almost flattened in the seventh round.

Former challenger Fernandez had company in dizzyland that night, for Rivero was practically "out" on his feet in the third minute of the third round, and he was quite woozy late in the sixth.

Fernandez, who nearly took the 160-pound crown from Gene Fullmer in 1961, appeared to finish the stronger last month.

And he certainly finished the stronger against Fullmer in their 15-rounder at Ogden, Utah where he had game Gene on rubber legs throughout the 14th and 15th rounds. But Fullmer's commanding margin in the earlier sessions saved his title.

In Florentino's next fight after Fullmer, he tackled the then top contender Dick Tiger of Nigeria. Tiger broke Fernandez's nose and stopped him in the sixth round, and Tiger went on to become champion.

Iacavazzi, Casinelli Top College Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton and Memphis State's Dave Casinelli shared the major college individual scoring championship in 1963, the final statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed Thursday.

Iacavazzi and Casinelli wound up with 84 points, both on 14 touchdowns. Terry Isaacson of Air Force was third with 80 followed by Jay Wilkinson, Duke and Rick Leeson, Pittsburgh, 72, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech, 69.

Navy's Fred Martin, by booting three points after touchdown against Army, emerged as the season's leading scorer by kicking. His 37 extra points and five field goals gave him 52 points. Then came Tony Crosby, Texas, and Lothridge, with 51 apiece.

Killebrew Undergoes Surgery On His Knee

CALDWELL, Ida. (UPI) — Harmon Killebrew's doctor reported Thursday surgery on the American League's home run king was successful.

Killebrew, who hit 45 homers last season and also led the league in slugging percentage, entered the Caldwell Memorial Hospital Wednesday night.

Dr. Donald Baranco said he removed a portion of cartilage from the rear of Killebrew's injured knee and a few "calcified chips" that were loose in the knee joint.

Killebrew will be hospitalized for several days and Dr. Baranco said the knee will require from six to eight weeks to heal.

Jury Fails To Reach Verdict In Pinson Case, New Trial Set

Panel Dismissed After Deliberating For Four Hours

By WILLIAM READ
United Press International

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The jury considering an assault and battery charge filed against Cincinnati Reds star Vada Pinson by a newspaper sports writer was dismissed Thursday after failing to reach a verdict in four hours of deliberation.

Judge Robert V. Wood scheduled a new trial for Jan. 28 after being told at 5 p.m. that the nine - woman, three - man panel was no closer to a verdict than when it first began considering the case.

If convicted, Pinson would have faced a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $200 fine.

Before being finally dismissed, the jury twice told Judge Wood that it was deadlocked, but both times it was ordered to resume its deliberations.

In response to foreman Frederick Hart's report that there were "strong feelings on both sides," Judge Wood said a deadlock was the "easy way out."

He had planned to keep the jury deliberating throughout the evening if there was any indication of a break in the case, but decided against it when told there was little hope of a verdict.

The charge was filed against Pinson Sept. 4 by Earl Lawson, baseball writer for the Cincinnati Post and Times-Star, after the two men clashed in the Reds clubhouse following a night game with the Philadelphia Phillies.

In their closing statements, defense attorneys said conviction would be a blot on Pinson's record, while prosecution lawyers said he "should stand trial like everyone else; it doesn't make any difference whether he's a baseball player.

Pinson, last witness to take the stand, described a 1962 fight he had with Lawson at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, which he said was prompted by a Lawson challenge and a story in which the writer said he was "not hustling."

The Cincinnati clash was sparked by Lawson's Sept. 3 column in which he said Pinson could improve his batting average by bunting more frequently.

Lawson said Pinson grabbed him by the shirt as he emerged from Reds Manager Fred Hutchinson's office, then shoved him against a wall, ripping the shirt.

"I bounced off the wall, slid around it and went into Hutchinson's office and called police," Lawson testified.

Pinson and teammate Frank Robinson told the jury that Lawson was not hit and his shirt was ripped only when he attempted to pull away from Pinson as the ballplayer attempted to discuss the article.

Common Cold Keeps Elgin Baylor Idle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Star forward Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers, who played despite calcium deposits on his knees and a twisted ankle, was to have his streak of 119 consecutive games snapped Thursday by a common cold.

The Lakers shooting star was advised by Dr. Robert Kerlan, team physician, to sit out Thursday night's game with the Baltimore Bullets. Baylor was examined by Dr. Kerlan following his return from Rochester, Minn., where he was examined and treated for the knee condition.

Peck's Wins, 3-0

Peck's Cafe defeated the Knights of Columbus, 3-0, Wednesday night in a Frostburg Men's Shuffleboard League match. John Bond and Jack Atkinson paced Peck's with 20 points each while R. Kenney and S. Jackson led the K. of C. with 15 tallies each.

Bear Bryant's Libel Suit Trial Set February 10

Alabama Coach Suing Curtis Co. For Post Article

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— U. S. District Judge H. H. Grooms Thursday set Feb. 10 as the date for trial of Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

Bryant is suing Post publisher Curtis Publishing Co. for an article entitled "Story of a College Football Fix" last March which accused Bryant of accepting vital team secrets from former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts before the 1962 Alabama-Georgia game.

Butts also sued the publishing company and won a $3,060,000 judgment. Curtis has appealed.

Bryant is seeking $10-million for the March 23rd article and $500,000 for an article last year entitled "College Football is Going Berserk."

In the article which alleged The Alabama - Georgia game, won by Alabama 35 - 0, was fixed, the Post said Atlanta, Ga. insurance salesman George Burnett accidentally was hooked into a long distance telephone call from Butts to Bryant.

Burnett said he heard Butts passing Georgia plays and other information to Bryant.

Both Butts and Bryant denied the accusation. Bryant said the story was "false in every sense of the word."

The Southeastern Conference, with headquarters here, launched an investigation into the matter but said it would withhold its findings until after Bryant's suit was completed.

Post lawyers have sought twice to have Bryant's case transferred out of Alabama. They argued that state - wide prejudice against the Post would make a fair trial impossible.

Judge Grooms both times held the Post arguments insufficient to bring about a change of venue.

Post attorneys have indicated they would go to

Steelers Sign Paul Martha

Pitt Star Also Was Drafted By Buffalo

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Thursday signed their No. 1 draft choice, hometown halfback Paul Martha of the University of Pittsburgh.

Martha, a second team pick on the 1963 United Press International All-America squad, also had been drafted by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Coach Buddy Parker was high in his praise of Martha.

"Martha can fit into our plans in so many ways," Parker said. "It's rare to find a boy who can do so many things. He is valuable on both offense and defense and good defensive players are hard to find in this league."

Martha played quarterback as a sophomore at Pitt, was a right halfback as a junior and this year was the regular left half.

He scored eight touchdowns this year, rushed for 485 yards for a 5.5 yard per carry average and caught 15 passes for 253 yards.

It is expected he will be used by the Steelers as either a flanker or defensive halfback.

His signing gave the Steelers three of their four top draft choices. They previously signed All-America end Jim Kelly of Notre Dame and tackle Ben McGee of Jackson State.

Althea Gibson To Hit Tourney Trail As Golf Pro

NEW YORK (UPI) — Althea Gibson, who blazed a trail for the Negro in big time tennis, signed with a sporting goods firm Thursday to hit the tournament trail in 1964 as a golf professional.

Twice winner at Wimbledon and Forest Hills and still world's woman pro tennis champ, the 34 - year - old Miss Gibson became a golf pro last July for a brief tournament fling that led her to think she can make the grade on the fairways.

"I don't expect to become a star overnight," said Althea, "but I feel in my heart I can become a good tournament golfer eventually. Tennis taught me ball sense, rhythm and coordination and I'm working harder now on golf than I ever did on tennis."

Althea signed with the sports division of Dunlop, which will help sponsor the determined former tennis ace on the tournament circuit.

Newcombe, Fletcher Advance To Finals

PERTH, Australia (UPI) — John Newcombe and Ken Fletcher outlasted fellow Australian Fred Stolle and Bob Hewitt Thursday 11-9, 3-6, 18-16, 4-6 and 6-3, to clinch a spot in the men's doubles final of the West Australian tennis championship.

Newcombe and Fletcher will meet two other Australians, Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser for the title. All are members of the Australian Davis Cup team which meets the United States Dec. 26-29.

Emerson and Fraser reached the title round by defeating Mike Sangster and Roger Taylor of the British Davis Cup team, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Sluggers Rivero And Fernandez Tangle Tonight

Garden Bout Set For Ten Rounds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight knockout specialists Florentino Fernandez and Juan (Rocky) Rivero tangle again Friday night in a nationally televised pulverizing party at Madison Square Garden.

Again they are scheduled for 10 rounds; but persons who saw their first slugfest at the Garden on Nov. 1 doubt that both can weather the distance again under such terrific battering.

Stocky Rivero of Argentina, who is co-managed by former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano of New York, won a unanimous but controversial decision over Cuban Fernandez of Miami Beach in their first bout after Rivero was credited with a disputed knockdown in the eighth round.

Nevertheless, Fernandez is favored at 8-5 to turn the tables this time.

Before their November clash, Fernandez had been favored at 3½ to 1 because of his booming left hook. But he absorbed a terrific body beating and was almost flattened in the seventh round.

Former challenger Fernandez had company in dizzyland that night, for Rivero was practically "out" on his feet in the third minute of the third round, and he was quite woozy late in the sixth.

Fernandez, who nearly took the 160-pound crown from Gene Fullmer in 1961, appeared to finish the stronger last month.

And he certainly finished the stronger against Fullmer in their 15-rounder at Ogden, Utah where he had game Gene on rubber legs throughout the 14th and 15th rounds. But Fullmer's commanding margin in the earlier sessions saved his title.

In Florentino's next fight after Fullmer, he tackled the then top contender Dick Tiger of Nigeria. Tiger broke Fernandez's nose and stopped him in the sixth round, and Tiger went on to become champion.

Iacavazzi, Casinelli Top College Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Cosmo Iacavazzi of Princeton and Memphis State's Dave Casinelli shared the major college individual scoring championship in 1963, the final statistics compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed Thursday.

Iacavazzi and Casinelli wound up with 84 points, both on 14 touchdowns. Terry Isaacson of Air Force was third with 80 followed by Jay Wilkinson, Duke and Rick Leeson, Pittsburgh, 72, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech, 69.

Navy's Fred Martin, by booting three points after touchdown against Army, emerged as the season's leading scorer by kicking. His 37 extra points and five field goals gave him 52 points. Then came Tony Crosby, Texas, and Lothridge, with 51 apiece.

Killebrew Undergoes Surgery On His Knee

CALDWELL, Ida. (UPI) — Harmon Killebrew's doctor reported Thursday surgery on the American League's home run king was successful.

Killebrew, who hit 45 homers last season and also led the league in slugging percentage, entered the Caldwell Memorial Hospital Wednesday night.

Dr. Donald Baranco said he removed a portion of cartilage from the rear of Killebrew's injured knee and a few "calcified chips" that were loose in the knee joint.

Killebrew will be hospitalized for several days and Dr. Baranco said the knee will require from six to eight weeks to heal.

Jury Fails To Reach Verdict In Pinson Case, New Trial Set

Panel Dismissed After Deliberating For Four Hours

By WILLIAM READ
United Press International

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The jury considering an assault and battery charge filed against Cincinnati Reds star Vada Pinson by a newspaper sports writer was dismissed Thursday after failing to reach a verdict in four hours of deliberation.

Judge Robert V. Wood scheduled a new trial for Jan. 28 after being told at 5 p.m. that the nine - woman, three - man panel was no closer to a verdict than when it first began considering the case.

If convicted, Pinson would have faced a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $200 fine.

Before being finally dismissed, the jury twice told Judge Wood that it was deadlocked, but both times it was ordered to resume its deliberations.

In response to foreman Frederick Hart's report that there were "strong feelings on both sides," Judge Wood said a deadlock was the "easy way out."

He had planned to keep the jury deliberating throughout the evening if there was any indication of a break in the case, but decided against it when told there was little hope of a verdict.

The charge was filed against Pinson Sept. 4 by Earl Lawson, baseball writer for the Cincinnati Post and Times-Star, after the two men clashed in the Reds clubhouse following a night game with the Philadelphia Phillies.

In their closing statements, defense attorneys said conviction would be a blot on Pinson's record, while prosecution lawyers said he "should stand trial like everyone else; it doesn't make any difference whether he's a baseball player.

Pinson, last witness to take the stand, described a 1962 fight he had with Lawson at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, which he said was prompted by a Lawson challenge and a story in which the writer said he was "not hustling."

The Cincinnati clash was sparked by Lawson's Sept. 3 column in which he said Pinson could improve his batting average by bunting more frequently.

Lawson said Pinson grabbed him by the shirt as he emerged from Reds Manager Fred Hutchinson's office, then shoved him against a wall, ripping the shirt.

"I bounced off the wall, slid around it and went into Hutchinson's office and called police," Lawson testified.

Pinson and teammate Frank Robinson told the jury that Lawson was not hit and his shirt was ripped only when he attempted to pull away from Pinson as the ballplayer attempted to discuss the article.

Common Cold Keeps Elgin Baylor Idle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Star forward Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers, who played despite calcium deposits on his knees and a twisted ankle, was to have his streak of 119 consecutive games snapped Thursday by a common cold.

The Lakers shooting star was advised by Dr. Robert Kerlan, team physician, to sit out Thursday night's game with the Baltimore Bullets. Baylor was examined by Dr. Kerlan following his return from Rochester, Minn., where he was examined and treated for the knee condition.

Peck's Wins, 3-0

Peck's Cafe defeated the Knights of Columbus, 3-0, Wednesday night in a Frostburg Men's Shuffleboard League match. John Bond and Jack Atkinson paced Peck's with 20 points each while R. Kenney and S. Jackson led the K. of C. with 15 tallies each.

Bear Bryant's Libel Suit Trial Set February 10

Alabama Coach Suing Curtis Co. For Post Article

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— U. S. District Judge H. H. Grooms Thursday set Feb. 10 as the date for trial of Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post.

Bryant is suing Post publisher Curtis Publishing Co. for an article entitled "Story of a College Football Fix" last March which accused Bryant of accepting vital team secrets from former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts before the 1962 Alabama-Georgia game.

Butts also sued the publishing company and won a $3,060,000 judgment. Curtis has appealed.

Bryant is seeking $10-million for the March 23rd article and $500,000 for an article last year entitled "College Football is Going Berserk."

In the article which alleged The Alabama - Georgia game, won by Alabama 35 - 0, was fixed, the Post said Atlanta, Ga. insurance salesman George Burnett accidentally was hooked into a long distance telephone call from Butts to Bryant.

Burnett said he heard Butts passing Georgia plays and other information to Bryant.

Both Butts and Bryant denied the accusation. Bryant said the story was "false in every sense of the word."

The Southeastern Conference, with headquarters here, launched an investigation into the matter but said it would withhold its findings until after Bryant's suit was completed.

Post lawyers have sought twice to have Bryant's case transferred out of Alabama. They argued that state - wide prejudice against the Post would make a fair trial impossible.

ATTORNEY AT LAW
120 SOUTH LIBERTY STREET
CUMBERLAND, MARYLAND
MORTGAGEE'S SALE

of valuable property situate on Cash Valley Road, one and one-half miles southwest of the Village of Corriganville, in Allegany County, Maryland.

Under and by virtue of a power contained in a mortgage from Howard C. Harclerode and Marjorie M. Harclerode, his wife, to Charles L. Miller, dated the 6th day of July, 1954, and recorded in Liber 306, folio 47, one of the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, default having occurred in the terms, conditions, and convenants of said mortgage, the undersigned, as Attorney Named in said Mortgage will on beside the Second National Bank Building on South Liberty Street, in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, sell at public auction to the highest bidder:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1963, at TEN O'CLOCK A.M.,

ALL that piece or parcel of ground situate and lying along the easterly side of the County Road leading through Cash Valley and one and one-half miles southwest of the Village of Corriganville in Allegany County, Maryland, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING for said parcel of ground at a stake standing on the easterly side of the County Road leading through Cash Valley and on the division line between this described parcel and the land of Charles Getson, said stake being 20 feet from Station 61-05 of the County survey of said road; and running thence by magnetic bearings of 1933 and with said division line, South 54 degrees East 310 feet to a stake in the westerly right-of-way line of the Western Maryland Railroad Company being distant 50 feet from the center between the two main tracks of said Railroad; thence with said westerly right-of-way of said Railroad being a line parallel to and 50 feet distant from the center between the main tracks of said Railroad by a curve to the left having a radius of 5779.7 feet whose chord is South 47 degrees 06 minutes West 155 feet to a stake on the northerly side of a 15-foot roadway leading from said Railroad right-of-way to the Cash Valley County Road hereinbefore mentioned; thence with the northerly side of said 15-foot roadway, North 53 degrees 34 minutes West 284.5 feet to a stake standing 20 feet from Station 62-55 of the County survey of said road; and thence 20 feet distant and parallel with said centerline of said road, North 36 degrees 26 minutes East 150 feet to the place of beginning, containing 1 and 4/100 acres, more or less.

THE AFORESAID PROPERTY is the same property which was conveyed by deed dated the 6th day of July, 1954, James E. Croston, widower, to Howard C. Harclerode and Marjorie M. Harclerode, his wife, and which deed is recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber —— folio —— and which said property was conveyed by Howard C. Harclerode and Marjorie M. Harclerode, his wife, to Edwin W. Croston and Katherine V. Croston, on the 7th day of October, 1957, and which said deed is duly recorded among the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, in Liber 293, folio 313.

The property is improved by a cement block building.

All State, and County taxes will be adjusted as of the date of sale.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on day of sale, balance on ratification of sale by the Court and delivery of deed.

Official Business Only For State Cars

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —State employes will receive with their next paycheck a copy of an order issued by Gov. W. W. Barron to department heads Thursday to make sure state cars are used for official business only.

Barron suggested that each employe be given a copy to make certain there was no misunderstanding.

The governor's office said the order was issued following several recent reports that state vehicles were being used improperly for personal business after office hours.

The memorandum said:

"Effective immediately, state-owned vehicles are not to be used for any purpose whatsoever other than official business. Violation of this order will be considered grounds for immediate dismissal."

The United States uses more than one-half of the world's milk supply.

NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Regulation at its meeting on Thursday, January 9, 1964 at 1:30 p.m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland — 21201. Any interested party may submit his views either orally or in writing, at such time, provided that such party file with the Board, no later than Friday, December 27, 1963, written notice of his intention to protest.

The proposed regulation reads as follows:

108.5 FILING OF CONTINUATION, RENEWAL OR VERIFICATION CERTIFICATE

Each association shall annually file with the Department, within thirty (30) days after the premium anniversary date of its bond, a certificate from the surety or bonding company, which shall contain the following information:

1. The number of the bond.
2. The current penalty or face amount of the bond.
3. A statement that the bond is currently in full force and effect and contains the provisions required by 108.2.
4. The premium anniversary date of the bond and, if the bond is issued for a definite term, the date on which the renewal term will end.
5. The date of issuance of the cerificate.
6. All certificates shall be duly signed by an authorized representative of the surety or bonding company.

108.51 In the event an association has prepaid its bond premium for a period in excess of one year, and appropriate evidence of such fact is furnished the Department, the provisions of 108.5 may be complied with by filing the certificate within thirty (30) days after the expiration of any such prepaid period.

JOHN A. SLOAN

KEYSER — John Arnold Sloan, 74, New Creek Drive, died at the Potomac Valley Hospital Thursday morning.

He was born in Keyser, a son of Zachary and Annie Saylor Arnold. He was a member of the Duling Church of New Creek.

Surviving are his wife, Eva (Logsdon) Arnold; two daughters, Mrs. Andrew Leatherman and Mrs. John McLaughlin both of Keyser; two sons John S. and George T. Arnold, also of Keyser; three sisters, Miss Nancy Arnold and Mrs. Thomas Corbin, both of New Creek, and Mrs. Ruth Havermale, Sidney, Ohio; two brothers, Wheeler and Z. T. Arnold, both of Frostburg, and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Duling church. Rev. Gary Ziegler, minister of the Duling Church will officiate with burial in the Duling cemetery.

The body will be at the Markwood Funeral Home after 2 p.m. today and will be taken to the church at 1 p.m. Sunday.

MARSHALL SCHOPPERT

PIEDMONT — Marshall W. Schoppert, 67, of West Harrison Street, died yesterday morning in Baker VA Center, Martinsburg, where he was admitted in September.

An American Express agent here for many years, he retired in 1961. He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church here.

Mr. Schoppert was a World War I veteran and a son of the late Harry and Gertrude Englebert Schoppert.

Surviving is a son, William V. Schoppert, Santa Ana, Cal.

A funeral service will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in Trinity Methodist Church. Rev. Sumner Sawyers will officiate and burial will be in Philos Cemetery, Westernport.

The body will be taken to the home this afternoon.

PHILIP D. MORELEN

Philip Dewayne Morelen, 21-month-old son of Oscar and Eleanor (Morris) Morelen, Carpenter's Addition, Ridgeley, was dead on arrival yesterday at Sacred Heart. Authorities attributed death to asphyxiation by strangulation.

Besides his parents he is survived by a brother Melvin, and a sister, Cindy, at home.

The body is at the George Funeral Home where friends will be received from 7 until 9 p.m. today.

SMELSER INFANT

Scott Stephen Smelser, infant son of Willys and Leona (Collins) Smelser, Maple Street, Bowling Green, died Wednesday in Memorial Hospital.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, William Smelser, and one sister, Patricia Smelser, both at home; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smelser, Ridgeley, and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Collins, Ridgeley.

The body is at the George Funeral Home. Graveside services will be held Friday at 3 p. m. in Sunset Memorial Park with Rev. Richard W. Barley, pastor of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ officiating.

IVINS WILBERT

Ivins L. Wilbert, 114 North Centre Street, died yesterday afternoon in Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient for four days.

A retired painting contractor, he was born in Toms River, N.J., a son of the late Ivins and Mary Ann (Applegate) Wilbert.

He was a member of the Eagles lodge and the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Agnes Johnston Wilbert; a brother, Myron, and a sister, Mrs. Kenneth Jennings, both of Toms River.

The body is at the Silcox Funeral Residence for a service Sunday at 2 p.m. Rev. E. Kyle Sawyers, pastor of Zion Methodist Church, will officiate and burial will be in Rest Lawn Memorial Gardens.

Friends will be received at the funeral home from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. and the Eagles lodge wil lhold a memorial service there today at 7:30 p.m. Members of the lodge will serve as pallbearers.

JAMES ALEX MONNETTE

James Alex Monnette, 68, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alma Simpson, 1806 Gilbert Avenue, Hagerstown. He formerly resided in Ridgeley and Potomac Park.

A son of the late John W. and Rebecca V. (Leasure) Monnette, he was a retired guard at the Celanese Fibers Company. His wife, Emma (Beal) Monnette, died in 1951. Mr. Monnette was a member of Hagerstown Evangelical United Brethren Church, Hagerstown, and Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company.

Also surviving are a son, Edward E. Monnette, Funfstown; a sister, Mrs. Lucretia Borror, Ridgeley, and three grandchildren.

The body will be returned to the Kight Funeral Home.

MRS. HULDAH SIMONS

BEDFORD — Mrs. Huldah Simons, 96, widow of Walter Simons, Rainesburg, Pa., died yesterday in Bedford County Memorial Hospital.

She was a native of Bedford County, a daughter of the late James and Emily Miller Zembower.

Surviving are five children, Mrs. May Williams, Rainesburg; Wade Simons, Bedford RD 3; Mrs. Olive Nave, Bedford Valley; Mrs. Hazel Nave, West Carlton, Ohio, and Mrs. Ada Schwartzwelder, Bedford.

Nineteen grandchildren, 31 great - grandchildren and two great - great - grandchildren also survive.

The body is at the Geisel Funeral Home here. A funeral service will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in Centerville Methodist Church. Rev. Gaylan Whiteman and Rev. John Stephenson will officiate and burial will be in Friendship Cemetery, Centerville.

Ends Military Aid

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—Italy has informed Ethiopia it is withdrawing its military experts and personnel from Somalia and will cut off military aid to Somalia, it was reported here Thursday. Ethiopia and Somalia had been engaged for months in a bloody border dispute.

Trade Mission Members Are Picked By Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Gov. W. W. Barron announced Thursday selection of a group of West Virginians to head a state trade mission to Europe next May.

The group assisted by a liaison man from the State Commerce Department is to spend about a week each in Germany, Italy, France and England, in efforts to boost West Virginia exports.

Named to the mission were: Wayne Fletcher, Chesapeake & Ohio Railway; Lawrence Forbes, Norfolk & Western Railway; Verl Johnson, Appalachian Coals Inc.; Director Homer Bussa of Region 23, United Steel Workers union; A. C. Spurr, Wheeling, retired Monongahela Power Co. president.

President Eugene Carter of Teamsters Union Joint Council No. 84; President Fred Matson of Matson and Co., Martinsburg; Ivor Boiarsky, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Charleston; President J. P. Hamer, National Hardwood Lumber Association, Huntington; Bruce Rollyson, Rollyson Motors, Charleston; Lake Polan Jr., Polan Industries, Huntington, and Curtis Trent Jr., Barron's executive assistant.

Barron said one additional member, from the chemical industry still is to be named.

The mission generally will follow up contacts made by Barron during his European tour this fall.

J. Henry Barbour of the commerce department, who accompanied Barron on his tour, will serve as liaison officer for the spring mission. Mission members will bear his expenses, Barron said.

Of the mission members, Barron said, "They are donating a$j8nb)time and their money to the overall betterment of West Virginia. No public funds will be used for the mission."

He said he was "pleased to see such great interest shown in the trip. It is a program in which every citizen of our state has a big stake."

Commutes Sentences

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI)—President Julius Nyerere has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentences imposed on three African women "witches" who murdered a fourth in a sacrificial witchcraft ceremony early this year, it was disclosed Thursday.

Records Message

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II recorded Thursday her traditional Christmas message which Britain and the Commonwealth will hear on Christmas Day. It was pre-recorded for distribution to all Commonwealth members before Dec. 25.

Steinbeck Sees Brandt

BERLIN (UPI)—Author John Steinbeck visited West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt at City Hall Thursday and chatted with him for 20 minutes. Steinbeck arrived here Tuesday on the final leg of his European tour.

Nasser Pays Call

CAIRO (UPI)—U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser flew to Tunis Thursday to attend celebrations marking France's evacuation of the Bizerte air-naval base, the semi - official Middle East News Agency reported.

Europe supports more people to the square mile than any other continent. Europe—excepting Soviet Russia—has an average of 207 to the acre.

A memorial tablet in the city of Cremona, Italy, marks the house where Antonio Stradivarius made his violins.

The annual erosion loss in the United States has been estimated at $400 million.

Official Business Only For State Cars

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—State employes will receive with their next paycheck a copy of an order issued by Gov. W. W. Barron to department heads Thursday to make sure state cars are used for official business only.

Barron suggested that each employe be given a copy to make certain there was no misunderstanding.

The governor's office said the order was issued following several recent reports that state vehicles were being used improperly for personal business after office hours.

The memorandum said:

"Effective immediately, state-owned vehicles are not to be used for any purpose whatsoever other than official business. Violation of this order will be considered grounds for immediate dismissal."

The United States uses more than one-half of the world's milk supply.

NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Regulation at its meeting on Thursday, January 9, 1964 at 1:30 p.m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland — 21201. Any interested party may submit his views either orally or in writing, at such time, provided that such party file with the Board, no later than Friday, December 27, 1963, written notice of his intention to protest.

The proposed regulation reads as follows:

108.5 FILING OF CONTINUATION, RENEWAL OR VERIFICATION CERTIFICATE

Each association shall annually file with the Department, within thirty (30) days after the premium anniversary date of its bond, a certificate from the surety or bonding company, which shall contain the following information:

1. The number of the bond.
2. The current penalty or face amount of the bond.
3. A statement that the bond is currently in full force and effect and contains the provisions required by 108.2.
4. The premium anniversary date of the bond and, if the bond is issued for a definite term, the date on which the renewal term will end.
5. The date of issuance of the cerificate.
6. All certificates shall be duly signed by an authorized representative of the surety or bonding company.

108.51 In the event an association has prepaid its bond premium for a period in excess of one year, and appropriate evidence of such fact is furnished the Department, the provisions of 108.5 may be complied with by filing the certificate within thirty (30) days after the expiration of any such prepaid period.

Funds Allotted For Planning Area Reservoir

Bloomington Site Of Proposed Dam

The U. S. House of Representatives yesterday passed the Civil Functions approporation Bill for 1964 which included $100,000 for planning purposes on the Bloomington Reservoir in West Virginia and Maryland, according to a joint announcement by Rep. Harley O. Staggers and Senators Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd.

Mr. Staggers said yesterday the appropriation for the reservoir was based on a conference report which had been agreed to by both the House and Senate.

The Bloomington Reservoir would be located on the North Branch of the Potomac River near Luke.

Mr. Staggers has been instrumental in supporting the project for many years and had introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives on the Bloomington project.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has recommended the construction of the reservoir "as soon as possible," according to Rep. Staggers.

The Bloomington Reservoir would be the first of 16 such projects outlined for meeting water needs and flood control in the Potomac River basin through the year 2010. The estimated cost of the reservoir is $50 million.

It would supply the water requirements for the North Branch area for 30 years, would reduce flood damage in the area by 42 per cent and contribute to water pollution abatement and recreation.

Judge Cobey Hears Appeals In Court Here

A number of criminal appeals were disposed of yesterday by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Two of them were found not guilty by Judge Cobey yesterday afternoon.

Lester Cameron Jr., 19, of Cresap Drive, Bowling Green, was found not guilty of failure to stop for a school bus discharging students.

The young driver had paid a $15 fine last February 27 before Magistrate Thomas G. Barton in Cresaptown and then appealed on March 4. Milton Gerson was Cameron's attorney yesterday.

One witness, a Celanese worker, testified that Cameron had stopped as three school buses discharged passengers at a tavern near the Celanese entrance. He said the young driver started to pass the buses as soon as they started up again and he was unsure as to whether Cameron had gotten past the buses when they stopped near another gate to the Celanese plant. The school bus driver who had been summoned to appear was not in court to testify.

Also acquitted was Virgil Ernest Creek, RD 1, Little Orleans, who had appealed when Magistrate Russell V. Nierman of Flintstone found him guilty October 28 of assaulting a neighbor, Mrs. Ina Dorothy Ray. He had been fined $10 and costs at that time. Creek denied picking up a stick or going off his property in pursuit of Mrs. Ray. He was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Joseph E. Mullen, 52, of Main Street, Frostburg, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Cobey after pleading guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicants or drugs. Judge Cobey also gave him a two-year sentence in the Maryland House of Correction which he suspended, placing him on probation for three years. Mullen had been convicted of the same charge in 1957.

The Frostburg man, who was represented by Attorney John F. Somerville of Keyser, appealed when he was convicted October 18 by Magistrate John Frederick Myers of Midland, who fined him $100 and costs and remanded him to the County Jail for 180 days.

A $50 fine was imposed yesterday upon Matthew Edwards, 223 Humbird Street, after he was found guilty by Judge Cobey of assaulting his estranged wife on October 26. He appealed when Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt sentenced him to 90 days in the County Jail on October 30.

SA Needs $4000 For Yule Cheer

Clubs Will Start Manning Kettle

Nearly $4,000 still is needed for the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer Fund to reach its $5,500 goal, Major Ben Jones said last night.

Today, from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 4 p.m., is the last for applications for food baskets to be made at the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

The schedule for service clubs to man the Christmas Cheer kettle on Baltimore Street starts Saturday when the Cumberland Rotary Club takes charge.

Other grounds assigned to duty at the kettle include Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, December 17; Cumberland Optimist Club, December 18; Junior Association of Commerce, December 19; Cumberland Lions Club, December 21; Cumberland Kiwanis Club, December 23, and Lewis J. Ort, December 24.

A toy shop featuring some 300 dolls which have been dressed by members of various women's clubs will have open house Monday and Tuesday at 38 North Mechanic Street. Coffee and doughnuts will be served visitors.

Toys will be distributed to deserving families on December 19 and 20, Major Jones said.

Over 200 applications for food baskets at Christmas already have received.

Service clubs in Keyser, Lonaconing and the Tri-Towns will man kettles in their communities starting December 21.

Collections through Wednesday reached $1,555.80.

Souvenir Coin To Be Available At Post Office

The Francis Scott Key memorial commemorative souvenir half-dollar will be available with the next few days at the confectionery stand operated in the Cumberland Post Office building by Walter Herboldsheimer.

In a letter to Mr. Herboldsheimer, Weldon F. Nix of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, said the coin will sell for 50 cents and the proceeds will help defray the expense of the Maryland Pavilion at the World's Fair.

The coin has no monetary value, Mr. Herboldsheimer said last night. The Workshop for the Blind stand will realize 20 per cent of the profit from the coins.

One establishment in Frederick sold over 2,000 of the coins in one week, said Mr. Nix. The coin has been adopted by the state of Maryland as the official memorial commemorative souvenir half-dollar.

Comprehensive Plan For City Is Completed

Report, Display To Be Prepared

Field work on the preparation of a comprehensive plan for the development of the City of Cumberland has been completed by the firm of Stein and Marcou.

This message was sent by John R. Joyner, resident planner, to James Alfred Avirett, vice chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The commission was advised that the Washington planning firm has completed all contract items in the study which began January 2, 1962 and was scheduled to end November 2.

The planning firm said it was engaged in final publication details and was forwarding copies of the revised Capital Improvement Program which was accepted recently by the commission for inclusion in the comprehensive report.

Still to be received here are printed copies of the comprehensive report, which will summarize all vital data included in seven study reports and set up a plan for the city's future development.

The planning firm will also supply the commission with 1,000 copies of a summary of the plan, which is to be given general distribution, and an exhibit which will be based on the final report, designed to become an action program for the city.

Mr. Joyner, who did much of the field work of the planning program, thanked the commission for interest shown in developing a "meaningful program."

The planning program was conducted under Section 701 of the Federal Housing Act and cost $41,300. The city's ¼ share of the program was $8,350.

It was supervised by the State Planning Department.

Except for the proposed zoning ordinance, which is under consideration, the comprehensive plan has received the approval of the Mayor and Council.

Emergency Plan Lifted In Garrett County

The emergency snow plan was lifted in Garrett County yesterday afternoon after the State Roads Commission reported that State-maintained highways in Allegany and Garrett counties were 100 per cent bare.

Allegany County received up to three inches of precipitation early yesterday and Garrett had one inch sleet on the roadways.

Maintenance crews of the SRC were pulled in at 1 p. m. in Allegany County and at 1:45 p. m. in Washington County.

R. E. L. Putman, District 6 maintenance engineer, said that at 3 p. m. yesterday 36 men and 18 pieces of equipment were still out in Garrett County, plowing to widen lanes and where necessary, applying abrasives. However, all crews were in last night.

The forecast for today calls for considerable cloudiness with a chance of light snow in the mountain regions of the section.

Youths Are Guilty

Two local youths yesterday were found guilty of being delinquint minors in the theft of an auto last week, but Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin deferred sentence pending an investigation of their backgrounds by John H. Jeffries, probation officer.

Girls Address Kiwanis Club

Miss Betsy Ebert, left, and Miss Karen Shaver are pictured at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club which they addressed on the subject of urban renewal. In the back row, left to right, are Paul W. Barnett, Kiwanis president; Dr. W. Ardell Haines, principal of Allegany High School, and Dr. Wayne W. Hill, principal at Fort Hill. They accompanied the student speakers from their schools.

Girl Released On Probation On Two Charges

Miss Barkins Jailed For Three Months

Delores Jean Barkins, 21-year-old Flintstone girl who has been confined in the Allegany County Jail for exactly three months, was released on probation yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court after Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris sentenced her on two charges of breaking into the Flintstone School back in July.

Judge Harris gave the young woman one year in the Maryland Institution for Women on each charge and suspended them provided she keeps the peace, is of good behavior and reports regularly to James Lewis, state probation officer.

The girl, who was represented by Attorney Noel Speir Cook, had pleaded guilty to the two charges on October 23 and Judge Harris deferred passing sentence until Mr. Lewis completed a pre-sentence investigation into her background.

She pleaded guilty of breaking into the Flintstone School, from which goods valued at $518 were taken July 19, and again on July 25 when a violin and a stapler, valued at $110, were stolen.

Miss Barkins was described as the girl friend and accomplice of James Raymond Walter, 24-year-old Flintstone man, who twice escaped from the County Jail this fall. Walter was sentenced on November 22 by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey to 15 years in the Maryland Penitentiary immediately after sentence was imposed on the day of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Student Speakers Stress Urban Renewal Benefits

Two high school senior girls told members of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club that urban renewel could provide a new appearance for certain blighted areas of Cumberland.

The speakers were Miss Betsy Ebert, Allegany High School, daughter of County Commissioner and Mrs. Robert Little Ebert, and Miss Karen Shaver, Fort Hill High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. "Dusty" Shaver. Her father is a radio disk jockey and entertainer.

"It is up to us to see that the Queen City of the Alleghenies does not abdicate her throne," Miss Ebert concluded.

The Allegany senior pointed out that slums, decay and deterioration are words most often associated with communities which need urban renewal. Such a concept is not really new. She noted that the City of Troy was renewed nine times before the birth of Christ.

3 Major Developments

Much of Cumberland's growth, Miss Ebert said, can be linked with three developments within the city. The first stimulus was started by the building of the National Road west from here about 1806. Then came a second spurt with the arrival of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1842, and finally a more recent development came with the opening of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here.

She said the Industrial Boulevard and Cumberland Thruway could play an important role in reclamation of much of downtown Cumberland. She noted that renovation of old property often costs much more than a brand new suburban building.

In opening her remarks, Miss Shaver observed that an urban renewal survey was made here in which all property was classified as good, fair or poor. Although the majority were rated as fair and economically feasible for repair and remodeling, the survey showed considerably more poor properties than good ones.

As one phase of urban renewal planning, the costly flood control project has removed the threat of downtown floods from Wills Creek.

Thruway Will Help

Miss Shaver looks to the Cumberland Thruway on which construction is planned in 1965 to improve the downtown traffic flow by eliminating railroad grade crossings. She said construction of two new junior high schools in Cumberland will add much to the community.

City planning and urban renewal together will work for an improved community.

The two girls were adjudged winners in the annual Kiwanis declamation project conducted in their respective schools. The contest is designed to spur community interest on the part of high school seniors. Thomas W. Golightly, as chairman of the Kiwanis vocational guidance committee, was in charge.

Each girl will be given a $25 savings bond at graduation next June by Kiwanis.

1963 Income Tax Forms Now Available

The 1963 federal income tax forms are available in all Internal Revenue offices in the Baltimore district according to an announcement yesterday by Irving Machiz, director for the district which comprises Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Individuals who filed returns last year will receive their 1963 tax forms in the mail around the last week in December.

Taxpayers filing for the first time should request tax forms. Not receiving a form in the mail does not exempt anyone from filing a return if required to do so, Mr. Machiz said.

2 Face Bookie Charges After Police Raids

City, county and state police in a combined effort yesterday afternoon conducted raids on two downtown Cumberland addresses which were suspected to be the headquarters of bookmaking (bookie) operations.

The raids were conducted at 110 Bedford Street and 109 North Centre Street. Arrested and charged with violations of the gaming laws were Orland James Harbell and Robert E. Shrout Jr.

Conducting the raids were two members of the Maryland State Police Intelligence Unit; Capt. James E. Van and Detective Harry Iser of the Cumberland Police Department; Tfc. Bernard J. Chabot, criminal investigator for the State Police at LaVale, and William F. Baker, criminal investigator for Allegany County.

State's Attorney James S. Getty said the two men were charged with maintaining wagering and gaming devices and were released on $500 bond each pending hearings at a later date.

He said the raids at 1 p. m. were based on confidential information that bookmaking activities were being conducted at the two local addresses.

Menasha Katz To Retire As Police Captain

BALTIMORE (AP) — Capt. Menasha E. Katz, 40-year veteran of the Maryland State Police and aide to Maryland's last six governors, will resign from the force Dec. 31.

Col. Carey Jarman, superintendent of the State Police, announce the colorful captain's retirement Thursday.

Katz, a native of Rumania, joined the State Police in 1922 and has served as officer in charge at Benson, Cumberland, Braddock, Laurel, Conowingo and Frederick.

He was an aide to Govs. Albert C. Ritchie, Harry W. Nice, Herbert R. O'Conor, William Preston Lane Jr., Theodore R. McKeldin and Tawes.

Katz was relieved of his job as Tawes' aide and transferred to night duty in Pikesville in 1960, where he has served as duty officer.

The General Assembly passed resolution five times commending Katz for his service.

Smith Island residents offered to build Katz a house in 1957 after he helped rescue ice-bound persons on the island during the winter. Katz drove his motorcycle across the island, determining the ice was strong enough to support rescuers. He then led a rescue group across the ice to the island.

To Plan Reunion

Former members of Maryland State Guard Companies C and D which were in operation during World War II will meet Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars home on Union Street to plan a reunion dinner-meeting and to discuss plans for an annual reunion.

The committee planning the meeting is headed by Lynn Walker, Francis A. Kenney and Lester L. Bolinger.

Carey Fined $300 For No License

1962 State Law Involved Here

King Carey, 25, formerly of 208 Maryland Avenue, yesterday afternoon was found guilty by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey in Allegany County Circuit Court of violation of the Maryland Home Improvement Law by failure to obtain the state license required under Section 255 of Article 56x of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

Carey, who testified that he now lives at 16th and Q streets, N.W., Washington, and works in Virginia, was convicted of doing home improvements in October for Mrs. Mildred Mauk at 226 Emily Street.

A written contract calling for the work to be done for $450 was introduced in evidence along with a receipt showing Mrs. Mauk had paid him a total of $575. The Home Improvement Law, which became effective in April 1962, requires a contractor to obtain a $25 license if the contract involved exceeds $300.

Judge Cobey found Carey not guilty of a second charge of abandoning and willfully refusing to complete the home improvement contract for Mrs. Mauk, saying he was giving Carey the "benefit of reasonable doubt."

On the failure to have a state license, Judge Cobey fined Carey $300 and costs and gave him a two-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction, one provision of which was that he never enter into any future home improvement contract without a license.

Carey, who was represented by Attorneys Edward J. Ryan and Ronald C. Brubaker, pleaded for time to pay the fine. Reluctantly, Judge Cobey consented to his paying $25 per month beginning January 1.

The former local man appealed when he was found guilty November 8 by Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt on both charges. The magistrate gave Carey one year in the House of Correction on the no-license charge and six months on the performance count with the understanding that the sentences should be concurrent.

On the stand Carey acknowledged that he had had no previous contracting experience. Judge Cobey reminded him that the law was enacted last year by the General Assembly in Annapolis to protect the public from unscrupulous and incompetent contractors.

Deputy State's Attorney Donald W. Mason prosecuted the case.

Y To Begin More Classes For Adults

Strong public interest in the YMCA adult informal education classes has prompted the Y to start another series in the week of January 12, Benjamin F. Haines, program director, announced last night.

Mr. Haines said two new instructors have joined the Y's faculty. They are Hamilton Lochnar, who was a missionary in Chile for 14 years and will teach beginning Spanish, and John Moyer, local dancing instructor who leads the Cumberland City Ballet teachers.

The 10-week classes will end March 20, and a third 10 weeks of instruction will begin March 30 and end June 5.

Classes beginning in January include:

Monday, January 13, beginning German 7 p. m., advanced German 8 p. m.; Tuesday, beginning Spanish 7:30 p. m., advanced Spanish 7:30 p. m., vocabulary building 7:30 p. m.; Wednesday, art sketching 7 p. m., oil painting 8 p. m.; Thursday, ceramics 7 p. m., women's ballet 8 p. m.; Friday, beginning French 7 p. m., advanced French 8 p. m., ballroom dancing 7 p. m., knitting 3 p. m. and 7 p. m.

Over 650 men and women have attended YMCA classes since they began in the fall of 1961, and a total of 35 subjects have been offered.

Persons may register for any of the classes by phoning the YMCA.

Many Dwellings In City Are Being Upgraded

Paint, Repointing Projects Noted

An unheralded boom in the renovation of some of the older buildings within the city limits is under way, according to City Hall staffers.

Members of the inspection team of the City Board of Health said they have noted that a great deal of renovation work of all kinds is being done in spite of the season.

Included are projects which include painting frame structures, pointing up masonry structures, repairs to porches and evidence that interiors of other structures are being repaired and modernized.

One of the sources reported that from 50 to 60 older dwellings are being upgraded in the voluntary renewal program.

Early next year, other dwellings will be upgraded through the efforts of the City Board of Health.

Acting on complaints charging violations of the city's housing or fire code, the team has worked on 23 cases during recent months.

Five Are Razed

The results to date include the razing of five structures, the satisfactory repair of five others and pending action on others. In two cases, the board is preparing to take legal action.

As a result of the investigation of three new complaints, action will be taken against 22 buildings which fail to meet satisfactory standards.

The inspectors report that preliminary investigation shows that the three complaints — each involving a different area — are not isolated cases but are one of a cluster of buildings which must be either repaired or demolished.

The team recently received permission to take action on all of the substandard buildings, even though no complaints have been filed.

The reports of the clusters of poor buildings is not unexpected.

During the planning study made for the Municipal Planing and Zoning Commission, the unit's planning consultants, Stein and Marcou, found that 1,165 or 15 per cent of the buildings within the city limits are in poor condition.

A field survey made by the firm indicated there were 7,940 buildings in the city. Of these, 1,085, were in good condition, that 5,690 were in fair condition and that the other 1,165 were in poor condition.

The planners reported that conditions in all sections of the city varied from extremes of good to poor, that the number and percentage of buildings in poor condition was high—more than buildings in good condition, and that the majority of buildings are only in fair condition and represent borderline cases which could go in either direction.

Quite a bit of the renovation work started this winter, sources said, in the borderline group.

Walker Heads Dairy Group

Hiram W. Walker, of Meyersdale, yesterday was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Queen City Dairy Cooperative Inc., which held its annual stockholders meeting at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

John D. Liebau, general manager, said the organization had a "very successful year" and over 72,000,000 pounds of milks were handled, representing $3½ million.

Other officers re-elected include Ernest T. Miller, Meyersdale, vice president; W. Randolph Hite, Bedford Valley, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Liebau, assistant secretary-treasurer.

During the business meeting Arthur Crum gave the auditor's report, and managers' reports were given by Mr. Liebau, Joseph W. Cotter, Harvey Dairy Branch, Hyattsville; and Owen Lauver, Dairydale Branch, Meyersdale.

L. C. Metzler of Martinsburg, Pa., and Raymond Schrock, Grantsville, were elected new members of the board and Mr. Miller was re-elected a board member.

Citizens Committee To Meet January 28

The Mayor's Citizens Advisory Committee will hold its next meeting January 28 at 7 p.m. in the council chamber at City Hall, according to Harry Kauffman, chairman.

Rev. H. M. Richadson, chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, has been invited to speak at the meeting.

Speaks On Russia

Dr. Joseph Marin of Pennsylvania State University, center, is shown with two officers of the Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society, which he addressed last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Club. They are, left, L. Max Heming, secretary, and right, Dr. James Elmslie, chairman. Dr. Marin, who gave a series of lectures last year at the Academy of Sciences in Russia, discussed Soviet higher education last night.

Funds Allotted For Planning Area Reservoir

Bloomington Site Of Proposed Dam

The U. S. House of Representatives yesterday passed the Civil Functions approporation Bill for 1964 which included $100,000 for planning purposes on the Bloomington Reservoir in West Virginia and Maryland, according to a joint announcement by Rep. Harley O. Staggers and Senators Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd.

Mr. Staggers said yesterday the appropriation for the reservoir was based on a conference report which had been agreed to by both the House and Senate.

The Bloomington Reservoir would be located on the North Branch of the Potomac River near Luke.

Mr. Staggers has been instrumental in supporting the project for many years and had introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives on the Bloomington project.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has recommended the construction of the reservoir "as soon as possible," according to Rep. Staggers.

The Bloomington Reservoir would be the first of 16 such projects outlined for meeting water needs and flood control in the Potomac River basin through the year 2010. The estimated cost of the reservoir is $50 million.

It would supply the water requirements for the North Branch area for 30 years, would reduce flood damage in the area by 42 per cent and contribute to water pollution abatement and recreation.

Judge Cobey Hears Appeals In Court Here

A number of criminal appeals were disposed of yesterday by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Two of them were found not guilty by Judge Cobey yesterday afternoon.

Lester Cameron Jr., 19, of Cresap Drive, Bowling Green, was found not guilty of failure to stop for a school bus discharging students.

The young driver had paid a $15 fine last February 27 before Magistrate Thomas G. Barton in Cresaptown and then appealed on March 4. Milton Gerson was Cameron's attorney yesterday.

One witness, a Celanese worker, testified that Cameron had stopped as three school buses discharged passengers at a tavern near the Celanese entrance. He said the young driver started to pass the buses as soon as they started up again and he was unsure as to whether Cameron had gotten past the buses when they stopped near another gate to the Celanese plant. The school bus driver who had been summoned to appear was not in court to testify.

Also acquitted was Virgil Ernest Creek, RD 1, Little Orleans, who had appealed when Magistrate Russell V. Nierman of Flintstone found him guilty October 28 of assaulting a neighbor, Mrs. Ina Dorothy Ray. He had been fined $10 and costs at that time. Creek denied picking up a stick or going off his property in pursuit of Mrs. Ray. He was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Joseph E. Mullen, 52, of Main Street, Frostburg, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Cobey after pleading guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicants or drugs. Judge Cobey also gave him a two-year sentence in the Maryland House of Correction which he suspended, placing him on probation for three years. Mullen had been convicted of the same charge in 1957.

The Frostburg man, who was represented by Attorney John F. Somerville of Keyser, appealed when he was convicted October 18 by Magistrate John Frederick Myers of Midland, who fined him $100 and costs and remanded him to the County Jail for 180 days.

A $50 fine was imposed yesterday upon Matthew Edwards, 223 Humbird Street, after he was found guilty by Judge Cobey of assaulting his estranged wife on October 26. He appealed when Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt sentenced him to 90 days in the County Jail on October 30.

SA Needs $4000 For Yule Cheer

Clubs Will Start Manning Kettle

Nearly $4,000 still is needed for the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer Fund to reach its $5,500 goal, Major Ben Jones said last night.

Today, from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 4 p.m., is the last for applications for food baskets to be made at the Salvation Army Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street.

The schedule for service clubs to man the Christmas Cheer kettle on Baltimore Street starts Saturday when the Cumberland Rotary Club takes charge.

Other grounds assigned to duty at the kettle include Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, December 17; Cumberland Optimist Club, December 18; Junior Association of Commerce, December 19; Cumberland Lions Club, December 21; Cumberland Kiwanis Club, December 23, and Lewis J. Ort, December 24.

A toy shop featuring some 300 dolls which have been dressed by members of various women's clubs will have open house Monday and Tuesday at 38 North Mechanic Street. Coffee and doughnuts will be served visitors.

Toys will be distributed to deserving families on December 19 and 20, Major Jones said.

Over 200 applications for food baskets at Christmas already have received.

Service clubs in Keyser, Lonaconing and the Tri-Towns will man kettles in their communities starting December 21.

Collections through Wednesday reached $1,555.80.

Souvenir Coin To Be Available At Post Office

The Francis Scott Key memorial commemorative souvenir half-dollar will be available with the next few days at the confectionery stand operated in the Cumberland Post Office building by Walter Herboldsheimer.

In a letter to Mr. Herboldsheimer, Weldon F. Nix of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind, said the coin will sell for 50 cents and the proceeds will help defray the expense of the Maryland Pavilion at the World's Fair.

The coin has no monetary value, Mr. Herboldsheimer said last night. The Workshop for the Blind stand will realize 20 per cent of the profit from the coins.

One establishment in Frederick sold over 2,000 of the coins in one week, said Mr. Nix. The coin has been adopted by the state of Maryland as the official memorial commemorative souvenir half-dollar.

Comprehensive Plan For City Is Completed

Report, Display To Be Prepared

Field work on the preparation of a comprehensive plan for the development of the City of Cumberland has been completed by the firm of Stein and Marcou.

This message was sent by John R. Joyner, resident planner, to James Alfred Avirett, vice chairman of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The commission was advised that the Washington planning firm has completed all contract items in the study which began January 2, 1962 and was scheduled to end November 2.

The planning firm said it was engaged in final publication details and was forwarding copies of the revised Capital Improvement Program which was accepted recently by the commission for inclusion in the comprehensive report.

Still to be received here are printed copies of the comprehensive report, which will summarize all vital data included in seven study reports and set up a plan for the city's future development.

The planning firm will also supply the commission with 1,000 copies of a summary of the plan, which is to be given general distribution, and an exhibit which will be based on the final report, designed to become an action program for the city.

Mr. Joyner, who did much of the field work of the planning program, thanked the commission for interest shown in developing a "meaningful program."

The planning program was conducted under Section 701 of the Federal Housing Act and cost $41,300. The city's ¼ share of the program was $8,350.

It was supervised by the State Planning Department.

Except for the proposed zoning ordinance, which is under consideration, the comprehensive plan has received the approval of the Mayor and Council.

Emergency Plan Lifted In Garrett County

The emergency snow plan was lifted in Garrett County yesterday afternoon after the State Roads Commission reported that State-maintained highways in Allegany and Garrett counties were 100 per cent bare.

Allegany County received up to three inches of precipitation early yesterday and Garrett had one inch sleet on the roadways.

Maintenance crews of the SRC were pulled in at 1 p. m. in Allegany County and at 1:45 p. m. in Washington County.

R. E. L. Putman, District 6 maintenance engineer, said that at 3 p. m. yesterday 36 men and 18 pieces of equipment were still out in Garrett County, plowing to widen lanes and where necessary, applying abrasives. However, all crews were in last night.

The forecast for today calls for considerable cloudiness with a chance of light snow in the mountain regions of the section.

Youths Are Guilty

Two local youths yesterday were found guilty of being delinquint minors in the theft of an auto last week, but Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin deferred sentence pending an investigation of their backgrounds by John H. Jeffries, probation officer.

They accompanied the student speakers from their schools.

Girl Released On Probation On Two Charges

Miss Barkins Jailed For Three Months

Delores Jean Barkins, 21-year-old Flintstone girl who has been confined in the Allegany County Jail for exactly three months, was released on probation yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court after Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris sentenced her on two charges of breaking into the Flintstone School back in July.

Judge Harris gave the young woman one year in the Maryland Institution for Women on each charge and suspended them provided she keeps the peace, is of good behavior and reports regularly to James Lewis, state probation officer.

The girl, who was represented by Attorney Noel Speir Cook, had pleaded guilty to the two charges on October 23 and Judge Harris deferred passing sentence until Mr. Lewis completed a pre-sentence investigation into her background.

She pleaded guilty of breaking into the Flintstone School, from which goods valued at $518 were taken July 19, and again on July 25 when a violin and a stapler, valued at $110, were stolen.

Miss Barkins was described as the girl friend and accomplice of James Raymond Walter, 24-year-old Flintstone man, who twice escaped from the County Jail this fall. Walter was sentenced on November 22 by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey to 15 years in the Maryland Penitentiary immediately after sentence was imposed on the day of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Student Speakers Stress Urban Renewal Benefits

Two high school senior girls told members of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club that urban renewel could provide a new appearance for certain blighted areas of Cumberland.

The speakers were Miss Betsy Ebert, Allegany High School, daughter of County Commissioner and Mrs. Robert Little Ebert, and Miss Karen Shaver, Fort Hill High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. "Dusty" Shaver. Her father is a radio disk jockey and entertainer.

"It is up to us to see that the Queen City of the Alleghenies does not abdicate her throne," Miss Ebert concluded.

The Allegany senior pointed out that slums, decay and deterioration are words most often associated with communities which need urban renewal. Such a concept is not really new. She noted that the City of Troy was renewed nine times before the birth of Christ.

3 Major Developments

Much of Cumberland's growth, Miss Ebert said, can be linked with three developments within the city. The first stimulus was started by the building of the National Road west from here about 1806. Then came a second spurt with the arrival of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in 1842, and finally a more recent development came with the opening of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company here.

She said the Industrial Boulevard and Cumberland Thruway could play an important role in reclamation of much of downtown Cumberland. She noted that renovation of old property often costs much more than a brand new suburban building.

In opening her remarks, Miss Shaver observed that an urban renewal survey was made here in which all property was classified as good, fair or poor. Although the majority were rated as fair and economically feasible for repair and remodeling, the survey showed considerably more poor properties than good ones.

As one phase of urban renewal planning, the costly flood control project has removed the threat of downtown floods from Wills Creek.

Thruway Will Help

Miss Shaver looks to the Cumberland Thruway on which construction is planned in 1965 to improve the downtown traffic flow by eliminating railroad grade crossings. She said construction of two new junior high schools in Cumberland will add much to the community.

City planning and urban renewal together will work for an improved community.

The two girls were adjudged winners in the annual Kiwanis declamation project conducted in their respective schools. The contest is designed to spur community interest on the part of high school seniors. Thomas W. Golightly, as chairman of the Kiwanis vocational guidance committee, was in charge.

Many Dwellings In City Are Being Upgraded

Paint, Repointing Projects Noted

An unheralded boom in the renovation of some of the older buildings within the city limits is under way, according to City Hall staffers.

Members of the inspection team of the City Board of Health said they have noted that a great deal of renovation work of all kinds is being done in spite of the season.

Included are projects which include painting frame structures, pointing up masonry structures, repairs to porches and evidence that interiors of other structures are being repaired and modernized.

One of the sources reported that from 50 to 60 older dwellings are being upgraded in the voluntary renewal program.

Early next year, other dwellings will be upgraded through the efforts of the City Board of Health.

Acting on complaints charging violations of the city's housing or fire code, the team has worked on 23 cases during recent months.

Five Are Razed

The results to date include the razing of five structures, the satisfactory repair of five others and pending action on others. In two cases, the board is preparing to take legal action.

As a result of the investigation of three new complaints, action will be taken against 22 buildings which fail to meet satisfactory standards.

The inspectors report that preliminary investigation shows that the three complaints — each involving a different area — are not isolated cases but are one of a cluster of buildings which must be either repaired or demolished.

The team recently received permission to take action on all of the substandard buildings, even though no complaints have been filed.

The reports of the clusters of poor buildings is not unexpected.

During the planning study made for the Municipal Planing and Zoning Commission, the unit's planning consultants, Stein and Marcou, found that 1,165 or 15 per cent of the buildings within the city limits are in poor condition.

A field survey made by the firm indicated there were 7,940 buildings in the city. Of these, 1,085, were in good condition, that 5,690 were in fair condition and that the other 1,165 were in poor condition.

The planners reported that conditions in all sections of the city varied from extremes of good to poor, that the number and percentage of buildings in poor condition was high—more than buildings in good condition, and that the majority of buildings are only in fair condition and represent borderline cases which could go in either direction.

Quite a bit of the renovation work started this winter, sources said, in the borderline group.

Walker Heads Dairy Group

Hiram W. Walker, of Meyersdale, yesterday was re-elected president of the board of directors of the Queen City Dairy Cooperative Inc., which held its annual stockholders meeting at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

John D. Liebau, general manager, said the organization had a "very successful year" and over 72,000,000 pounds of milks were handled, representing $3½ million.

Other officers re-elected include Ernest T. Miller, Meyersdale, vice president; W. Randolph Hite, Bedford Valley, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Liebau, assistant secretary-treasurer.

During the business meeting Arthur Crum gave the auditor's report, and managers' reports were given by Mr. Liebau, Joseph W. Cotter, Harvey Dairy Branch, Hyattsville; and Owen Lauver, Dairydale Branch, Meyersdale.

L. C. Metzler of Martinsburg, Pa., and Raymond Schrock, Grantsville, were elected new members of the board and Mr. Miller was re-elected a board member.

Citizens Committee To Meet January 28

The Mayor's Citizens Advisory Committee will hold its next meeting January 28 at 7 p.m. in the council chamber at City Hall, according to Harry Kauffman, chairman.

Rev. H. M. Richadson, chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, has been invited to speak at the meeting.

Speaks On Russia
